Dr. Wm. T. Bawden

Gives Lectures to Students

Dr. Bawden gave his first talk to the students of the summer session on the subject, "The Place of Manual Activities in Education. He called attention to the fact that some critics of our present methods of Industrial Education claim that the only way to get a vital course of study is to throw out all of our present manual training work and start over. This, however, is a mistake, first, because much of the work as given is better than that which they would offer in its place. Second, we should have much of each but they are to meet different needs. At a recent convention of school superintendents in Cincinnati, discussing Vocational Education in small cities, it was the unanimous opinion that an efficient and practical scheme of manual training is the best foundation for Industrial Education.

Dr. Bawden gave five reasons why manual activities are important in any scheme of education. First, it introduces the individual to the industries. This, however, is not the exclusive or sole means of teaching students about the industries. For example, commercial geography, industrial history and other subjects should do their part.

Second, construction is important as a means of expression.

Third, manual activities are a part of the complete development of the individual by learning to do well the thing that he wills to do.

Fourth, they are a part of the general education essential to everybody.

Fifth, they provide practical experiences for the individual.

Dr. Bawden's second talk was on, "Vocational Guidance in its Relation to the Public Schools." He emphasized the point that those interested in Industrial Education are the logical ones to take the initiative and organize the work of Vocational Guidance in a community. He mentioned the following phases to be considered in Vocational Guidance: (1) Placing the individual, (2) Following up these individuals after they have taken up the work, (3) Number of organizations which provide

Are you a war discussionist?

There are many other topics for conversation fully as interesting.

Several young men are reported missing—were last seen following a certain red circus wagon.

WELCOME

Bubble over with enthusiasm! Why not? Haven't we everything to bubble over about? The school welcomes us with its stores of knowledge, the town itself has looked forward with adequate preparations to our coming, and we can't fail to see all out doors just teeming with joyfulness, all our own for the mere getting.

There are countless opportunities for boating not only on the lake and river but also on the creek. They are all typical of the beautiful Northern Wisconsin scenery. You have but to go to one of the numerous boat houses and the attendant will be only too glad to offer you a canoe, rowboat, or launch for rental. But the preference is the canoe since this lake is really adapted for a canoe. Can you imagine any thing nicer than to paddle up among the sloughs and pick the white water lilies?

Few outdoor sports are more enjoyable or healthful and strength giving and which at the same time demand more careful and skillful management than canoeing. Thoughts of "Safety First" and "Sit Down You're Rocking the Boat" with a due amount of caution will go far toward preventing unexpected dips into the cold water and possible more serious results.

Plan a picnic meal on one of these excursions and discover how really enjoyable it is. The coffee never tastes better, you can always eat more sandwiches, and a steak roasted over the open fire is most delicious. Your meal may well be topped off by toasting marshmallows to a crisp brown and having them melt in your mouth.

We sincerely hope that your stay here will be enjoyable and profitable. We believe you can secure from your school studies just the thing you need. We feel that you should find suitable recreation to build up your body for the fall work. We urge you to combine hard study and work with real pleasure and be sociable to the other fellow.

Again, we welcome you.

Summer Session Picnic

The students and faculty are all invited to the Summer Session Picnic at Point Comfort next Saturday afternoon. The games, races, and sports will be conducted by Mr. Mauthe, Mr. Jackson, and Mr. Quigley. At the close of the afternoon a hot picnic supper will be served under the direction of Mrs. Dow and Miss. Dunn of the Domestic Science Department. Mr. Googerty and Mr. Lake will see to it that there is plenty of fire to do the cooking.

Mr. Jarvis and Mr. Chandler will arrange for the boats and Mr. Eslinger will have the tickets printed in the print shop.

Boats will leave the association boat house from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock. Round trip tickets 10 cents.

The Summer Session picnic has become an annual affair and it has been thoroughly enjoyed by faculty and students in the past. This year should be no exception. We shall expect every student and every member of the faculty to be at the picnic, get acquainted, enter the games, and have a good time.

PERSONAL

Mr. Grubert, whose present home is Menomonie, spent four weeks of his vacation period in the Twin Cities.

Mr. John O. Steendahl remained at home in this city all summer, and enjoyed one week's "outing" with Co. H. at Camp Douglas.

Mr. Hanson has been putting in the Summer on his new home in Lake View. His spare moments have been given to the third member of the family of whom he is justly proud.

Messrs. Olson, Rodgers, and Jarvis remained at home in Menomonie during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown took a honeymoon trip during the summer. "Congratulations, to you!"

Why did Mr. Chandler spend his vacation in Menomonie?

Mr. Gregerson visited in Milwaukee part of his vacation.

Mr. Buxton and family spent most of the summer at Danforth Cove, S. Portland, Me.

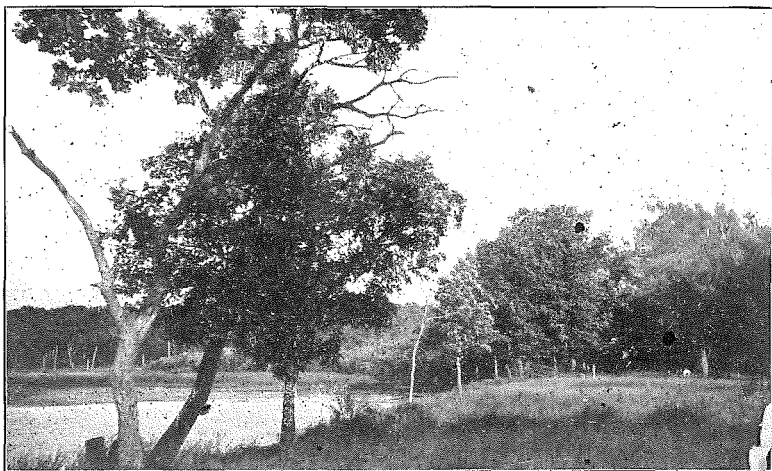

Mr. Harvey was too busy to interview, having been away for the last three weeks.

Mr. Thomas Christoffel has put in his summer at work on our new library tables, which can be seen in Room No. 113.

Mr. Otto Brunkow says he has been widening his knowledge in architectural work at Dubuque, Iowa.

Mr. F. L. Curran has taken in the Panama-Pacific Exposition and traveled thru the entire west. He speaks of seeing several old students of Stout.

SUMMER SESSION PICNIC

UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

Oh! the rain was not enough to wet the hair on bald heads, and the sun was not there to blister them. We had every ingredient to make a successful afternoon's entertainment. Afternoon's entertainment? Why, it will last in our memories—well,—how long are we able to remember that which gives us so much pleasure?

A picnic! I should say—one we could all enjoy—should begin with Uncle Sam, canoes, and shaded paths along a beautiful lake and river, all of which should bring us to a picnic spot such as Point Comfort affords. If it were not the historic "Uncle Sam" we would be denied the pleasure of "Brown's Ragtime Band" an unusual treat to music such as we seldom hear.

If we neglected the canoes, we would miss—yes, we would no doubt enjoy the Miss all the more. But the paths? Ah, we'd find there to the left, between openings in the green boughs of pines and elms, delightful glimpses of lake and river, and on the right a concordant mixture of ferns and mosses of the moist woodland soil. And for music—the birds, the, croak of frogs and turtles, and the occasional splash of leaping fish, to say nothing of the interrupting buzz of a mosquito—or ten. Oh yes, we wouldn't need a pole, line and bait to get a few bites either.

But we're there,—on the picnic spot. Seven score and more to take part in making every feature of the afternoon's program just what the efficient committee on entertainment had hoped for. Of course all could not compete, but that which makes competition spirited is the enthusiasm shown by the different adherents. Baseball, swimming and canoe races, canoe jousting, and milder sports such as nail-driving and button-sewing contests, and such a variety of amusements for a happy crowd of picnickers. Yes, it takes such a good program and enthusiastic participants to make a good time.

Oh, but that inner gnawing! It comes from the very soles of our shoes, all the Since preparedness has become our slogan it may not be untimely to suggest that you start building an ark. It would be a good problem in carpentry.

It is suggested that having one's name woven into the cover of the umbrella might help to solve the difficulty.

If the day is dull it calls the more for you to brighten it with a sunny disposition.

We would like to offer Menomonie a helping hand in felling the jungle of telegraph poles which obscure and make unsightly her natural and architectural beauties. Perhaps in the absence of this artificial morass we might get some good pictures of our buildings.

The print shop has fallen heir to one of the new porous towels.

The STOUTONIA is interested in printing anything that is of interest to you.

A box labeled STOUTONIA has been placed in the main corridor near the drinking fountain for the purpose of receiving items of interest. Drop your bits of news or other communications in the box as you go by and they will be taken care of.

The drinking water at best is not unrivaled, but warm—bah! Letting it run continuously would at least keep the temperature from being sickening.

We wish to thank the Menomonie citizens for their part in making our picnic a brilliant success.

We all enjoyed Mr. Dockar's bag-pipe music.

KNOCKERS

Occasionally one hears a student complaining against the faculty. Are you one of these knockers? If so just stop and think for a minute! Remember that when you run down your faculty and school you are just working against yourself. If your school is rotten where do you come in as a member of it?

The Stout Institute is the best institution of its kind in the United States! We, as gentlemen, should treat others as we wish to be treated and give our school the support it deserves.

way up. It is only the stomach crying out like a voice in the excitement for something that it might also exercise with. Is there anything to quiet it? Well! Just realize who are the cooks for the occasion; and when you see those tables loaded with real "eats"—if you are not tickled in the feet (where that "gnawing" begins) the place for you is somewhere else. But the contagion is spread at the cry of "Prepare for lunch," and sympathies with you if you happened to be one of the last four, for this is not a case of "the last shall be first." (St. Matt. 20, 1—16.) But was'n't it worth waiting for!

The replacement of those indigestible after-dinner speeches by real Scotch music on the bag-pipes by Mr. W.J. Dockar afforded a fitting climax to the afternoon's entertainment.

As soon as the crowd arrived a game of play-ground ball was started. The lineup was as follows:—

Wisconsin		World
A. Jackson	P	C. Berthlein
Werrel	C	C. Schmidt
Morgan	1-B	M. Brauns
H. Jackson	2-B	Garasha
Thompson	3-B	E. Swanson
Hahn	R-S	Hildebrand
Hunter	L-S	Barthold
Thompson	R-F	Manning

The final score was:—

Wisconsin	6
World	4

The game was an interesting contest and brought forth considerable side-line rooting and comment.

The 50-yd. swim was won by Ray, Burdick being second and Schmidt third.

In the second event, the quarter-mile swim, Burdick won first, Ray second and Schmidt third.

In the canoe upsetting contest H. Jackson and Purdy won first place while A. Jackson and Morgan won second.

Miss Joy Tomlinson proved herself Stout's champion nail driver with Miss Bertha Mallory second and Miss Lucille Teed third.

Mr. Krebs won first dress-maker's medal while Messrs. Thompson and Elson were close second and third.

The canoe joust was perhaps the most interesting event of all. The following teams were entered; Jackson - Purdy, Moore - Canfield, Manning - Schmidt-Thompson - Gangwisch, Ray - Burdick, and Jackson, -Morgan.

The preliminaries were won by the Moore - Canfield, Gangwisch - Thomopson, and Ray - Burdick teams.

In the finals Canfield broke his spear in a vain attempt to overturn Ray. The contestants were ordered to finish empty-handed whereupon Canfield grasped Ray's canoe by the prow and flipped its occupants into the water. This ended the joust.

One of the unscheduled features of the afternoon was an exhibition of some of our aquatic stars of whom we are justly proud. This exhibition consisted of fancy diving, the corkscrew, the swan and the jack-knife being among the most used forms. Mr. Burdick and Mr. Ray also gave us a splendid exhibition of "the long and short of it."

After the exhibitions and contests Mr. Buxton distributed the prizes to the winners. The prizes were all donated by different stores in town and we want to thank each contributor for his contribution. A list of the prizes and their donors follows:—

Mr. Lake and Mr. Googerty had the fires ready for the cooks.

Mr. Eslinger's classes did the printing.

Mr. Jarvis and Mr. Chandler worked well together as a committee on arrangements.

For transportation of supplies, tables, etc. we thank Mr. Christoffel.

Mr. Mauthe, Mr. Quigley, and Mr. Jackson conducted the sports and races in a very efficient manner.

Mr. Brown furnished us with music.

Mr. Jackson, cashier of the First National Bank, granted us free use of the grounds and arranged with the Menomonie Improvement Association to handle the transportation.

ATHLETICS

The summer session athletics under the supervision of Physical director O. C. Mauthe are being taught by Mr. Quigley—foot ball and base ball, Mr. Jackson—basket ball and track, and Mr. Ray who has charge of the swimming classes. Mr. Mauthe will himself conduct classes in Public School Physical Education and Gymnasium Work, assisted by Mr.

HOME ECONOMICS

Altho the enrollment this summer is not quite up to that of last year in the domestic science department, classes are enthusiastic and progressing rapidly.

Some new work is being done, not offered in the regular session.

In addition to the courses offered during the regular school year, are costume design with Miss Irwin in charge, and cutting and fitting, conducted by Miss Erickson.

Four fireless cookers are now installed in the kitchens. They were purchased with the proceeds of the Food Sale, held Mar. 23rd.

The Home Makers' cottage on 6th St., is being put in shape for the use of Household Management classes. During the coming year eight girls will have charge of the running of the house, furnace included, for a period of two weeks.

SOCIAL

Thirty Stout couples enjoyed an informal dance given at the M. I. A. pavilion last Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barber entertained Mr. and Mrs. Nyman and Miss Crawford last Sunday at dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Buxton entertained Dr. Bawden at a dinner given in his honor last Wednesday evening.

Miss Glanton's cooking class enjoyed a picnic Friday. They went to Galloway.

A dance will be given in the Smith Hall for Stout students, Friday evening.

Four fair damsels from the Annex went up Wilson Creek Sunday for a picnic. About the time that lunch was over the "flood" began. The canoe carpet "ran", establishing a new vogue in summer dress colors.

LIBRARY

Special attention is called to the latest numbers of the following magazines to be found indexed on shelves in the Library located in the Gym. The Journal of Home Economics, Industrial Arts, American Printer, Graphic Arts, Inland Printer, Printing Art.

It may be of interest to note that the Library is a subscriber of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, and Evening Wisconsin.

INFORMATION WANTED

Mr. Jenkins would like to know who called, or who was responsible for calling him over the phone Sunday afternoon. Reward for convicting evidence.

WANTED — Girls for the next dance, Allen Hahn and "Doc" Anderson.

Jay Blackman announces that his Studebaker is now in service.

Why does Mr. Brunkow wish that he had wings?

Why did Jack Hollberg and Mr. Chandler get wet Sunday night?

When boating look for that big fish that weighs 17½ pounds.

It is rumored that when Coon and Brunkow visited two young ladies Sunday, they went for breakfast and stayed for lunch, there by causing a head-on-collision with the evening callers. "Safety First," boys, get your time schedule better arranged before some one gets hurt.

Mugs—Do you drink?

Bugs—That's my business.

Mugs—Have you any other business?

Burdick in the men's classes and in the ladies' classes by Miss Clara Fladocs of the Indianapolis, Indiana Normal College and Miss Marjory Wears, a graduate of the Menomonie High School who has had considerable practice experience in this work in the local schools.

Altho at the time of going to press class lists are incomplete, indications are that all of these classes will be as large if not larger than those of last year. Classes in athletic games are expected to exceed in number any of previous summer sessions.

Students interested in swimming are particularly fortunate in having access to one of the most modern, best and largest natatoriums in the country. The water in the pool is always fresh and will be kept at an agreeable temperature.

This is the second session in which this beautiful pool has been open to summer students.

It is hoped that a large number of students will take advantage of this opportunity to swim or learn to swim.

Hours for ladies will be 3:00-4:30; for men 4:30-5:45.

An attempt is being made to arrange for baseball, basket ball, playground ball, and other contests. If you are asked to play say "Yes" and then come out at the appointed time and help us all to have a good time during our hour of recreation. The picnic on Saturday illustrated well just what part athletics may have in bringing us closer together. Let us go on with the idea and do all we can to become a stronger unit during our five weeks of acquaintance here at Stout.

PERSONAL

Mrs. B.J. Kugel who has been visiting her daughter, Miss Daisy Alice Kugel, returned to her home in Sandusky, Ohio, Tuesday.

Mrs. L. D. Harvey and Miss Harvey are enjoying the San Francisco Exposition. Miss Harvey thinks working nine and one half hours a day is not more tiring than sight seeing.

Miss Nuna Callaghan of Kenosha is visiting friends here.

Misses Priscilla Adams, Mary Sime and Dorothy Green of St. Paul are coming to visit at Stout.

Miss May Hansie, '06, Supervisor of Home Economics in Birmingham, Ala., was a week-end guest of Mrs. Jarvis.

Miss Florence O'Leary, '09, Supervisor of Home Economics at Mason City, Ia., and Miss Katherine Logan of the Ames Extension Department are enrolled or summer school work.

Mr. Alf. Jackson has been attending the N. A. G. U. in Indianapolis.

Mr. Quigley remained at his home in Oshkosh the first part of the summer.

Miss Field, Miss Benseid, Miss Helmer, and Mr. Hillix were busy throughout the summer on the regular office force. Miss Benseid had a short vacation, Miss Nesseth filling the vacancy.

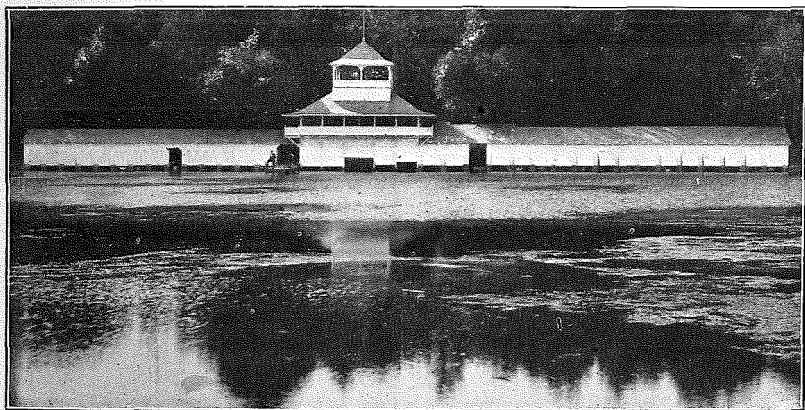

WANTED—Type lice killer by the Elementary Printing class.

THE STORY OF LAKE MENOMIN

By Gangwisch

Comparitively few of us have not explored part or most of the charming country that lies close about us here. We have found a land of snug farms, broad fields, park-like groves, and quiet waters, so settled and well established in appearance that to imagine it as having recently been otherwise seems rather absurd.

Still, less than four score and ten years ago this beautiful section of the picturesque Chippewa Valley was owned by the Chippewa and Sioux Indian tribes and was the secluded haunt of wild game, which together with the abundant wild rice, formed the red men's principle diet. The Red Cedar River (then known as the Menomonie River) flowed serenely and undisturbed in its course thru densely wooded country. The bed of what is now Lake Menomon was then a wild rice swamp.

The name "Menomin" is the Indian word for wild rice. "Menomonie" is doubtless a prolongation of this word.

In 1827 certain lumbermen secured from the two tribes of Indians, permis-

Just two more weeks!

This fine weather is producing a bumper crop of picnics.

There are some wonderful fish stories navigating around this Institution.

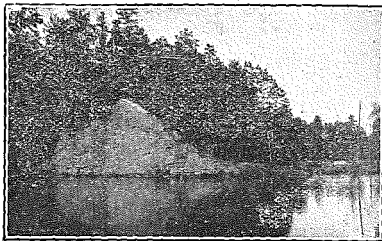

It seems a shame to mention it, but a goodly number of our youths seem to be forgetting the girls they left behind them.

There is a general feeling among faculty and students that this summer's work is even more profitable and successful than that accomplished in former years.

Some of our young men appear to be just as good, if not a trifle better, at following the intricacies of the new dances than those of mechanical drawing.

Three generals are striving for supremacy in Mexico, Gen. Villa, Gen. Carranza, and general bankruptcy. The last named is gradually taking possession of everything.

PHOTOGRAPHIC SUBJECTS

Creek Scene

Menomonie and the surrounding country are rich with photographic subjects. Besides the Institute buildings and views of Lake Menomin, there are a number of spots within a couple of miles radius, the beauty of which are far famed.

Paradise Valley, two miles south of the city, is a beautiful rocky canyon thru which tumbles a sparkling stream. A twenty-foot fall in this stream affords a rare subject for pictures.

The Devil's Punch Bowl is a deep round cavity in the rock, from the sides of which gush forth numerous sparkling springs. The springs form, in the bowl, a clear crystal pool that feeds a tiny river. This spot is three-fourths of a mile south of Paradise Valley.

To reach Paradise Valley follow the wagon road or Milwaukee tracks south two miles to the concrete wagon bridge. There leave the road and follow the creek to your right up to the canyon.

To get to the Devil's Punch

Bowl, return to the concrete bridge and follow the wagon road three-quarters of a mile to a bridge over a deep cut. Cross the bridge and follow the ravine east (to your left) until you reach the Punch Bowl.

Wilson Creek's Echo Rock, Suicide Rock and Foot Bridge are all interesting subjects. These can best be reached by boot or canoe.

sion to occupy a certain tract of land, build a saw-mill and cut the pine timber. This saw-mill was the first operated in the Chippewa Valley, and was erected on Wilson Creek just above it's point of confluence with the Red Cedar River.

In 1841 the first dam was constructed across the river just below Wilson Creek, being since rebuilt as it now stands. This dam spread the waters of the Red Cedar which flooded the surrounding rice swamps—and Lake Menomin was formed.

In those days the new lake was used as a millpond for storing logs which came down the river from fifty miles or more up-stream. Many of these logs, becoming water soaked at one end, sank, making the "dead-heads" we find scattered through the lake.

Such we find to be the recent history of this bit of country which in the past ninety years has passed from the Indian-infested primeval forest, to the jangling, sweating, swearing lumber camp and in turn to the peaceful school town, the abode of knowledge-thirsty pedagogues.

Lake Menomin, the Creek, and the River now afford delightful recreation places for local people and visitors. Beside boating on the waters and picnicking on their sodded shores, there is fishing in abundance for those who are fond of angling. Pickerel, black bass, pike, perch, blue-gills, sunfish, and bull-heads are quite numerous, the pickerel occasionally running to fifteen or twenty pounds in weight while two to five-pound pickerel and bass are not at all unusual.

In truth Menomonie, with her quite recent history of red men, beautiful surroundings and recreational opportunities, possesses a charm irresistible, which together with Menomonie's educational advantages, to say nothing of her hospitable townspeople, make an ideal place for him who seeks an unusual blending of good things.

Prof. Rogers, in methods class—"Name some things that will arouse curiosity or interest."

No answer.

"Come! come! What do you see on the street that attracts your attention?"

Student in the rear—"Girls."

Join Mr. Brown's class if you wish to get a good "shine on".

SOCIAL

At Smiths' Hall, last Friday evening, Messers. Fred and William Smith gave their "Welcome Dance" to the Stout students. About sixty couples were present and a most enjoyable evening is reported.

Last Saturday afternoon, thirty-five Stout students claiming Illinois as their home state enjoyed a glorious picnic above the bridge on Red Cedar River. After participating in races, games, and contests of various kinds, they enjoyed a typical Illinois feast. At 7:30 they departed for their homes feeling well acquainted, well fed, and well pleased at the thoro success of the holiday.

Earle Meyer made his regular trip up Wilson Creek last evening.

PICNIC TRIPS

Menomonie and its picturesque country forms an ideal locality for the lover of picnics.

If one could follow Broadway street north, past the Tainter Annex—stop-over tickets preferable—over the bridge and railroad tracks, one would see a foliage hidden path leading to a boat house. Here one takes either a canoe or a rowboat and casts away all worries as soon as the paddle dips into the quiet, forest-lined Wilson Creek.

After passing Echo Rock, Suicide Rock, and many other scenic beauties, a log foot-bridge is sighted. On the right is a clear, open, and high neck of land which makes a fine picnic location, not only because of its most beautiful surroundings, but also because of a convenient fire place and a cool spring across the way.

But perhaps your curiosity to see the "great-beyond" has not been satisfied so you paddle farther up the creek. Coming to a wagon bridge which seems to harmonize with the other natural beauties, you discover an ideal picnic ground on your left while a little further up the creek stands a cozy farmhouse which spells cool fresh water.

If you would care for swimming to be included in your picnic you had better plan on the Red Cedar River. Go to one of the boat houses by the lake where row boats, canoes, and launches are obtainable. Cross Lake Menomin and after you have crossed the lake you can see Point Comfort on the right where nearly every convenience is present.

Further up the river, past the railroad bridge, on the right hand side is Stout's cottage where you can get cool and refreshing spring water, while just across the river are several fire-places for your cooking.

Get those from your state interested and enjoy a State Picnic, before the summer session is over!

PERSONAL

Herman Wieland spent the week end at Virginia, Minn.

William D. Mayo '14 visited in this city Saturday and Sunday.

It pays to advertise in the STOUTONIA. "Doc" Anderson has a girl now. He is so busy these days that it interferes with his education.

There will be an Indiana picnic Saturday, Aug. 14th. The place and means of transportation will be announced on the bulletins. All Hoosiers are requested to be present.

About the busiest places in town at 7:20 are the breakfast tables. It seems difficult to squeeze in enough time between rising and the 7:29 marathon.

THE STOUT INSTITUTE

A BRIEF ACCOUNT OF ITS ORIGIN, EVOLUTION, ACHIEVEMENTS

In 1889 the Stout Institute was founded as an adjunct to the Menomonie public schools by James Huff Stout who was prompted by his interest in bettering the education of the average school child to donate a building and employ a corps of teachers to teach manual training and domestic science to all the Menomonie school children.

Later the school was put under the administration of the public schools, of which Mr. L. D. Harvey was superintendent. Mr. Stout still financing the school.

In 1897 the Stout Building together with the Central School were burned but Mr. Stout set about it to build another before the ashes were cold. His proposal to build a Manual Training and Domestic Science building that should cost as much as any school the city should build was gladly accepted by the people of Menomonie, who built the present Central School at a cost of $60,000. Mr. Stout more than made his promise good by erecting and equipping the main Stout Building at a cost of $100,000.

In 1903 Miss Day was given charge of the Domestic Science Department. She was succeeded in 1909 by Miss Fisher, and she in turn by Miss Kugel two years later. Mr. Buxton was, in 1905, appointed head of the Manual Training Department.

In 1908 the institution was removed from the control of the local board of education, incorporated, and run as a separate normal school with Dr. L. D. Harvey, who had prior to that time been State Superintendent of Schools, at its head.

In December of 1911 Mr. Stout died leaving no provision for the continuance of the school. The state, however, agreed to take it over and operate it as a state institution, and has followed the same policies as those established by Mr. Stout.

Summer school was started in 1906 and has been well attended, having alone afforded instruction to from

And then — but let's forget about it.

We are all AMERICANS here.

If you happen to be descended from one of the warring nations don't take it too seriously. We all had to descend from somewhere—and we had no choice.

Now that we have a manless ship controlled by wireless we may look for wireless controlled submarines and aerial torpedoes.

Conversation must be very engrossing when two boating parties only a few feet apart on a quiet lake are so absorbed that each is unaware of the others presence.

A young man who takes a young lady out on deep waters in a canoe shoulders a big responsibility for her safety that he may not cast aside. It is his duty to know what is going on around him.

Any person who runs a motor boat around a small, canoe-infested lake, after dark, without lights, is a dangerous member of society.

The week-end games promise to be as good as the Summer Session Picnic was. They will be too good to miss.

MINNESOTA'S LAW

Since establishing a four-year domestic science course in her University, Minnesota has adopted a new law requiring that all teachers of that subject, who have not already taught two years within the state, must have college degrees, to be employed in any Minnesota high school.

The result of this law is that high school graduates must have at least two years of college work as well as their Stout work to obtain positions in the high schools of that state, unless they have already been employed there as domestic science teachers for two years.

This law may be good in some respects but it would have been easier for Minnesota's high schools to adjust themselves to this condition if more time had been given before the law went into effect.

The domestic science course of the "U" of Minn. devotes decidedly over half of the work to academic subjects with special emphasis placed upon the science.

DESIGN LECTURE

Mr. Maurice I. Flagg's lecture, "The Relation of Design to Industry," given last Thursday afternoon in the High School Building merited it's large attendance.

Discussing the principles of design the lecturer spoke at length upon consistency, harmony, unity and proportion as applied to the design of common things such as door knockers, articles of attire, et cetera. Illustrations of silversmithing and views of the Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris were shown and commented upon in this connection.

Emphasis was placed upon the fact that design enters into the creation of any and every thing. We as Americans were accused of being inconsistent and slipshod in the matter of design, allowing the Europeans to outdo us in this most important part of creative activity.

SHOP NOTES

Wed. Aug. 11th; on this day Herman Wieland laid a few bricks.

Printing—a course with lots of put-up-jobs and impositions.

Mr. Brown's class in varnishing and rubbing is putting the finish on the new library tables.

ATHLETICS

It is the case in most summer school work that athletics plays a very small part in comparison with the regular session's activities along this line.

The directors and others interested in athletics here this summer are planning to show a few exceptions to this rule in the near future.

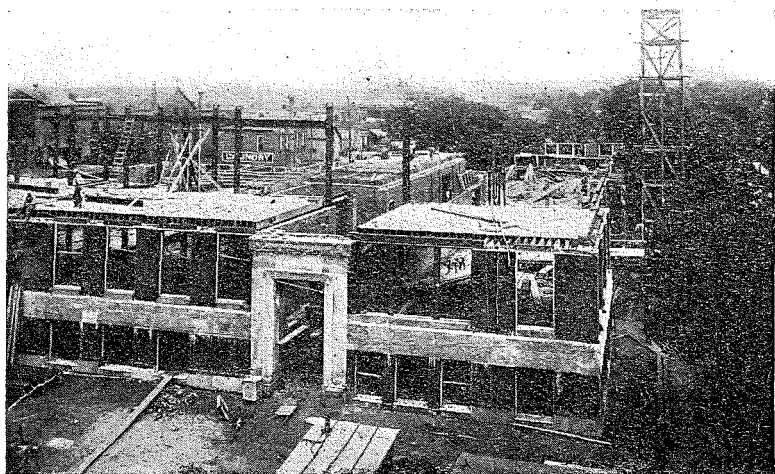

On Friday evening there will be a basketball game in the Armory at 8 P.M. The opposing teams being Stout vs. Lane. These teams are composed of crack players from all parts of the country. A fast and furious game is anticipated by the followers of both quints.

After the game the floor will be cleared for dancing and a few hours of terpsichorean joy will conclude the evening's gayities.

On Saturday, at 2 P.M., a regular big league ball game will be pulled off at the fair grounds. The opposing teams will again be Stout vs. Lane. It is expected that practically the whole student body will be there.

All Stout people and their friends are cordially invited by the management to come out and enjoy the game, and help to make that old grand stand groan. Shaded seats are promised to all.

To reach the fair grounds, go as far as you can (on Main street) and you will be there.

Stout's New Household Arts Building Now Under Construction

THE NEW HOUSEHOLD ARTS BUILDING

The new Domestic Science Building now under erection opposite the Main Building is to be a fine example of modern domestic science quarters. The entire cost including the heating system is to be $200,000. A proper equipment for the school will cost approximately $60,000. It will contain $9,000 of cut stone, 21 million bricks, 500 windows, and 112 rooms including Auditorium and Cafeteria.

The Auditorium, in the N. E. corner, will seat 1,000 persons and will contain a regulation stage. Directly beneath it will be the Cafeteria Lunch Room where, undoubtedly, the hunger of many a young man will be satisfied by the charming young ladies of the Domestic Science Department.

The new library quarters will be on the first floor in the N. W. corner.

The building will be four stories high beside the basement and will be 229 feet, six inches long by 125 feet, six inches deep and will occupy one-half of a city block.

The Stout Institute appropriation as approved by the assembly has passed the senate. This provides $50,000 for equipping the new building and $30,000 a year for two years for maintenance.

SAFETY FIRST?

LIGHTLESS MOTOR BOAT RUNS DOWN CANOE

Last Friday evening, while canoeing on Lake Menomin, a well known Stout student and his lady-love, whose names are withheld from publication, were the victims of a collision with a lightless motor-boat.

The accident was a peculiar one. Both the motor boat and canoe had been lying motionless about ten feet apart each unknown to the other. When the motor boat engine was started the boat bore down upon the canoe, which happened to lie in her course, coming so suddenly that its startled occupants were thrown from their frail craft before they fully realized what had occurred.

By some trick of fate the young lady was thrown on the prow of the launch when the canoe capsized. The young man clung to the overturned canoe and saved himself from drowning until the launch was turned about and he was dragged from the water into it.

The accident occurred just below the Point in the deep channel water. Neither the young man nor his companion were able to swim more than a few strokes, in view of which fact their escape from drowning seems little short of miraculous.

Whether the driver of the power boat will be prosecuted or not for operating his boat without a light depends upon whether the canoe occupants wish to make complaint against him.

SOCIAL

Miss Kugel and Miss Williams entertained a few friends Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Lena Baker.

The Iowa picnic at the Point, Saturday was one delightful time. The games were good, if strenuous; the steak, to say nothing of the other edibles, was excellent. The crowd could not be improved upon.

Last Saturday afternoon twelve Missourians cruised up Wilson Creek to the second bridge where a picnic supper was served. After supper they made the welkin ring with their state songs.

Twenty-one "Hoosiers" had their festivity at Cedar Falls last Saturday. Some went in canoes, but a greater number rode on the big picnic bus where there was a better chance to get acquainted.

The Misses Pricilla Adams, class '15, Dorothy Green, '14, Marjory Sime, '14, Nuna Callaghan, '15, and Islay McKenzie, '16 were week-end visitors at Lynwood Hall.

The microbiology class enjoyed a delightful "back to nature" experience Friday afternoon. With Miss Williams and Miss Kugel they explored the banks of Wilson Creek for types of edible and of poisonous mushrooms. The canoeing was fine — the picnic supper that followed was still better.

Smith's dance last Thursday evening was attended by a jolly good crowd who enjoyed themselves immensely.

LOCALS

Miss Elizebeth Lathrop is here, visiting Miss Elizabeth Bowen.

Miss Mildred Taylor '13, of Barron, spent a day with Stout friends last week.

The Misses Rutledge, Irwin, O'Leary, and Bishoff motored to Eau Claire Saturday.

Mrs. L. D. Harvey arrived home Sat. from a western trip that included a visit to the San Francisco Exposition.

Miss Margaret Farnum '12, of La Cross spent Monday at Stout. She returns to her work at the University of Ohio in September.

Miss Lillian Streed left last Sunday for her home in Waukegan, Illinois, after spending a most delightful summer with her sister Miss Judith Streed.

Prof. J. E. Ray and West Burdick swam from the N. W. Ry. Bridge to the M. I. A. Boathouse, Sunday, in one hour and thirty minutes. The entire distance was covered without a stop.

The Band Concert last Wednesday evening was one which was enjoyed by all.

DEPLORABLE MISHAPS

LOST

Set of batteries somewhere in Lake Menomin. Finder please see me. Robert Chandler.

An Annex young lady is reported to have gone coon (Koons) hunting, who only brought back a hide (Hyde).

Three girls at the Annex were stung (by bees) Sunday. Mrs. Hahn says that the bees ought to be arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

We are informed that there is a class of two doing extensive research in Astronomy. The latest observations are reported by W. L. Jenkins. A large comet passed thru the field of vision which lighted the heavens for about 10 minutes, and produced a tide on Lake Menomin which nearly capsized the bark from which the observations were made.

It is sworn to by witnesses that Will Reeser while following Messers Ray and Burdick Sunday afternoon, in a canoe, overturned his tipsy craft and spilled himself into a patch of weeds and slime, out in the middle of Lake Menomin. He was rescued from this sad plight by the occupants of a motor boat, who took him ashore, from whence he hurried home, barefoot, and was last seen scuttling in at the back door.

1200 to 1500 students, the total summer enrollment being 2007 for the ten years.

In 1913-14, to satisfy the growing demands for more room to accommodate the rapidly increasing classes the new building trades school was built and equipped. In this school are taught carpentry, brick laying, cement work, plumbing, mill work, wood finishing, cabinet making, sign-painting, all departments of drawing, and other subjects.

Beside the normal students and Central School regular pupils, the school also handles classes of trades students in brick laying and plumbing who are making these handicrafts their major studies.

PI BOX

Doubtless all readers of THE STOUTONIA are familiar with the editorial organization of the paper since the editor and his assistants are constantly on your trail asking for news, special articles, etc. It may be of interest to know that the mechanical side of the production is as highly organized as the editing department.

As far as conditions permit we carry out the work as it is executed in any well organized newspaper establishment. Our mechanical superintendent is responsible to the editor for getting the paper out on time and must be sure that each foreman does his work well and without delay. The editor gives him a dummy of the next issue, together with the copy. The copy is turned over to the foreman of composition, who is responsible for getting the type set. The foreman of proof-readers plays no small share in this as he is responsible for any typographical errors that may finally appear in the issue. When the material is set it goes to the foreman of stonework, who has charge of making up the pages and locking them in the chases. The forms are then sent to the foreman of presswork, who directs the printing. He in turn passes his product on to the foreman of binding, who superintends the folding and the stapling, and delivers the finished copies to the business manager.

An outsider may possibly conclude that the work is completed, but such is not the case. The forms must be torn down and the type distributed, and everything must be put in readiness for the rush to get next week's issue out on time.

The mechanical organization for the Summer Session is:

Mechanical Supt.	C. W. Coon
Foreman Comp.	R. Gangwisch
Foreman Proofreader	E. Swanson
Foreman Stonework	Mr. Curran
Foreman Presswork	E. H. Meyer
Foreman Binding	L. W. Weaver
Foreman Distribution	R. D. Gould

Other members of the School Paper Publishing class are: Robert L. Holmes and Roy A. Radtke.

ESCAPES BURNING FIRE DISCOVERED IN EARLY MORNING; DAMAGE SLIGHT

Fire, early Tuesday morning, caused damage to the extent of several hundred dollars to the Manual Training Building of the Stout Institute.

The alarm was turned in at 3:09 A.M. The fire had probably been burning an hour before its discovery, and was going briskly in the boiler room and blacksmith shop when the fire department arrived.

The conflagration seems to have started in the roof of the boiler room from the heat of the chimney. From there it quickly spread to the blacksmith shop, burning out three windows and damaging records and furniture in Mr. Jarvis' office. The combustible section of the boiler room roof and the asbestos covering around the steam pipes were entirely burned.

The fire department responded promptly to the alarm and had the fire under control soon after arriving there. It was about two hours, however, before it was extinguished.

Just two more weeks!

This fine weather is producing a bumper crop of picnics.

There are some wonderful fish stories navigating around this Institution.

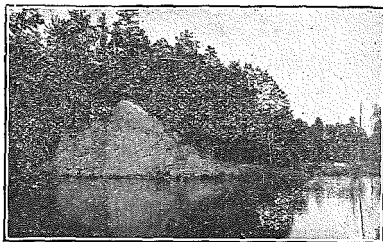

It seems a shame to mention it, but a goodly number of our youths seem to be forgetting the girls they left behind them.

There is a general feeling among faculty and students that this summer's work is even more profitable and successful than that accomplished in former years.

Some of our young men appear to be just as good, if not a trifle better, at following the intricacies of the new dances than those of mechanical drawing.

Three generals are striving for supremacy in Mexico, Gen. Villa, Gen. Carranza, and general bankruptcy. The last named is gradually taking possession of everything.

PHOTOGRAPHIC SUBJECTS

Creek Scene

Menomonie and the surrounding country are rich with photographic subjects. Besides the Institute buildings and views of Lake Menomonie, there are a number of spots within a couple of miles radius, the beauty of which are far famed.

Paradise Valley, two miles south of the city, is a beautiful rocky canyon thru which tumbles a sparkling stream. A twenty-foot fall in this stream affords a rare subject for pictures.

The Devil's Punch Bowl is a deep round cavity in the rock, from the sides of which gush forth numerous sparkling springs. The springs form, in the bowl, a clear crystal pool that feeds a tiny river. This spot is three-fourths of a mile south of Paradise Valley.

To reach Paradise Valley follow the wagon road or Milwaukee tracks south two miles to the concrete wagon bridge. There leave the road and follow the creek to your right up to the canyon.

To get to the Devil's Punch

Bowl, return to the concrete bridge and follow the wagon road three-quarters of a mile to a bridge over a deep cut. Cross the bridge and follow the ravine east (to your left) until you reach the Punch Bowl.

Wilson Creek's Echo Rock, Suicide Rock and Foot Bridge are all interesting subjects. These can best be reached by boot or canoe.

sion to occupy a certain tract of land, build a saw-mill and cut the pine timber. This saw-mill was the first operated in the Chippewa Valley, and was erected on Wilson Creek just above its point of confluence with the Red Cedar River.

In 1841 the first dam was constructed across the river just below Wilson Creek, being since rebuilt as it now stands. This dam spread the waters of the Red Cedar which flooded the surrounding rice swamps—and Lake Menomin was formed.

In those days the new lake was used as a millpond for storing logs which came down the river from fifty miles or more up-stream. Many of these logs, becoming water soaked at one end, sank, making the "dead-heads" we find scattered through the lake.

Such we find to be the recent history of this bit of country which in the past ninety years has passed from the Indian-infested primeval forest, to the jangling, sweating, swearing lumber camp and in turn to the peaceful school town, the abode of knowledge-thirsty pedagogues.

Lake Menomin, the Creek, and the River now afford delightful recreation places for local people and visitors. Beside boating on the waters and picnicking on their sodded shores, there is fishing in abundance for those who are fond of angling. Pickerel, black bass, pike, perch, blue-gills, sunfish, and bullheads are quite numerous, the pickerel occasionally running to fifteen or twenty pounds in weight while two to five-pound pickerel and bass are not at all unusual.

In truth Menomonie, with her quite recent history of red men, beautiful surroundings and recreational opportunities, possesses a charm irresistible, which together with Menomonie's educational advantages, to say nothing of her hospitable townspeople, make an ideal place for him who seeks an unusual blending of good things.

Prof. Rogers, in methods class—"Name some things that will arouse curiosity or interest."

No answer.

"Come! come! What do you see on the street that attracts your attention?"

Student in the rear—"Girls."

Join Mr. Brown's class if you wish to get a good "shine on".

Happy to meet you!

Have you heard of anyone being homesick?

What do you think of the progress made in the construction of the new building?

Who is the busiest person around here nowadays? The teachers have an idea their time is more than taken up, the worthy office folk are laboring under the deception that their long hours of toil are numerous, and each student in particular considers himself the most heavily burdened individual in the universe, but Mrs. Hahn and Miss Halseth are swamped.

WELCOME

We extend the glad hand of welcome to all old and new friends. Our hearts rejoice as we see the long lines of D S's in stripes and ribbons filing thru the door of "Learning, Skill, Honor and Industry," and those "horny-handed sons of toil" garbed in overalls and smiles going joyfully to their arduous tasks. Even the sun has paid our fair city another visit to welcome you with its bright rays. Now that the fond and affectionate greetings have been administered, would it not be well to give a little serious thought to the getting of an A No. 1 start on the real business for which we came?

Stout has won its reputation, not by its gay society life, nor its victorious athletic teams, but by the high grade of teaching which its alumni have rendered. Those who have contributed most to its glorious reputation were the serious, conscientious and faithful students of a few years ago.

This reputation will be maintained and extended just so much as we do our part while here; as it grows we shall profit accordingly.

LARGEST ENROLLMENT

We are pleased to announce that the enrollment of Stout is the largest it has ever been, in both the Household Arts and the M.T. departments. As the students are still coming in an accurate announcement of the enrollment cannot be given until a later date.

MAN. TRAINING ALUMNI

Wednesday morning, during the period of Class Talks, the M. T. students had the privilege of hearing Mr. Albert Siepert, who was a member of Stout's first graduating class, and also Mr. Frank Beckman who was a member of the class of 1910. Both men spoke from experience and gave a very beneficial talk.

Were you at the Y. W. C. A. Mixer Saturday? If you were, you know they are wide awake, if you were not, we are afraid that you are not wide awake.

This was the first of a number of entertainments which the association has planned for this year. It was a success. That means that there were several hundred girls present, and that several hundred girls said they had a perfectly splendid time.

Old friendships were renewed and new friendships made. There seemed to be a general feeling of interest and good comradeship.

The crowd left the gym at half past three and walked down the river past Galloway's creek, where they stopped to play their games and have their supper.

The girls were grateful for the leadership of Miss Krueger in their games. Juniors beat Seniors in a tug-of-war, but some one has told us that there were only ten Seniors pulling against twelve Juniors. Fires were built and buns with red hots and hot coffee were served. After supper the girls wasted marshmallows.

Now that we're acquainted, we are ready for still more fun next time. Come again girls, there's a place for everybody.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held their first meeting of the year Sunday morning in the Memorial Building. The increased attendance was noticeable and very inspiring. Mr. Buxton spoke and gave an ideal opening talk on the possible development of the spiritual life of young men. He laid special emphasis on the service side of a man's nature that should be developed. The men of the school who did not hear this talk missed some valuable suggestions.

Rev. C. F. Niles will address the Y. M. next Sunday on the subject "Mental Requirements for Moral and Spiritual Growth." Be sure you hear him at 8:30 Sunday morning Sept. 19th.

FOOTBALL—

DOUBLE HEADER

Saturday September 18, two football games will be played at the fair grounds. The Menomonie H.S. team will play their alumni and the Stout Juniors will meet the Seniors. Each game will consist of three twelve-minute quarters; Stout teams beginning, and the H.S. following, and thereafter alternating the quarters on the field. A continuous performance will be on beginning at two-thirty.

All teams have been working hard getting ready to give a good exhibition preliminary game. Your support is absolutely necessary as the money made will be used for the equipment and promotion of athletics.

Admission 25 cents.

The Annual Dunn County Fair. Do you expect to attend?

Did you buy this paper or are you reading your chum's copy?

YOUR PAPER

You have noticed that there are only two Seniors who are acting as editors on the STOUTONIA just now. We have assistance from other friends and this, indeed, we appreciate. The STOUTONIA will be managed by a board of editors during the coming year, consisting of three Seniors and three Juniors. It is best, of course, if these individuals shall represent both departments of the school. Their qualifications should be: first, a willingness to serve in such a capacity; second, an ability to express their ideas in words and on paper; third, they should be well known among representative groups of students; fourth, they should be willing to devote at least an hour each week in the preparation of copy or similar work.

In a short time, the Seniors and Juniors will have class meetings, when it is hoped members to the staff of the STOUTONIA may be elected.

SENIOR MEETING

After Assembly last week the Senior class held a meeting and elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: Pres. Earl D. Mauch; Vice President, Evalyn Van Stratum; Secretary, Arthur G. Erickson; Treasurer, Margaret Weimer.

The following members were elected to serve on the editorial staff of the Stoutonia for the ensuing year: Ethel Feldkirchner, Harry G. Clarke, and Philip F. A. Minne.

Robert McIntosh was appointed as Business Manager of the Annual for the coming year by the Editor-in-Chief, H. L. Stanton. This appointment met with the approval of the class.

At a special meeting of the Senior class last Thursday a committee was appointed to attend to the duty of sending flowers to those members of the class that might fall ill during the school year. The committee is Miss Marian Corey, Miss Blanche Doughty, Walter M. Bigelow, Orin Hansen, and Robert Mulholland.

JUNIORS ORGANIZE

A meeting of the Junior class was held in the armory at 4:15 p.m. yesterday under the direction of Earl D. Manch. Harry E. Peterson was elected as temporary President and Miss Boberg Secretary.

Miss Marion Moore, Harry Peterson, and Edson Shatto were elected as Junior representatives on the staff of the Stoutonia.

STOUT DANCES

The first dance was a decided success. It was given in the Stout Armory Friday evening and about two hundred people were in attendance. Mr. Mauthe and Mr. Jimerson acted as chaperons. A three-piece orchestra furnished excellent music and every one had an informal jolly time.

These dances are given almost weekly throughout the school year and are a very important phase of the social life of the school. Their success depends upon you; not upon your neighbor nor upon the girls alone, nor the men, but upon each individual. They will be just what you make them. If you are timid and stay at home, what is to become of the dance?

Too busy? Can't you finish that millinery or write up that chemistry or do that drawing some other time? To be sure you can. Whom do you ask to do things for you—things that you really want done? Why, a busy person of course. And it's the busy people who have a little recreation and give someone else a little pleasure quite often.

HIKERS

The Stout Hiker's Club held its first regular meeting last Thursday afternoon in the main corridor of the Trades Building.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. W. Voss; Vice President, A. G. Erickson; Secretary, Harry Crockett; Treasurer, E. A. Holm.

Following the election of officers the plans for the coming year were discussed and it was decided to make a hike to Cedar Falls next Saturday, Sept. 25. Any one interested in hiking should report at the gym Saturday morning at 8:00 o'clock.

GAVELEERS

Last Wednesday evening the seniors of Stout who are members of the Gaveleers met in the main building for the purpose of organizing the society for this year. Many good schemes for fine programs were discussed and plans made for the best year in the history of the society.

The meeting for Wednesday, September 29, will be led by Mr. Christoffel who will offer the following program: Response to roll call with a Current Event; How to Secure Results in Reading, Mr. Otto Hasse; The Growth of Manual Training in My Home Town, Mr. Philip Minne; The Gaveleers, Mr. Herbert Steinke.

All members of the manual training Department are urged to be present to the meeting and see the value of this society to you personally and to the school as a body.

Roll will be called promptly at 7:15 in room 35 of the main building.

PERSONALS

Anyone here seen Lamb?

Why yes! Mabel S(n)een Lamb!

Harry Reed spent Sunday with his sister Doris of Lynwood Hall.

Doris Amerpool visited Priscilla Adams of St Paul over the week end.

Gertrude Conway and Edna Boberg spent the week end at their homes in Eau Claire.

Mr. W. R. Greenwood of Chippewa Falls visited his daughter Helen at the Annex this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Leyse, of Kewanee spent the week end with their daughter at the Annex.

Miss Maud Lathrop was called to her home at Bascobel, by the serious illness of her mother.

Mr. Edgar Schulz was called to his home at Watertown, Wis. last Thursday to attend the funeral of his father.

Mr. Floyd Smith who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the City Hospital last week is recovering all right at this time.

STOUT PICNIC

To be sure it rained! But what do we care! We had lots more fun in the Armory than we would have had at Picnic Point.

Everybody met everybody they had been wanting to meet for the last three weeks, and if the degree of weariness reported the next day indicates the extent of the good time, we surely had it. The first stunt was a ball game, which was won by the girls, 39-12. The next was a nail-driving contest, in which Marie Dehler won a lovely box of candy. The boys had a needle-threading contest in which Mr. Van Gent's superior efficiency was rewarded by a box of Keeley's. Mr. Arthur Liddy was a close second and won a Stout pennant.

The Seniors beat the Juniors in a Tug of War both in the boys' contest and in the girls' contest. You should have seen Cathrine Lott and Harry E. Peterson eat marshmallows.

In the Bull's Eye contest nine men were successful and drew for the prize. Dorothy Harte likes apples as, was shown by the way she got away with one, and was able to whistle afterwards.

After this, the boys were requested to sit on one side of the house and the girls to sit on the other, then the girls' name tags were collected and passed in a basket to the boys who each drew two; in this, finding their partners for supper. The "Bread Line" was then formed reaching around the Armory three deep. After supper a half hour was given to "Get Acquainted." After this the dancing began and everyone continued to "drive dull care away" until 11 P.M.

ORCHESTRA

A rehearsal of the Stout Orchestra was held in the gymnasium last Thursday. Fifteen prospective members were present, so a good instrumentation is expected. The orchestra is unfortunate in losing the directorship of Mr. Steendahl, whose time is fully occupied with his work. A student director will be elected at the next rehearsal, which will be held sometime this week.

FIRST GAME SATURDAY

Coach Schott and fourteen men leave for Hamline Saturday morning for the first game of the season with the strong Methodist aggregation. The men are all in the pink of condition and intend to give their opponents a hard struggle for first honors.

SOCIAL LIFE

Have you become acquainted yet? The picnic offered an excellent opportunity for this purpose. If you think that wholesale introduction is not just what you prefer, remember that it is good memory training to be able to connect the right name with the right individual. Professor Ebbinghaus said that, if we neglect something we have learned, we lose four-fifths of it in one month. After we have become acquainted at the Picnic, shall we lose four-fifths of these new acquaintances, thru fear of speaking to some one whom we have never met? Surely it is easy to forgive a mistake like that, while we are all new here.

Social activities at Stout have received a good start this year. It is now the duty of each and every individual to keep the ball rolling. At the same time as it is our duty to further the social activities, it is well to use good judgment.

We must not forget the little adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." But at the same time, all play and no work makes Jack a failure. The person who is able to plan and execute his work in such a way as to leave some time for amusement and recreation when such occasions present themselves, is one whose time has been devoted properly to the purpose for which he came here.

As future teachers it is our duty to pay some attention to our social life. Thru every walk of life, social activities of some sort are required, and we should not with our primary purpose of a preparation for future work, neglect this important part of our education. Here, as elsewhere, there is a happy medium to follow.

Y. M. C. A.

Come to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning, you will hear a man of national reputation speak on a subject that will interest you. Dr. Harvey spoke to the young men last Sunday morning on the subject "Service" and those who heard him were very glad they came.

In your search for knowledge do not forget the spiritual side of your mental development. Train the whole man, not only the mental and physical. Come to the Memorial Sunday morning at 8:30.

GAVELEERS

To-night the regular weekly meeting of the Gaveleers will be given over to business. You should be present to get the parliamentary practice that this will afford.

Last Wednesday evening the society met in Room 35, where a fine program was rendered. Mr. Christoffel led the meeting, while Mr. Hasse gave a reading, "How to Secure Results in Reading." Mr. Minne spoke of "The Growth of Manual Training in My Home Town." The third number was Mr. Steinke on, "The Gaveleers."

HIKERS

Owing to the weather conditions the hikers were unable to take the hike to Cedar Falls last Saturday.

Arrangements have been made to take the hike this coming Saturday, Oct. 2. All hikers come.

STOUT BIBLE CLASS

A very pleasant hour was spent by the members of the Stout Bible Class and their friends, at a social held in the parlors of the Congregational Church last Thursday afternoon. Games were played and light refreshments were served.

Miss Helen Barber who was elected president of the class has been compelled to leave school on account of an injury to her foot, so a nominating committee was appointed Sunday morning to submit names for a new president. The work this year, on the Literature of the Bible, promises to be very helpful and profitable under the leadership of Mr. Buxton.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its first meeting on Monday at the Memorial. Over 130 young ladies were present, and the meeting was an inspiring one. Miss Mc Calmont talked to the girls on "The Master's Place for Us."

Special Notice — Every new member is expected to be at the Congregational Church Parlors at 3:30 P. M. Sunday. Your co-operation is necessary to make this Y. W. C. A. Day a success.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thurs., Oct. 7.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. R. Greenwood from Chippewa Falls, Wis. spent the week end with her daughter Helen Greenwood at the Bertha Tainter Annex.

The "Hikers" had a meeting last week and elected their officers. Miss Elizabeth Bullen was elected president. They are planning a hike for next Sat.

Cathleen Freeman, Loretta Angler, and Jessie Frendenburger spent Saturday shopping in Eau Claire.

Hazel Westgate from Nebraska arrived at the Bertha Tainter annex the middle of last week.

Mr. George A. Jester, 1915 graduate of Stout, who is now Director of Manual Training in Little Falls, Minnesota, spent the week end in Menomonie visiting friends.

Dr. L. D. Harvey attended a meeting of the Board of Industrial Education yesterday in Milwaukee.

Mr. Arthur Schwing, "Frenchie," who at present is teaching French, German, and Gymnastics at Owatonna, Minnesota, spent the week end with friends here.

Mr. T. L. Owen of Durand, Wis., is in this city at the bedside of his son Lee Owen, who met with an accident in the Gym last week. Lee will be taken home for a short rest before resuming his duties.

HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT

Everyone has heard of the "Home Management House" at the former Homemakers Dormitory, and a great many have been wondering just what is meant by that term.

The object of conducting this house is to give girls an opportunity for practical work in home management. The girls get practice in the general management of the home, in the planning of meals, marketing, preparation and serving of meals, and all work connected with the home. There are nine girls in the house who do this work. At the end of one week four new girls enter, and at the end of the next week five new girls enter, so that the girls who came in the first week are managers while the girls who entered the second week act, in a sense, as assistants. Each girl is assigned certain duties, such as special baking, special cleaning, planning of meals, marketing, laundry, and daily care of the house. Upon reading this, one might think that this is an easy problem to undertake, but it has come to be a difficult one, as the girls are given $18 for the purchasing of supplies. Out of this amount the girls also have to pay a cleaning woman for one-half day each week.

There are numerous details and problems of organization that must be attended to; such as the supervision of all the work, the buying of supplies, keeping of accounts, looking over the schedules and plans for meals. Miss Turner deserves much credit for the work that she has done in organizing these problems, besides seeing that each girl is given her work, and the making out of a report of the character and ability of each girl.

Besides attending to all these numerous duties, Miss Turner makes the house a real home for the girls while there.

RECOGNITION SERVICES

Last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the Congregational Church the Recognition Service was held for the new members of Y. W. C. A. "Onward, Christian Soldiers" was played as a processional, and the members of the cabinet came down the aisle and formed an arch, by means of Stout Pennants, under which the old and new members bearing lighted candles, passed. These candles represented the "Candles of Self" and the President, Vera Murray, in her address, requested that these "Candles of Self"

OUR PAPER

This is the fourth issue of our school paper. You have, no doubt, noticed that we have been growing. The first issue was a single sheet, printed on one side. The second, a single sheet printed on both sides. Last week we had a folded sheet, printed on three sides. This week the four sides of the folded sheet all contain reading matter.

At the time of the publication of the first and second issues, we heard a number of remarks regarding the size of the paper. "Why don't you print a big one?", one individual said. We feel that a few words of explanation would not be out of place here. The Seniors will remember that the issues of the "Stoutonia" as published this spring were larger than we have attempted to make them this year. It will be remembered that the class that published the paper early last spring had had six months of practical work along that line, while the present Seniors have had about ten weeks practice, some none at all. In other words, we have the material, but not the mechanical ability to publish as large a paper as our predecessors did. "The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak".

If you have any material for our paper, do not hesitate to drop it into the "Stoutonia Box" in the lower hall.

It will help us very much in getting our paper out on time if you make it a point to drop your write-up in the box on Friday morning preceding the date of the issue of the paper.

HIKERS

"Weather conditions" stopped the hike to Cedar Falls a week ago, but not so last Saturday. Twenty one of the members of the Manual Training Department gathered at the Gym. in their hiking togs promptly at 8 o'clock and the hike was on.

The trip was made in 1 hour and 35 minutes so that the Juniors could see the sights on the way.

On the way back a nice big hornets nest was found, and who can resist starting a fire under one? This brought the time up for the return trip.

Half way back a nice Wisconsin shower dampened the wearing apparel of the crowd, but not the spirits, so they have decided to hike to Eau Claire next Sat., leaving the Gym. at 5:00 A.M. sharp.

GAVELEERS

The regular weekly meeting of the Gaveleers Literary Society was held last Wednesday evening in Room 19 of the Main Building. The entire evening was devoted to business.

That the student body of the Manual Training Department is interested in the society is shown by the fact that sixteen new members were enrolled at the last meeting. These new members were Messrs. Erickson, Ray, Savage, Hamilton, Bowdler, Saxhaug, Holm, Lampert, Ehrhardt, Doyle, Langer, Ducke, Smith, Tews, Owen and Fryklund.

Many others have made application, and we have every reason to believe that the coming year will be the most successful one since the society was organized.

We cordially welcome all visitors.

FOOTBALL

In the initial game of the season for both teams, Stout proved a stubborn contender for honors against the strong Hamline University team on Saturday afternoon at Norton Field.

Tho the field was soft and slow, the day was an ideal one from the spectators' view point.

The score of 7-0 indicates a close game, but could it speak of a Stout touchdown in the second-half that was not allowed on account of an off-side play, of the manner in which the Stout line held Hamline for downs on the one yard line; and of Schotts out-punting of his Hamline opponent, one might have a clearer conception of the close and bitterly fought contest. Altho a couple men were temporarily laid out during the game, none were injured.

Hamline won the toss, and chose to defend the south goal. Schott kicked off to Timm at 3:00 o'clock and the game was on.

The first half was anybody's game and ended with a score of 0-0.

With seven minutes to play and on the 4th down, Timm successfully received a forward pass and crawled over the goal line for a touchdown. He also kicked goal.

Stout fought valiantly to even the score but was unsuccessful.

Mr. Brunkow accompanied the team, acting as manager, and remained over Sunday in the cities, visiting friends and relatives.

Y. M. C. A.

Reverend Buell spoke to the young men last Sunday morning, and explained clearly why every teacher should be a Christian. Mr. Rayburn will lead the meeting next Sunday morning.

It is said that every man, some time in his life, is master of his own destiny.

PRINT SHOP NEWS

Members of the present Senior classes in Printing are largely responsible for the mechanical production of the STOUTONIA thus far. The following list shows how the work has been divided among members of the class which meets, 8:00 to 10:30 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and 8:00 to 9:45 on Thursday and Friday:

J. Blum..... Mechanical Supt.
S. Schaefer... Foreman of Comp.
J. Ginsbach... Chief Proofreader
E. Schulz... Foreman of Presswork
P. Purdy... Foreman of Stonewk
J. Blackmun... Foreman of Dist.
F. Smith.... Foreman of Binding

Besides these men, Homer L. Stanton is enrolled in the class, from 9 o'clock on; and J. May will attend the rest of the semester from 8:00 to 9:00 o'clock.

The members of the Senior Printing class, 1:30 to 2:50 are: H. Clarke, Otto Hasse, Philip Minne, and P. Purdy.

Now that we have been able to print a four-page paper, we hope we shall be able to continue this size at least. We ask cooperation in this matter, especially from those who have a copy for the paper from time to time. The "dead line" will be at 1:30 on Tuesdays. This means that, if your copy is handed in after this hour, it may not be possible for the mechanical force to tear up the forms to insert late matter.

Miss Tunnell gave a violin solo, after which Dr. Westberg gave an address on "The Power and Beauty of Womanhood." This was a very impressive service.

PERSONALS

If Clarke was paid in full by Tews, how much do I. O. Dhein?

Bernice Nelson from Owatonna, Minnesota, is a guest at Tainter Hall.

Mabel Plummer gave a card party Saturday afternoon for twelve Stout girls.

All the girls at Tainter Hall took their breakfast up the Creek Saturday morning.

The Junior girls of the Tainter Hall, dressed in costume, enjoyed a spread in the south second floor room Friday night.

Bob Post, a Stout graduate, spent the week end in Menomonie on his way to the University of Chicago.

"Red" Schott was taken to the hospital Monday, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He is doing nicely at this writing.

Mable Ede spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in St. Paul. She took in the Football game between Stout and Hamline.

If Crockett had a penny would Ruth Matchett?

Miss Frances Carl shopped in Minneapolis Saturday.

Mrs. T. G. Pease from Anoka, Minnesota, spent the week end with her daughter Bertena Pease at the Annex.

Friday evening about 125 Stout people took the "Special" for Eau Claire to attend the concert given by Mlle. Jennie Dufau and Mr. Chas. Furvey.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly drove from Chippewa Falls Friday afternoon and took Joyce Kelly and Hazel Tuffley from the Bertha Tainter Annex home with them for the week end.

About thirty members of the Girl Hikers Club made an eight mile trip Saturday morning, walking to Irvington and back to Menomonie. About four miles of the trip was made in pouring rain.

Helen Barber was obliged to leave last week for her home in Waverly, Iowa, because of an injury to her foot. Miss Barber, who was President of the Stout Bible Class, will surely be missed by her friends.

Miss Harriet Koopman, an Annex girl, gave a week-end house party at her summer home at Lake Elmo for the following girls: Lydia Tarrant, Vera Blake, Charlotte Museus, Henrietta Wells, Edna Voelker, Mable Anderson, and Edith Zuarve.

Floyd C. Smith, who has been at the hospital for the last three weeks, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis, was pronounced well and released from the hospital on Monday. We all welcome Mr. Smith back among us.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

If you were in one of your classes, on the third floor of the main building, when such a cry was raised, what would you do? Drop every thing and bolt for the stairway, most likely. Well, why shouldn't you? Perhaps you would get there first. But all the others have the same idea in mind, and when there is a crowd of a hundred more or less excited individuals all trying to pass down a narrow stairway at once, some confusion is bound to result. Because of such little panics, incidents have occurred where there was plenty of time for everybody to get safely out, and yet all, thru their desire to be first, were either crushed or burned to death.

Yet human nature remains human nature, and the law of self-preservation is fundamental. Among lower animals, the law of the survival of the fittest is supreme. Man — and woman — is supposed to have risen above that law in its literal sense. Yet it is true that, under the stress of mortal terror, we revert to our animalistic tendencies. Does our education play no part in training us to be masters of our own emotions? If it does not, then it has failed in one of its most vital aims.

Shall we—Stout Students—at the sound of the alarm, which is probably false, rush like a bunch of sheep, with no thought for our neighbors, toward an exit that is large enuf, under normal conditions, to allow all to pass safely, and yet, which becomes, under pressure, simply a death trap?

Such an emergency is hardly to be expected, and yet, as long as there is the possibility, precautions must be taken. The management of the school has inaugurated a system of fire drills; which provides for the rapid emptying of the buildings and for an effectual means of fighting fire. If we hold back and look at this as a joke, or regard it as a waste of valuable time, the purpose of the whole thing will be spoiled.

Shall we not, then, enter heart and mind into the spirit of the affair, realizing what an important part it may play in some unlooked-for crisis, and give our support and hearty cooperation to the Faculty in this matter?

Let's get into line!

FOOTBALL

Altho Carleton defeated Stout by a score of 73—0, it was not a disgrace. They have one of the strongest teams in Minnesota, the advantage of excellent coaching, and men that have played together for the past three years. Stout was able to hold their own for the first three or four minutes of the game, then Carleton intercepted a forward pass and started piling up a score.

Both teams played in a sports-

THE GOOD FELLOW

Another week has passed, and with it came the Assembly meeting of Wednesday afternoon. How many of us were present to listen to the brief but impressive talk of Dr. Harvey's? How many of us were conspicuous by our absence, so as to necessitate new regulations? Remember, that here, as well as elsewhere, the masses must suffer for the sins of the few.

The good fellow. — Does this mean that this is the student, either the young lady or gentleman, who interferes with no one's affairs, does his own work in a somewhat satisfactory way, studies when studiously inclined, never attends church, and whose 'long suit' is social life in its various aspects?

Does it mean the student who is bright, but has no inclination toward work, who is willing to knock at every opportunity, who considers himself as the centre of attraction, and who always is ready to shift his share of the burden onto the shoulders of his neighbor?

Or does this mean the fellow who is ready to hold up his end, ready to render assistance wherever and whenever needed, who is courteous, good natured, and kind, considerate of the rights of others, and whose religious and moral standards are such as we have chosen to follow? Or does it mean the one who can enjoy social life in its various aspects, who may be compelled to break a rule, but always with permission and then to some definitely useful purpose, and who is far-sighted enough to see thru the present, and, in a measure, to prepare for the future?

Erdlitz and "Annette" Kellerman put up a good game, Sipple at quarterback handled his position well, Schott out-punted his opponent and Hager and Frogner played a good defensive game. The Stout lineup was: L. E., Frogner; L. T., Hager; L. G., Lampert; Center, Sprague; R. G., Kellerman; S. T., Olson; R. E., Tews; Q. B., Sipple; F. B., Schott; R. H., Blum; L. H., Erdlitz.

WE CAME BACK

At six in the morning eleven of the good and faithful hikers congregated at the gym. Some had previously partaker of breakfast others had not. The first few miles were cold ones, and the fellows kept their gloves on, the same as when they go to church. It soon warmed up, and when they reached the Wilson farm about 9:30, they were good and warm. They then doubled back to Knapp, reaching there at 10:45, where they had a good lunch. Leaving there at 11:45, they reached home at 2:40. The whole trip was 32 miles and was made at the average speed of $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles per hour.

The men who took the trip were: Rautio, Schaefer, Voss, Watson, Wicherski, Crockett, Buss, Holm, Hansen, Savage, and Elfner.

Ask Savage where he got sardines and what he paid for them. Voss knows the difference between the north and south when he can see the north star, but it did not shine Saturday morning.

Y. M. C. A.

The young men had an unusual treat at Y. M. C. A. last Sunday in hearing Mr. Rayburn speak on "The Essentials of Manhood". He encouraged us to be brave enough to stand by our faith and belief, and not to be blown about as chaff by the wind. As Christians we should stand for character and not feel ashamed to be rebuked by the scoffer. "Any old thing can swear, drink, gamble, suck a cigarette, lie, or scoff, but it takes a man to serve Christ."

At a special meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at 6:45 on Monday evening. Mr. Rayburn spoke to the men on "God's Partnership." By verses on the blackboard, he showed the relationship between God's part of the contract and man's part. We know Mr. Rayburn's messages have touched a number of young men whom we especially invite to join us.

Mr. Sexauer of the Agricultural School will speak next Sunday. Students of all the schools are urged to hear him and share in the benefits of the services.

Committee chairmen will announce their various committees. Be there and share your burden of the work with your fellow students.

PRINT SHOP NEWS

The Junior printing class has been doing as much of the mechanical work on the paper as has been possible. The work has been entirely new to most of the men and several weeks of study and practice have been necessary before much work could be expected from these students. Two and sometimes three students have worked each day on the Stoutonia securing the same experience as those who have been setting exercises. The paper has been a real outlet for printing some of the type set up in this way

Members of the present class are: J. Dockar, J. A. Ginsbach, Carl Karlson, Delbert Myers, Carl Neupert, E. Newcomb, Leonard Olson, Lee Olen, J. Patalo, Harry Peterson, H. Peterson, E. Rautio, Fred Reher, L. Robinson, A. Ro-meis.

The six weeks with these men has slipped by rapidly. They have enjoyed the work very much and most of them regret that the time is so near ended. As much as we have enjoyed Section II we look forward with interest to meeting and working with Section I.

PERSONALS

Henrietta Atkinson spent the week end in Minneapolis.

Whom did Knutson call on at the Annex Sat., Oct. 9?

Harold Zillmann, of the class of '15 spent the week end with friends in Menomonie.

Saturday afternoon, Hazel Ellicson, a Lynnwood girl, fell and dislocated her nose.

Marjory Goodman, Helen Treat, and Mable Ede went to St. Paul Saturday.

Miss Bisbey and Miss Williams gave a little party in their rooms Saturday evening for about twelve girls.

Monica Flanigan of Minneapolis spent the week end at Lynnwood Hall as the guest of Gertrude Conway.

Wanted — A maid experienced in packing suit cases, applicants see Mary Maclin.

Helen Tompkins and Letta Neilson from the Annex went to their home in Mankato, Minnesota for the week end.

Anyone wishing to take skating lessons call on "Doc" Mc Keon; she can even teach gold-fish to skate.

Raymond Heine, Class of '14, is a visitor in town to-day.

Since Helen Barber left is Eiffel Holm?

The Seniors of the M. T. department are blest with a "Jitney" Buss.

Was Happy (Langer) happy when Gladys was glad while she was Blum'en?

Rex Bartlett is teaching Manual Training this year at Lake Stevens, Washington. Good luck Rex!

The Misses Maclin, Denninger, Grimstad, and Nemeck, from the Annex went to the Homemakers last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fieweger from Menasha, Wis. spent Saturday in Menomonie visiting their daughter Gertrude Fieweger at the Annex.

Margaret Kalk from Chippewa Falls has been visiting Joyce Kelley and Helen Greenwood at the Annex.

Dr. Harvey is in Philadelphia attending the conference of educators called by the Russell Sage Foundation. He will read an important paper at this conference.

Mr. Richard Westland and Mr. Adolph Simpson of Eau Claire spent Sunday with Miss Edna Volker and Miss Charlotte Museums.

DIRECTORY OF STUDENTS AND FACULTY

The Stoutonia will publish the directory of the students and faculty beginning next week. Why not keep copies of the paper on file and have a directory?

GAVELEERS

Time.—7:15, P.M. Wed. Oct. 13
Place.—Room Thirty Five.

The program was great! Had you been there that would have been your opinion too. How many of you men visited the Panama Pacific Exposition this Summer? The Gaveleers were there just a week ago, at the invitation of Mr. Curran. His vivid description and carefully prepared charts brought us to the scene of the event, showed us the layout of the grounds, and the location of each palace. It was like reading a book.

We had scarcely come back from this trip, when Mr. Holm took us with him and his gang of railroad men, to see some reconstruction work done on the Great Northern Railway. It reminded all of us of the earlier days of iron trail building, with its various incidents and events.

Mr. Bowdler on "Mixing," related a number of his experiences along this particular line, and the benefits that may readily be derived by doing so.

The crowd was there. The largest ever. The membership roll has increased rapidly since Sept. There is room for a few more. There are many on the waiting list. Get in touch with the membership committee.

FOOTBALL

That's the way our hopes went when the team came home. The first report suited us just right, and we were loath to change our ideas. But "Truth crushed to earth," you know.

It really was a disappointment to learn that our team had lost to River Falls, after the report came in that we were the victors; and we thot for awhile that they were trying to joke us. But no such luck.

They say that the third time is the charm. Lets hope that Fate got her dates mixed and will remember us next Saturday. Everybody come out to the game and help the team to win.

HIKERS

Why didn't you go to Cedar Falls with the Hikers on Saturday? They left the Gym at 7:00 and were in Cedar Falls at 8:25. The Club spent half an hour going thru the power plant and started for Menomonie at 9:00 arriving at 10:30.

As pigeon catchers the Hikers would receive below zero, but Schafer said "I had my hands on one."

Do you realize that hiking is the healthiest and most congenial sport in Stout? It lasts thru the entire school year and you do not have to be an athlete to participate. There is no limit to the number that can belong to the Hikers. Get in on some of the good times and fresh air, by joining this week. Give your name to Crockett, the secretary, at once.

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philomathean Society met October 3., and elected the following officers: President, Kathryn McHenry; Vice-President, Rose Cashman; Secretary and Treasurer, Zoe Schafer. Miss Phillips was chosen as faculty adviser.

The membership is limited to fifty. A board of censorship, appointed by the president, will determine who shall become a member.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

When we go to some athletic event in which our school is interested, we like to hear good, rousing applause for any good play, and feel the enthusiasm that permeates the crowd. We call this school spirit. But does it extend no farther than to athletic events?

Surely we can apply it to advantage in our everyday school life; in our relations with the Faculty and our fellow students. School Spirit signifies fair play. Just think for a minute. Are you playing fair to the school? What about the little card of regulations given you at the beginning of the year? Surely you have not forgotten it? The next time you are tempted to break one of these rules, think what you would call a student who refused to applaud a good play on the football field, and then apply that name to yourself. Do you get the connection?

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. boys were encouraged by a brief account of the work as carried on at the larger colleges, as related by Mr. Sexaur.

The outline of this work by the chairman of the committee shows that the work is certainly progressing fast. The young men of the school of the city were extended a special invitation to come in and work with the Stout Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Steinke will lead the meeting next Sunday and he will have something worth hearing. Mr. Nelson will lead the singing. Mr. Bigelow is making the music one of the best parts of the services. Be there next Sunday morning at 8:30 and help make the "Y" what you would like it to be.

GLEE CLUB

The notice for the organizing of the Stout Glee Club, was responded to by thirty volunteers. All the students were given a tryout and the following were selected: Appleton, Bigelow, Bradshaw, Buss, Crippe, Dockar, Feist, Goodman, Hanson, Hasse, Jones, Kellerman, Lamb, Larson, Lampert, Nelson, Neupert, Purdy, Roise, and Saxhaug.

The first practice was held last Monday night in the gym. After an hour of lively singing a short business meeting was held. The regular election of officers takes place at the close of the first semester, so Mr. Bigelow, as president and Mr. O. Saxhaug, as vice president, retain their office from last year. Mr. S. Nelson was elected to fill the vacancy of treasurer, and Mr. O. Hansen as secretary.

The club will draw up a constitution and the organization will be made permanent.

Spend a few minutes to find out whether a thing is worth doing, before you spend hours in doing it.

PERSONAL

Mr. Forest Jones went to Wabasha Saturday morning.

Miss Caroline Helmer left Friday for a month's vacation.

Miss Esther McCreger went home to Minneapolis for the week end.

Harriet Koopman of the Annex, spent Saturday and Sunday in St. Paul.

Edna Boeberg's brother from Eau Claire, spent the week end in Menomonie.

Miss Geneveve Field returned Monday from a month's vacation, which she spent at Osseo.

Miss Esther Sullivan from St. Paul spent the week end with Ruth Sullivan at the Annex.

Dr. Vaughsburg from Green Bay spent Sunday with the Monk Twins at the Bertha Tainter Hall.

Edna Aune was taken to the hospital Thursday morning, to be treated for heart trouble.

Mrs. Bouchard from Eau Claire, spent the week end with her daughter, Helen, at the Annex.

Miss Margaret Wiemer's mother, two aunts, and three cousins, have been visiting her at Lynnwood.

Fifteen of the Girl Hikers walked to Rusk Saturday morning returning before twelve o'clock.

Miss Doris Ammerpohl's mother and father from Janesville Wis., have been visiting her at Lynnwood.

The Misses Bruce, Ware, Koch, Carey and Freeman entertained the "Pee Wee's" at the Royal Hotel Saturday evening.

Miss Leedom has had a serious attack of bronchitis, bordering on pneumonia. We are all hoping she may have a speedy recovery.

The second of the regular Stout dances was given Saturday night in the Armory. The crowd was much better than usual, and the music had all kinds of "pep" in it. The "pep" was surely appreciated by everyone.

Joyce Kelly and Helen Greenwood went in a car, to their home at Chippewa Falls Saturday afternoon.

SHOP NOTES

The class in Cabinet Construction has started their chafing dish cabinets. Christmas is coming girls, so polish up your chafing dishes.

We understand that the clean up period in the Brick Laying Shop is just as enjoyable as it was last year.

A large number of the Juniors have started on new work this week. Just a word to the wise, fellows:- start out strong, and keep your note-books up to date. They're valuable.

The work on the balconies in the Trade Building is progressing nicely. There will soon be lots of additional space for work and for class rooms.

How about our practice teaching? Are we inclined to slacken up a little toward the end? Let's work a little harder the next few weeks, and finish up right. The critics can discriminate between the workers and the shirkers.

We wonder if Psychology is still the Bugbear of the Juniors.

DEMONSTRATIONS

We have among us, some girls who some day will win renown as demonstrators. Mabel Anderson will be among the first to win distinction in this line. In giving a demonstration on the preparation of grape fruit, she held the attention of the class in a way that many professional demonstrators might envy. She began by saying that grape fruit is like a certain little girl, who, when she was good was very very good and when she was bad, was horrid. She emphasized the fact that grape fruit should be allowed to stand in sugar for several hours before serving, saying that it is bad enough to get up in the morning without having something bitter handed you, the first thing.

Thruout the whole demonstration her droll humor made itself evident, making the lesson one which will long be remembered by those who heard her.

We are always on the lookout for originalities in almost every line, and we welcome them, especially if they are practical.

One of the most clever demonstrations given last week was the one given by Miss Frances Martin, on the preparation of bananas for breakfast. Miss Martin worked on the theory that the indigestibility of raw bananas is due to the fact that they elude mastication, so she proceeded to put a banana thru a ricer. The result, when garnished with a flower cut from a red apple, was a very attractive and easily digested breakfast dish.

ASSEMBLY

In the true sense of the word efficiency has reference to machines and machinery and not to people as we often hear it used now. Efficiency is a very modern word and we find no reference to it in the works of the earlier writers as used in the sense that it is at present.

In the "Journal of Education" we find a few lines of poetry on efficiency.

"Efficiency, Efficiency,
I'm just a wee bit tired of thee,
Despite thy glittering brilliancy,
Despite thy self-sufficiency,
Despite the world-wide cry for thee,
I'm just a wee bit tired of thee,
Efficiency, Efficiency."

When we heard the wonderful music by Prince Lei Lani Wednesday evening and had the thought brought to us, "Is Efficiency All?" it made us stop to wonder.

The music given us by the Victrola Company was surely a worth-while advertisement.

While we all appreciate the regular assemblies and are conscious of their educational value to us, a variety is welcomed.

Although we had the "Sacrificial Song," sung to us Wednesday afternoon, the students all seem to be thoroughly alive as yet.

RAIN

We wonder why a little rain makes everything take on an indigo hue. Walk up the street on a rainy morning, and notice the gloomy expressions on the faces of the passers by. It's funny enough to make one forget the rain. Just because it is cloudy to-day, is no sign that the sun will not shine to-morrow. Hope for it at least; for Hope is the best friend we have.

Do you realize that a gloomy expression on one face will tend to make every face around it gloomy?

Come on, cheer up. What is the use of growling over a little damp weather? Lay it to the war, or to what you will, but get rid of the responsibility and GRIN.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting Tuesday. The topic of the meeting was "We," and each Cabinet Member gave a short sketch of her work in the organization, so as to enable new members to cooperate better with her. The enthusiasm shown was highly commendable. Come out next time, Tues. Nov. 9, and sing away your troubles. The soul suffers from lack of recreation, as does the body. Let us strive to keep the balance even.

FOOTBALL

Anything that isn't a defeat, must be put down as a victory, so we know where we stand. Lay it to what we will, but that little diversion on Friday evening put the fight into the team. They knew that we were back of them. Try it yourself once. Try tackling a bear alone, and then bring your lady friend next time, and see what the bear thinks. That's just what happened on the field Saturday to the line — almost. But why say more.

We saw how close our fellows came — almost, but not quite. Then again we held our breaths when the condition was reversed, when it almost, but not quite, happened. Many of us, no doubt, were surprised at the result, but let us remember that one word "Support," and three-fourths of the mystery is solved. We learned to, that, "Good goods are done up in small packages," when we think of the smaller fellows. Not throwing mud at the heavier fellows, tho; there wasn't any to throw. The girls sure demonstrated this fact, between halves.

Wasn't it Timm, whom we all feared, thundering across the white streaks, with the pigskin? The fellows seemed to just fall when he came! Did you see Frogner give him a bunny hug? Each and every individual on our team deserves all the praise we can give them, but say, let's do it orally! Let's put in a word for the fellows who were physically unable to scrap last Saturday, on account of previous games.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is alive and growing, the enrollment has increased to twenty-two, the new members being Messrs. Stanton and Wicherski. The club is still open for those who wish to try out as tenors.

With the aid of Mr. Gregg as director and Miss Olson as pianist, together with the interest shown by the members, the club gives promise of being a very successful one this year.

Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday morning the meeting was conducted for the first time this year by one of our own members. Mr. Steinke's subject was "The Christian Athlete." The fact that one of us has started this, will make it easier for the next one to follow. It is not necessary to repeat the contents of the speech. Those who came were well repaid.

Next Sunday Mr. Davis will speak to us in a way that will be profitable to all.

GAVELEERS

The club enjoyed a decidedly interesting Shakesperian program at its last meeting. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Eslinger the members on the program portrayed some of the characters of "The Merchant Of Venice," as was originally intended by the great English bard. The court room scene was reproduced in veritable "Ben Greet" style.

Separate readings were also given by the players, and Mr. Eslinger read several extracts from Dr. Samuel Johnson's preface on Shakespeare.

PERSONAL

Dr. Williams of Chicago was a Sunday guest of Miss Elsie Middleton, Lynwood—How silently a noble mind doth draw another nigh. HA! HA!!

In Class Talks the students are criticized on the subject matter of their speeches. We wonder if the Faculty would accept criticisms on their talks in that regard? Plenty have been given; shall we print them?

Miss Mildred Rock spent the week end out of town.

Jessie Fredenberg and Catherine Freeman spent the week end at Eau Claire visiting friends.

Dorothy Hart and Bertina Pease went home to spend Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Marian Carey made the only touch-down Saturday afternoon.

The Misses Esther Grimstad, Esther Denninger, Mildred Nemeck and Mary Maclin returned to the Annex from the Home-makers.

Harriet Koopman has her mother and father visiting her from St. Paul.

A young lady at the Football game was heard to remark "Oh, dear I'm afraid they are going to have to play another inning to play off the tie."

Stout Alumni Luncheon of Minneapolis and St. Paul at Donaldson's, 12:30 Sat. 60 c a plate.

Any guests in the city then are welcome. Notify Marjorie Sime, Y. W. C. A. St. Paul or Miss Dana, Central H.S. by Thurs. night.

HIKERS

The Hikers have hiked 1000 miles to date and are still going! Why don't you join them and get in on the fun and good training?

Nine members of the club went to Downsville Saturday, leaving the gym. at 6:05, and arriving at their destination at 7:50.

The bunch is going to make a trip to Eau Claire next Saturday morning, leaving the gym. at 5:00.

A Corner of the Armory

SENIOR PROM

The Senior class has undoubtedly lived up to its reputation by giving one of the most successful Senior Proms ever given. The Prom given by them last year is certainly worth recalling, but we can say without the least doubt that the one given last Friday night was decidedly better, and one that is almost impossible to surpass.

It was held in the Stout Armory which had been decorated and transformed into the most beautiful scene imaginable for this splendid occasion. The hall was decorated with boughs and white cloth; also cornstalks and jack-o-lanterns added to the beauty of the scene. The ceiling was arched and the rude girders and walls were entirely hidden from view. Subdued lighting was secured by means of Japanese lanterns. Scattered around the hall were attractive cozy corners comfortably fitted with pillows, and blankets and rustic benches, which made very comfortable resting places. Miss Evelyn Van Stratum was chairman of the decorating committee.

The large number of students were welcomed by the reception committee. The Grand March followed, and it was surprising how attractive it was, and how it was so nicely carried out, considering the floor space and the number of students. The orchestra was placed in the middle of the floor, and they rendered some very excellent music. The program was equally enjoyed by students and faculty as everyone reported having had an excellent time. For those who did not dance an entertainment was given on the third floor.

The Senior class deserves considerable praise for their excellent affair, and their original scheme

If you skate, get ready for the ice soon.

We're on the eve of the canoeing season.

Facts are facts. How about the weather?

FOOTBALL

Last Saturday we beat River Falls by a score of 19-0. From the outset the game seemed to be in Stout's favor. Both teams played an interesting, and exciting game, which was well attended by a crowd of rooters. Three touchdowns were made. Becker scored two by exciting end runs, aided by good interference. Frogner scored the third by receiving a well executed forward pass, and succeeded in crossing the goal line. The players who received slight injuries were Erdlitz, Hager and Sipple.

The student body and Faculty were well represented at the game. This shows the spirit that we need here at Stout. If this attitude continues, athletics promise to be more of a success than ever before. Now that the football season is nearly ended, we must preserve our pep until basketball holds our interest. Next Saturday Stout will probably have another game here. Play hard fellows and win another victory.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y.M.C.A. held its regular meeting last Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Holm. Mr. Davis of the Agriculture School gave an effective talk on "The Bible in Business" which was surely enjoyed by all who heard it. He gave us several good maxims, a few of which are:

"Perseverance conquers all things."

"Drive thy business and let not thy business drive thee."

"Choose an occupation and stick to it."

"Keep good company or none."

When such maxims are used by the most efficient business men, as Mr. Davis told us, why wouldn't it be possible for us to do likewise.

Next Sunday Mr. Edgar Schulz will speak to us at the usual hour.

For whose benefit were the Stout buildings erected, the "JANITORS," teachers or students? Will some one please answer this question in the next issue of the STOUTONIA?

HIKERS

"Roll Call! 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, Ump-de-da-da, Boom! Boom!!"

The Hikers went to Eau Claire Saturday and they sure had some time. They left when most of the people of Stout were still sawing wood. They saw the sun come up in the East, and make the trip to the centre of the sky. So you see, they started at 5:00 in the morning and reached Eau Claire at noon, with two stop-overs of half an hour each, at Elk Mound and Brady's Store. They took on supplies at these two places.

The Hikers Quartet was heard at its high mark all the way, singing to the cows and other unfortunate beasts on the roadside, all the popular airs of the last century.

At Eau Claire the Hikers were royally treated by the Y. M. C. A. where they had a shower bath, followed by a plunge in the pool. The hikers returned on the 2:20 out of Eau Claire.

For the benefit of those that stayed home and tore down the decorations for the Prom, there will be another hike to Eau Claire Saturday, leaving the gym. at 5:00.

CANNING

The first six weeks of Senior Cookery were spent, as usual, in the canning, pickling and preserving of fruits and vegetables, the products to be used by the people at Bertha Tainter Hall and the "House Management" House. Three hundred and fifty quarts of peaches, pears, plums, pickles, jam and beets, sixteen quarts of grape juice and ninety-five glasses of jelly went to Bertha Tainter Hall alone. By using this plan, much more of this work can be given the students than if there was no definite use for the fruit and vegetables prepared in this way. The girls are able to enjoy, thru the winter months, the results of some of their own work.

WANTED A NAME

Man may come and man may go but his name may go on forever, and so it is with a book. The Stout Annual is lacking a name. All the other School Annuals have one. Think of an appropriate name; write it on the slip contained in this paper, and drop in an Annual box, located in the upper and lower halls of the main building.

All names must be in Friday night, Nov. 12.

If the name handed in by you is chosen it shall appear in the 1916 Annual, and to you shall be awarded one of the Annuals.

Remember what a name means.

LYNWOOD HALL PARTY

Friday night the Lynwood Seniors gave the Juniors a novel party. They requested the guests to wear their hair down their backs and presented them with green hair ribbons. At the appointed hour, the Juniors appeared in open confession of their condition in green caps labeled JUNIORS.

The party proceeded to the Grand, where a large section was reserved for them. After returning to the hall, the Juniors were subjected to a clever initiation. Dainty refreshments were served later in the evening. All went to their rooms feeling that the Seniors were splendid hostesses, and all were better acquainted with the entire Lynwood family.

WHERE WE STAND

After the last few issues of the STOUTONIA, or rather, after the football team had succeeded in getting some hold on glory, kicks began to be registered regarding the attitude of the paper toward the athletic events. Incidentally, these have been made by the members of the team or by those closely associated with it. We wonder if that points anything out?

The main trouble seems to be the fact that we are running a school paper, and not a sporting edition. We print a write-up of the game, and not a stereotyped form of score, positions and slang. Of course, it would be nice if every fellow could have his name before the public in print, each week; but we can't see that the case is warranted by the facts. If a man does something very much out of the ordinary — like making a touchdown, for instance — he gets his share of the write-up; if he doesn't, he gets sore and complains about it.

We have heard it mentioned that football should have at least one page of publicity, even at the expense of some of that "sissy dope," meaning, doubtless, the Y. W., the Y. M., the Gaveleers or the Hikers. Of course, these are organizations in which less than the total number of football men are interested.

We have a box in the hall, meant to receive written contributions to the STOUTONIA. If you have a kick, write it out, and sign your name to it. We will not print your name if you are afraid of that sort of publicity.

The odor of gas is stifling; we prefer that of ink.

STATE ASS'N NOTES

Of the four numbers on the program given by the Home Economics section of the The Teachers' Association at Milwaukee, last week, two were furnished by Stout Alumni; the secretary, a Stout Alumnus, and the newly elected president. We have reason to be proud of such honors, but it is up to us to live up to the standards set. Keep a-going!

GAVELEERS

With O. W. Hasse as chairman of the program committee tonight the club will be entertained by a musical program.

Briefly mentioned, the program will be a selection by the Stout Quartette, a solo by S. Nelson, a reading by W. Wicherski, and A. Tews, an instrumental duet by Neupert and R. M. Bradshaw, and other instrumental numbers.

Altho a week late, the halloween program last Wednesday evening was enjoyed by all present. Halloween yarns were spun in answer to roll call, the origin of Halloween was related by H. G. Clarke, and a "Halloween Tale" read by A. C. Erickson.

HIKERS

Four members of the Hikers went to Downsville last Saturday leaving the gym. at 6:40 and reaching Downsville at 8:30. The return trip was started at 9:00 and finished at 11:30. Watch the bulletin board for the notice of the hike this week.

Little sayings from exam. papers. "The chief occupation of the Swiss people is raising dairy cattle and guides for the tourists."

FOOTBALL

The Football team will leave Saturday for Minneapolis where they will compete with the Minnesota Aggies. This is the last game of the season for our team, and the men are anxious to win, as this will be, for many, the last opportunity they will have to play for Stout. Tews and Krick will not be able to take part in this game, owing to injuries received during the week. The rest of the team are in the pink of condition and expect to win.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting Tues., Nov. 6. Miss Baker and Miss Kugel gave a report of the Leaders Conference at Chicago, at which they represented our society. Many suggestions as to the work to follow here, were given.

Miss Richardson, who is the secretary of this field, will be with us Nov. 20, 21. Come out and learn the the plans for the rally. The busiest people always find time to do the greatest variety of things. Are you busy? Well then, be out at Y. W. C. A. Nov. 20.

CHRYSANTHEMUM LUNCHEON

The members of the Home Economics Faculty were most delightfully entertained at a luncheon given by the Misses Della Payne, Elsie Isenberg, Edith Zaring, Lorenza Schantz Hansen, and Francis Dunning, at the home of Mrs. G. W. Thompson, on Saturday, November, the sixth. The color scheme of yellow was carried out in the decorations, which consisted of chrysanthemums and yellow daisies. Soft strains of Hawaiian music added charm to the occasion.

The success of this luncheon is only another evidence of the many capabilities developed here by Stout students.

PERSONAL

Miss Irwin spent the week end in Milwaukee.

Mr. Leyse and Miss Gertrude Leyse visited Viola Leyse at the Annex last week.

Miss Imogene Pearce went shopping to Eau Claire Saturday.

Miss Kugel attended the state convention in Milwaukee this week end.

The Misses Voelker and Lydia Terant spent the week end in Durand and Eau Claire.

The girl hikers could not go on their hike Saturday because, as usual, their captain did not show up.

Mr. Dave Truax and Mr. Walter Boberg, from Eau Claire, visited friends in Menomonie, over Sunday.

Mr. Leonard Allison, who is on the Carlton Football Squad spent Sunday with Miss Lucille Welch.

"Art" Rolfe spent Sunday with Miss Olson of Lynwood, on his return from Beloit, where he had assisted Carleton in effecting a victory in football the day previous.

Miss Bernice Nolen of Tainter Hall was surprised Sunday afternoon by friends who were motoring thru.

Mrs. Knight from Ft. Wayne, Indiana, is visiting her daughter Dorothy Knight at 1012 Sixth St.

Arthur Schwing from Owatonna, Minnesota, spent the week end in Menomonie.

Olga Runstrom of Ironwood, Michigan, and Allan Hahn were married Friday night. They will make their home in Bismarck, South Dakota.

Great excitement reigned in Tainter Hall last Saturday afternoon, when a big 57 pound box of eats was delivered to the Monk twins. The fried chicken, cakes, and all other dainties which the box contained were enjoyed immensely by the Hall girls Saturday evening. Have a birthday again, soon, girls.

Mrs. Hahn, looking over fittings in the plumbing department—"If an Elbow and a Tee were to marry, would that make a union?"

MASQUERADE PARTY

Saturday night the Seniors of the Annex entertained the Juniors with a masquerade party. Everyone gathered in the living room about 7:30 and soon the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Harriet Koopman, were heard, and a wedding party filed down from the second floor. Lottie Peterson officiated as the minister, Henrietta Wells was the bride, and Marie Carpenter the groom.

The bridal party consisted of Mayfred McKenzie and Joyce Kelley as flower girls; R. MacLin as best man, Imogene Pearse, the maid of honor; and the bride's parents, who were Ethel Feldkirchner, the mother, and Ouanita Geffert, the father. After the wedding, cookies were served by the Chinese cook, Ethel Van Stratum.

Many different characters were represented, as: "Gold Dust Twins," "Clowns," etc.

During the evening the Juniors were given a chance to impersonate the Seniors. At the end of the evening Buster Brown gave a "Resolve" that the Seniors party was one huge success and that the Juniors would in turn try to do the same for the Juniors next year.

We regret that we could not print all of the football article, as it was an excellent review of the team's work during the past season. -Editor

With only four of last year's men reporting for practice the student Coaches, Schott, Hager and Frogner, faced a serious problem, for Stout had the heaviest schedule in her history. The Coaches were agreeably surprised to find quite a bit of material in the Junior class.

Most teams have a paid coach whose sole duty it is to develop and turn out a winning team and who makes athletics his life work, while we depend upon student coaches and in the majority of cases these student Coaches have no previous experience whatever. When one considers that our team has only one hour a day three nights of the week for practice, added to the above facts, one can't help but pronounce Stout's worst athletic year a success and this year's football season far from being the worst.

With a dozen of this year's squad remaining, around which to build a team, Stout should enjoy a better season yet next year, for the prospects are far brighter for next year's team than they were for this.

BLAME THE EDITOR

For the past five or six weeks, we have heard a number of complaints of various natures, regarding the material that goes into the paper. We will not repeat them, but we shall give a little explanation, so the blame may be placed on the proper individual.

Each week the staff meets and plans the paper for the following week, allotting a certain amount of space to a certain write-up. Very often a social function of some sort takes place, and a report is submitted for publication. This is not expected when the paper is planned, and consequently, if such a report does not find its way into the paper, the participants feel slighted. It is not, however, the intention of the editor to treat material in this manner. Neither do we wish to convey the idea that we do not want your material.

Frequently, too, we have more material than we could possibly publish, and as we have not the mechanical ability to publish a larger paper, some material must be omitted. However, if the nature of the report will permit, it will appear in the following issue.

Some time ago, an organization submitted a report for the paper, which, thru an oversight of the editor failed to be published. Since that time this organization has submitted no report. The editor wishes to take this opportunity to apologize for this negligence, and will not permit it to occur later.

If there is anything that goes wrong with the material for the paper, blame the Editor. While the other members of the staff submit material, reports, etc., the editor is there to take every ounce of the blame. Don't blame the others. Blame the Editor. Do not only tell the others of it; tell the editor. Write out your complaint, and give your name, tell it orally, or talk by hand. You will find his name on the first line under the heading, "Board of Editors." Have him pointed out to you, if you don't know who he is. He is more than willing to carry away all the blame, no matter if it will make two loads.

HIKERS

Six bold and faithful members of the Hikers braved the cold Saturday morning last, and made the trip to Knapp. The balance of the club, as near as can be learned, spent the better part of the morning sleeping. Why not stop this lazy habit of sleeping late on Saturday and get the fresh air that is made for our use?

Last Saturday's trip started at 6:00, arriving at Knapp 8:50. The return trip was started at 9:35, and ended at 12:35.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. met at the usual hour last Sunday morning. Mr. R. H. Rogers spoke to us in his usual pleasing manner on the subject, "Our Working Creed." There is no doubt that the talk was enjoyed and appreciated by all who heard it. The following are only few of the vital questions which Mr. Rogers put before us, and truly they are worth careful consideration: "Are my actions such that they are going to make my associates act differently." "Is your creed such that you are a positive influence in your community or, is it negative?" "What can we as students or as teachers bring to our work in the line of a creed?" Next Sunday Mr. Holm will speak to us at the usual hour.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

A most unique and original entertainment was provided for the Gavelers last Wednesday evening, by O. Hasse. We heard both vocal and instrumental selections; the former being given by the Stout Quartet and the latter by Messrs. Timbers, Nelson, Bigelow, and Shatto. In addition to this, Tews and Wicherski gave very interesting talks on the history of music.

This evening P. F. A. Minne will be chairman of the program committee. The program will consist of a talk, "A Vocation," by A. Hippaka; selection on the bagpipes, by J. Dockar; and a reading by H. Steinke.

There is a standing invitation to all who wish to attend the programs.

PERSONAL

What does it cost to get a co-education?

Miss Saline Marks spent Saturday shopping in Eau Claire.

Miss Gertrude Fieweger spent the week end in Eau Claire.

Miss Grace Augustine went to Minneapolis Friday night.

Miss Mildred Nemeck went to the Cities for the Chicago—Minnesota game.

Miss Louise Williams is reported to be ill with the measles.

Mr. Thomas Christoffel has been ill with the measles for the past week.

Mr. M. J. Bruce spent Sunday with his daughter Beatrice Bruce at the Annex.

The Misses Sue Masal and Laura Hamilton were the guests of Harriet Koopmann over the week end.

Miss Hilda Ashback went to Minneapolis Monday afternoon to attend her brother's wedding.

Mrs. Hulbush has been visiting her daughter Nora on a return trip from Indiana.

Miss Helen Greenwood, who was taken home last Thursday on account of a slight attack of appendicitis, has returned to school.

Mr. O. E. Brunkow spent the week end in Minneapolis visiting relatives and friends. He attended the Chicago—Minnesota game.

Mr. J. Steendahl, and Mr. L. O. Olson spent the week end in the cities, the latter visiting relatives and friends at the "U." They saw the Chicago - Minnesota game.

Mrs. Hahn again visits the plumbing department and remarks, "If the boiler sprung a leak would the kitchen sink."

An aircraft squadron has attacked Nancy. Will this war on women never cease?

ASSEMBLY

A most unusual and interesting demonstration on the resuscitation of a drowned person was given at our weekly assembly last Wednesday. Presented at a time of the year when accidents of this nature are very apt to occur, it showed us, in a very vivid manner, that presence of mind, combined with tireless energy and a thorough knowledge of the necessary operations required, are absolutely essential in an emergency of this kind.

Mr Mauthe was very ably assisted by Mr. Becker in this demonstration, while Dr. Butler explained to us the principle of the operation, and the use of the pulmotor.

Following this, the Boy's Glee Club rendered a number of excellent vocal selections. The first number was, "I Think of Thee, Margareta," by Meyer Helmind, followed by the selection "Dat Watermillion," by T. P. Westendorf. In the latter the solo was carried by Mr. S. E. Nelson. The last number was "The Sunday School Scholar," which was also very good. Miss Fannie Olson was the accompanist.

The singing was certainly appreciated by all, and many wish that we could hear the glee club each week.

THESIS DINNER

The first practical thesis of this year was given Friday night, when a semi-formal dinner was served to the members of the Faculty and a few of their friends. The menu was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Celery	Olives	Jelly
Roast	Turkey—Dressing
Mashed Potatoes	Peas	Gravy
Cranberry Ice
Rolls	Butter
Perfection Salad	Wafers
Mince and Pumpkin Pie
Cheese	Coffee

Nuts	Raisins
------	---------

Every item given in the menu was prepared in an appetizing manner and each course served with a precision and grace that showed the thoroughness of the training our young ladies are receiving.

The music and readings given at the close of the dinner were much appreciated.

The decorations of smilax and fruit baskets made of pumpkins were as appropriate to the season as was the Thanksgiving menu.

The problem of the dinner was most excellently planned and executed by the Misses Beatrice Bruce, Beata Moline, Olga Nogard, Marian Rollins, Sarah Anderson and Vere Murray.

A BOY'S REMARKS TO HIS STOMACH

What's the matter with you—ain't
I always been your friend?
Ain't I been a partner to you? All my pennies don't I spend
In getting nice things for you?
Don't I give you lots of cake?
Say, Stummick, what's the matter,
that you had to go and ache?
Why, I loaded you with good things yesterday. I gave you more Potatoes, squash and turkey than you'd ever had before!
I gave you nuts and candy, pumpkin pie and chocolate cake—
And last night when I got to bed you had to go and ache!
Say, what's the matter with you?
Ain't you satisfied at all?
I gave you all you wanted; you was hard just like a ball;
And you couldn't hold another bit of
puddin', yet last night
You ached mos' awful, Stummick;
that ain't treatin' me just right!
I've been a friend to you, I have;
why ain't you been a friend of mine?
They gave me castor oil last night
because you made me whine.
I'm awful sick this mornin', and I'm feelin' mighty blue,
Becoz you don't appreciate the things
I do for you!

giving vacation.

PATRONESS' PARTIES

Most delightful, informal parties were given Saturday, in a number of the homes of the city, to the students and teachers of the Home Economics Department. Each Patroness was hostess to a group of fourteen girls who were allotted to her. The hours were from three to five, and simple refreshments were served by each hostess at four o'clock.

The giving of these parties is a most charming way these ladies have
of showing their friendliness toward the girls. The girls, in turn, are deeply appreciative of this kindliness.

JUNIOR MEETING

A meeting of the Junior class was held last Thursday, at 4:15, in the Armory, for the purpose of electing permanent officers. The following were elected:

President — Mr. Lamb
Vice President — Miss Cooley
Treasurer — Mr. Peterson
Secretary — Miss Boberg

Y. M. C. A.

To be sure, last Sunday morning
was a bright and frosty one, but that was not all. Under the leadership of Mr. Erickson the Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting.

Mr. Harshbarger reviewed the question of "Prayer" in a very forcible manner. The speaker brot out many of the underlying principles which we so often neglect. Thru illustrations the talk was made very effective.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Richardson, the Field Secretary of this district, was with the Stout society last week end. Saturday afternoon, the patronesses gave a tea to the students. The entertainment provided in the different homes was very unique and the girls all enjoyed the diversion from the regular week end reaction.

Sunday P. M. a Vesper Service was held so that Miss Richardson might become acquainted with our society and give us an idea of the work done elsewhere.

HAVE YOU A HOBBY?

That exercise is good for health and conducive to continual good health is an axiom. Exercise and recreation should be inseparable. A person's daily exercise ought to be his hobby. No matter how poor the hobby; if it induces out door exercise, it is justifiable.

All out door games such as: tennis, golf, baseball, basketball, and football afford excellent exercise. Three good games capable of affording proper exercise to those most needing it, considering age, and occupation are golf, tennis and croquet.

A gymnasium holds a valuable place. The number of games that may be played in a gymnasium gives good opportunity for recreation to those who have access to it.

After all there is only one form of exercise that is available and suitable for all ages and conditions and in all seasons. Walking is a universal pastime. It is a form of exercise which has been a favorite ever since it was introduced by the Greeks hundreds of years ago.

The Life Extension Institute, an organization devoted to the purpose of keeping people well, advocates walking as the surest method of securing daily exercise. The students that have any distance to walk to school, should make it their daily exercise and enjoy it instead of thinking it a drudge. Correct walking develops a good posture. We are in danger of deteriorating unless we hold fast to some old fashioned principles of physical upkeep. The rising death rate after forty is a warning.

PHILOMATHEAN

The following program was given by the Philomathean Society Nov. 16.

Parliamentary Drill	Norma Froelich
Piano Solo	Mabel Snee
Book Report on "The Woman who Toils"	Gladys Condie
Paper on "The New Strain in Industry"	Bertha Pease
Reading	Margaret Weimer
Discussion on "Conditions Inimical to the Normal Welfare of Girl Workers"	Dorothy Knight
Vocal Duet	Blanche Doughty
	Marsha Fitch

This was a very credible program, being exceedingly instructive as well as entertaining.

GIRLS ATTENTION!

On Friday Night at 7:30 in the Kindergarten Rooms of the Central Building, there will be a Baby Party for all the Home Economics Students. Come in costume.

GAVELEERS

At the forty - seventh regular session, last week, the club was entertained by a program provided by P. Minne. Mr. Hippaka gave an interesting account of his vacation. He enumerated a number of obstacles which he encountered, and related how they were overcome. Mr. Docker took us with him to the hills of Scotland, where he rendered a number of typically Scotch musical selections on the bagpipes. Later he explained the construction and action of his instrument. Mr. Steinke's oration "The Predatory Rich" was very well rendered. It is quite evident that he has unusual ability in this line.

PERSONAL

Miss Loretta Engler will spend Thanksgiving in Spooner, Wisconsin.

Miss Harriet Koopman spent the week end with her parents in St. Paul.

Mr. Stewart Schaefer will spend his Thanksgiving vacation in Wausau Wisconsin.

Miss Ruth Chambers will go to Cumberland, Wisconsin for the holidays.

Mr. Edgar Schulz will spend the holidays in Minneapolis.

Thursday night a trunk for Mr. Holm was delivered at the Annex??

Miss Beatrice Bruce will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Chippewa Falls.

Miss Agnes Boss will entertain out of town guests during the vacation.

Friday night a Stout Dance was given in the gymnasium. Everyone present had a very good time.

Mr. Luellan Spangler who is attending the "U" of Wisconsin will spend Thanksgiving day with his sister, Luella Spangler, of the Annex.

PRACTICAL THESES

Last Tuesday there was an excellent attendance at assembly. Every one came early to get a good seat. Rumors of a millinery demonstration were afloat, and so, of course everyone, even the men, wondered just what was going to happen.

Lo! when we arrived the curtain was down, and an air of mystery prevailed. When it was lifted, we beheld a millinery shop, so attractive that even the most prosaic would be tempted to step in "just to try on" one or two of the bonnets displayed.

Miss Constance Ware opened the discussion by defining a hat and its purposes. By use of living models, she made very clear to us the effect of the style of a hat and its adaptation to the wearer and her costume. She also discussed the aim of the course in Millinery as given here, saying that its main aim is not to make milliners of the girls who take it, but to give them a knowledge of the sort of hats to buy and to wear.

Miss Jessie Fredenburg continued by giving the history of hats, methods of making frames and discussing present styles and prices. She, using living models, showed the effect of colors in hats, upon various types of girls.

The French maid and the messenger boy helped to make the shop very realistic. In fact, the whole demonstration showed excellent organization in every detail.

This method of demonstrating might be used with good effect to make popular any subject. Let us hear from the men.

THE TOWER

Did you ever stop to think: What is most conspicuous about Stout? What looms up most distinctly at a distance? What is the most distinctive feature of the Stout architecture? What is the highest exponent of skilled labor on our buildings? What tells us from whence the breezes blow and whither they go? What is consulted most frequently? What warns the tardy scholar, the belated stroller, and the burner of the midnight oil?

The Tower, the answer to these questions, seems a most appropriate name for our annual. In addition to being typical of our school by its prominence, it suggests the standards of our work, and the height of our ambitions. It has a dignity befitting the annual of an institution of such a character.

To Mr. Harry Crockett, we are indebted for the name.

RESPONSIBILITY

Do you fully realize the meaning of the term, or is it merely a word, in which the letters are grouped in a certain sequence of place? Does the stimulus offered by this word, bring to your mind a certain association of ideas, or perhaps cause you to recall an obligation or promise on your part?

How many of us have ever stopped to consider that with the passing of the years, and the progress of our development, both physically and mentally, that the burden of responsibility weighs more heavily upon our shoulders than before? How many of us are in that class of individuals, who, when the opportunity presents itself, are but too eager to shift this burden to the shoulders of our neighbor? Is it the man, is it the woman, who will do this?

Shall we not, altho we may be laboring under serious difficulties, assume that portion of responsibility that should rightfully fall upon us?

Or shall we throw our present responsibility to the winds, assume it in some other situation, and then seek our goal? Let us think and consider carefully, before we act.

ATHLETIC MEETING

At the last board meeting it was decided to award the football S's and Monograms. They will be presented to the qualified players at the annual football dance December third.

Y. W. C. A.

Friday evening, about thirty of the Y. W. C. A. girls appeared at the Kindergarten Rooms of the Central Building, dressed as small children. The evening was spent in playing kindergarten games such as, "Farmer in the Dell" and "Tin man." Later in the evening pop corn and stick candy was served. All present had a most enjoyable time.

BASKETBALL

The Senior-Junior game played November 23 resulted in a score of 45-12 in favor of the Seniors. We are fortunate in having good material from which to pick the first team.

Stout has a heavy schedule and the material looks very promising.

The coach is going to give a try-out to about eight or nine men.

The first game of the season will be played in the Stout armory, Sat. evening Dec. 4, against a team from Wilson. This team is composed of two former St. Olaf stars, the Principal of the Wilson H. S., and two men from Iola, Wis., who played on the Busley College team, which, two years ago, lost but one game. A game with Hamline "U" was scheduled, but was cancelled on account of some misunderstanding. Stout will play the "U" of Minnesota at Minneapolis December 11. It is the intention to to play Winona Y.M.C.A. December 18, and Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, December 20. Kewatin Academy or some other team will be scheduled the 21st or 22nd en route.

Mr. Mauthe attended the Athletic Association Conference at the U. of Minnesota, at which Minnesota, Dakota, and Iowa were represented. Rules governing basketball were interpreted and discussed. Mr. Mauthe secured some good ideas which will be of value to our players.

ATHLETIC FINANCES

Mr. Mauthe gave a talk this morning on the financial status of the Athletic Association. He mentioned the closing of the football season, which left a small deficit for this year. The finances stand as follows:

Expenses.....	$118.22
Receipts	31.90
Deficit	86.32
Deficit, last year	197.61
Total.....	283.93

Last year there were various plans carried out for obtaining money, among them the candy sale, the football dance, and the basket ball receipts. It is hoped that the basket ball season this year will clear up the indebtedness.

The football dance established a precedent last year, and it was decided to make it an annual affair. The football men, however, wanted the receipts to go toward buying their sweaters, but this met with some opposition on the part of the Athletic Board. The price of the dance was thot to be rather high by some of the fellows and Mr. Mauthe asked for expressions on the part of some of the students. Harshbarger, and some others, talked; Bigelow misused the English language; Mr. Rogers arose and said something.

There was a motion made that the price of the dance be made fifty cents and the proceeds go to the Athletic Association. After some discussion, this was passed by the unanimous vote of the students.

If you dance, get a ticket. If you do not indulge, your half-dollar will be just as effective in helping to defray the athletic debt.

See Mr. Leonard Olson or Mr. Brunkow at your earliest convenience.

13TH ANNUAL WISCONSIN OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE

Over seven hundred older boys from every portion of the State of Wisconsin assembled at Eau Claire Nov. 26, 27, and 28, for the greatest conference of its kind that has ever been held in this State.

Each one of the delegates from Menomonie and Stout Institute, who attended the Conference report a very profitable and enjoyable time.

It certainly was a wonderful sight to see a crowd, seven hundred strong, all wide awake young men, assembled for a single purpose, standing for a certain thing, and intent upon attaining the convention's object—developing the moral side of life.

Friday at 4:30 Rev. F. H. Brigham of Janesville spoke on the Christian life.

"Study to show thyself approved unto God and be not ashamed." This was one of his strong points. He reminded us of the fact that there can be no bluffing in Christian Work.

Friday evening over 700 boys gathered at the tables in Fournier's Academy where they were served by the Eau Claire High School Girls. The roof fairly quivered in resistance of the strain placed upon it as the boys gave their yells and united in singing "On Wisconsin."

There is no reason why every one cannot be the "best man" and successfully traverse the path of life, declared Mr. Alexander, of Chicago. Mr. Alexander fairly exudes good humor and certainly was with the boys.

"Any man who smokes is a 'durned' fool and a man who 'cusses' is ten species of a 'durned' fool; they are only so much excess baggage. I was going to call them beastly habits, but I don't want to wrong the beasts."

"The man who swears tags himself. He is ignorant, uninformed, mentally weak, normally wrong, religiously stupid, socially cheap and generally low born or ill bred. Not being able to reason, think, analyze, express, vocalize and articulate in decent fashion—he swears."

The benefits to be derived from a conference of this kind are unlimited, and, although there were seven representatives from Stout, there might have been more. We should take advantage of these things which are so closely related to our work, and never miss an opportunity to receive inspiration, such as was to be had at Eau Claire.

LET'S CO-OPERATE

Yes, let's do it!

Not only in the carrying out of one idea, or plan, but in everything. Break loose! It takes only once. The next time it's easier, and so on. Start now! Get others with you. Someone is eager to help, — if some one starts first. Can't you do it?

Fellows, let's not limit this to activities which we have among ourselves. Let's help the girls in their line. It's often said that the fellows don't show as much interest in the girl's work, as they show in that done by the fellows.

Does co-operation bring anything to us? It creates an attitude of willing readiness. It is an incentive toward harder work, higher standards and higher ideals. It awakens in the individual a feeling that he is a part of a whole, closely related and affiliated with the enterprises of his neighbor.

Do you get the connection? Keep the ball rolling.

Y. M. C. A.

The young men present at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday morning had a unusual treat in hearing

Rev. Dinsdale speak on "Life's Objective." The following are only a few of the reminders which the speaker left with us:

"That Christ is life's true objective."

"Because Christ has been with us we are a progressive nation."

"That the great objective of living is to make life, and to make it helpful and a blessing to those with whom we come into contact."

Next Sunday Mr. Eslinger will speak at the usual hour. Why not be there?

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philomathean Society met Tuesday evening, Nov. 30, but instead of having the usual program, a social hour was enjoyed. The guests were entertained with music and games, after which refreshments were served.

It is hoped that we shall have many such social affairs throughout the year.

GAVELEERS

At the regular meeting last Wednesday, a humorous program was given, as follows: The Young Man Waited, Man, Mr. Crockett; Peter's Ride to the Wedding, Mr. Owen; A Swimming Lesson, Mr. Lampert; Two Wandering Jews, Mr. Blum; Chairman, Mr. Steinke.

Response to roll call, a humorous story.

At the meeting, Wednesday, Dec. 8th. the following program is to be anticipated: The Private School, Mr. Benjamin; Ups & Downs of Teaching, Mr. Harshbarger; Chairman, Mr. Erickson. Response to Roll Call, The last "Spat" with a teacher.

BASKETBALL

The Stout five scored a victory over Wilson last Saturday in a walk-away game. The final score was 68 to 12. From the start of the game our men jumped into the lead and piled up a score that could not be beaten. The Wilson team was completely baffled by Stout's style of playing. Team work featured the play of our aggregation. All of our men played a fast, snappy game and showed excellent form in shooting baskets.

A preliminary game was played by the Senior and Junior teams. The Seniors ran away with the Juniors by a score of 25 to 15.

The line-up of our first team was as follows: guards, Hager and Lampert; forwards, Mauch and Gullickson; center, H. A. Schott. J. G. Schott, Sipple, and Olson, played during the second half of the game. Saturday Stout plays the Minnesota "U" at Minneapolis.

ANNUAL FOOT BALL DANCE

Friday evening, the Annual Football Dance was given in the gymnasium. The music which was furnished by Mr. Stori, "Mike" Timbers and Mr. Mallory, was excellent, and was appreciated by everyone.

Mint punch was served during the evening by "Mutt" and "Jeff," who created quite a sensation, presiding at the punch-bowl.

Several members of the faculty were present and took part in the dancing. During the evening two musical numbers were rendered by the Male Quartet, following which Mr. Mauthe presented the football men with their monograms and "S's." He reviewed the football season, giving the work of each individual player, and of the team as a whole.

A demonstration of football as it will be played in 1930, was given by the team. Dancing was then resumed and continued until 11:30.

Men who received monograms: Hughes, Chamberlain, Van Gent, Gullickson, and Neupert. Men who received letters: Tews, Sprague, Becker, Erdlitz, Blum, Sipple, Kellerman, Olson, Krick, Lampert, Miller, and Nyhus. Last Year's Men who received letters: Hager, Frogner, Bradshaw and Schott. There will be six juniors left for next year's team.

MILLINERY EXHIBIT

Those who attended the Semi-Annual Millinery Opening in room 22 on Saturday, were greatly pleased by the display of hats and flowers made by the seniors of the Home Economics Department. One especially interesting thing about the display was the fact that there were no two hats alike.

Cedar boughs and baskets of sweet peas and chrysanthemums were the main features of the decorations which so completely transformed the room. Tea and cookies were served during the afternoon.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY ENTERTAINS AT ASSEMBLY

In commemoration of the birthday anniversary of Ellen H. Richards, the so-called Mother of Home Economics, the Philomathean society gave a very interesting and instructive program, during the assembly hour last Wednesday.

Dr. Harvey placed the assembly in the hands of the president, Miss Kathryn McHenry who presented the purpose of the Philomathean Society as being: to create the spirit of good fellowship, to acquire ability in the speaking of correct English; and to acquire general literary information thru the united efforts of its members.

The society this year has been limited to fifty members, each one of whom must appear on a program at least once each semester. That the work of the society is beneficial as well as entertaining was shown by the girls who represented the society Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Saliene Marks showed how from her youth Ellen Richards strove to get an education and later gave her life, time and money to the Home Economics Movement. Miss Agnes McHenry in her talk on the works of Ellen H. Richards, showed how her early domestic career in her home laid the best kind of a foundation for her future work, how the perfection with which she performed the homeliest tasks, was the best asset she had at the most intricate periods of her life, and how her great ambition enabled her to carry out every project attempted.

Miss Zoe Shafer presented The Influence of Ellen H. Richards on Home Economics, showing that it was she who established this great movement and that it was she who was the largest factor in maintaining its progress during her life. Lastly, Mrs. Richards' ultimate aim for Home Economics was, "To make the home more nearly an ideal for the life of the race."

FOR THE QUERY BOX

"Doesn't Annual mean yearly?"

A Junior wants to know,

"And how, then, can an annual board
Meet every week or so?"

"There's something else I'd like
explained,

It has troubled me of late.

When you want to set a sink trap,
What do you use for bait?"

The Junior's little queries

Have the editor quite floored,
So we refer the first one

To the knot hole in the board.

And the second one should probably

To the plumbing shop have gone;
But we leave it preferably
To the genial Mrs. Hahn.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Harshbarger.

Mr. Eslinger spoke on "How we may honor our parents, especially our mother."

The following are a few thoughts brought out in his text: Honor thy mother by doing her wishes in so far as they do not hinder your progress. Be true to the principles she had in mind when she trained you. Have contempt for no one and hatred for no one. Remember that he or she is some other mother's child.

The next regular meeting will be held Sunday morning, Jan. 9, 1915.

THESIS DINNER

A delicious and attractive Christmas dinner was served to the January graduating class, their guests, and D. S. faculty, Friday night, by the Misses Ruth Calkin, Lois Reed, Mabel Sneen, Grace Freeland, and Ella Jackson. The menu consisted of the following:

Fruit Cocktail
Roast Chicken	Dressing
Mashed Potatoes	Giblet Gravy
Olives	Jelly
Creamed Celery	Cranberry Ice
Rolls	Tomato Jelly Salad
Plum Pudding
Coffee	Mints

The table decorations were carried out in Christmas colors with holly and small Christmas trees. During the meal, which was served by some of the D. S. Seniors, the guests enjoyed several splendid victrola selections. The dinner was a success from every stand point and the girls are to be highly commended upon the excellent execution of their work.

PLUMBING SHOP

An accident in the plumbing shop last week, called to our mind the fact that, up to this time, that department of our school has been neglected by the Stoutonia. We have a plumbing trade school and the number of students is increasing, as was attested by the entrance of Mr. Fuller's name upon the roll-book last week.

These young men are learning the modern methods of health protection as imparted to them by Mr. Jimerson. While we realize that there are good systems of plumbing in some houses we are also aware, thru experience, that a poorly installed system can give a great deal of annoyance, to say nothing of its menace to the health of the household.

Let us join in wishing this department success in its work, and in hoping that the blame for poor plumbing may never be laid at its door.

BASKETBALL

Our team succeeded in making a good showing at Minneapolis last Saturday, by holding the University team to a score of 20 to 10.

An interesting feature of the game was the fact that the two teams were evenly matched. Owing to the large floor and the University style of playing our men were somewhat handicapped. The game was desperately fought from the beginning to end. Contrary to the nature of games played by the University, Saturday's contest was fairly free from roughness.

Our team has shown great improvement since the first of the season and the prospects for a winning team are good. New plays will be tried this week in preparation for three out-of-town games scheduled for the holidays.

The line-up of the team against the "U" was as follows: forwards, Mauch and H. A. Schott; center, Lampert; guards, Hager and Olsen; subs, Tews and Sipple; coach, J. G. Schott.

Mr. Manthe and Mr. Brunkow accompanied the team.

STOUT BIBLE CLASS

A delightful Christmas program was enjoyed by the Stout Bible Class on Sunday morning at their regular meeting. Everyone enjoyed the solo "Silent Night," rendered by Florence Hull. Dorothy Knight told us the story of the fourth wise man, after which several religious selections were played upon the victrola.

PERSONALS

Miss Grace Augustine is ill with "La Grippe"

Friday night an impromptu dance was given in the gymnasium.

Miss Leedom spent the week end in Minneapolis.

Mr. Otto Brunkow attended the game in Minneapolis Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey and Miss Gladys Harvey spent the week end in Minneapolis.

Ruth Maclin entertained her Sunday School class Saturday night, at the Annex.

Messrs. Walter Boberg, Ronald Stilp and W. Hanson spent the week end in Menomonie.

Mr. G. H. Hipp of Madison spent the week end with Elizabeth Bullion, 914 Sixth Street.

Dewey Doyle was taken to the hospital last week where he underwent an operation for an abscess in his ear.

We are glad that Miss Kugel is able to resume her work, after several day's absence, on account of illness.

TEACHING AS A LIFE'S WORK

The following notes were taken from a lecture presented by Mr. R. H. Rodgers before the Manual Training Department, September 22, 1915.

There are four success elements which a teacher must possess to succeed in his work: a pleasing personality, character above reproach, a broad education and training, and a sound physical and mental make-up.

Under the first of these comes that love of work which is so essential to the ultimate success of any line of endeavor. Coupled with it must be enthusiasm, for the enthusiasm of the class is proportionate to that of the teacher, in order to get in full sympathy with the student, the instructor must feel with him, must get his point of view. This leads to an interest in the student himself, rather than in his work only.

The teacher must be honest and truthful in all things, and loyal, both to his fellow teachers and to the institution. In every way must he be dependable.

The foremost feature in the training or education of a teacher should be his ability to do special work, to excel in a certain field, and his ability to impart his knowledge in this field effectively.

Lying back of this specialization should be a broad general knowledge, which may be kept up and increased by keeping in touch with the affairs of daily life. A deep understanding of human nature, of applied psychology and of the method of dealing successfully with his fellow men, is a necessity.

The teacher must be in good health, in order to withstand the wear and tear of class-room work, and to set an example before his pupils.

In many communities, unusual conditions must be met by the teacher. The successful meeting of these conditions imposes a strain on his physical and mental make-up; and if, thru resourcefulness and common sense, he comes out ahead, he has indicated a desirable flexibility of mental ability.

The rewards of the teaching profession are many. First, the physical or financial reward. The average monthly salary of men teachers in the U. S. is $73.00; of women teachers $55.00. There is a regular salary schedule worked out in progressive cities, and in some states there is legislation effecting teachers' salaries. In other places there is the pension system.

Second, the position of the teacher in the community. Upon entering the community as an instructor in the school system, the teacher's social position is assured. He is constantly in the limelight, and is looked upon as a leader.

Third, the joy of service to our fellows. There is a satisfaction in having done good work along a line where the results are readily seen, and the recompense sure.

Happy to meet you!

Have you heard of anyone being homesick?

What do you think of the progress made in the construction of the new building?

Who is the busiest person around here nowadays? The teachers have an idea their time is more than taken up, the worthy office folk are laboring under the deception that their long hours of toil are numerous, and each student in particular considers himself the most heavily burdened individual in the universe, but Mrs. Hahn and Miss Halseth are swamped.

WELCOME

We extend the glad hand of welcome to all old and new friends. Our hearts rejoice as we see the long lines of D S's in stripes and ribbons filing thru the door of "Learning, Skill, Honor and Industry," and those "horny-handed sons of toil" garbed in overalls and smiles going joyfully to their arduous tasks. Even the sun has paid our fair city another visit to welcome you with its bright rays. Now that the fond and affectionate greetings have been administered, would it not be well to give a little serious thought to the getting of an A No. 1 start on the real business for which we came?

Stout has won its reputation, not by its gay society life, nor its victorious athletic teams, but by the high grade of teaching which its alumni have rendered. Those who have contributed most to its glorious reputation were the serious, conscientious and faithful students of a few years ago.

This reputation will be maintained and extended just so much as we do our part while here; as it grows we shall profit accordingly.

LARGEST ENROLLMENT

We are pleased to announce that the enrollment of Stout is the largest it has ever been, in both the Household Arts and the M.T. departments. As the students are still coming in an accurate announcement of the enrollment cannot be given until a later date.

MAN. TRAINING ALUMNI

Wednesday morning, during the period of Class Talks, the M. T. students had the privilege of hearing Mr. Albert Siepert, who was a member of Stout's first graduating class, and also Mr. Frank Beckman who was a member of the class of 1910. Both men spoke from experience and gave a very beneficial talk.

Y. W. C. A.

Were you at the Y. W. C. A. Mixer Saturday? If you were, you know they are wide awake, if you were not, we are afraid that you are not wide awake.

This was the first of a number of entertainments which the association has planned for this year. It was a success. That means that there were several hundred girls present, and that several hundred girls said they had a perfectly splendid time.

Old friendships were renewed and new friendships made. There seemed to be a general feeling of interest and good comradeship.

The crowd left the gym at half past three and walked down the river past Galloway's creek, where they stopped to play their games and have their supper.

The girls were grateful for the leadership of Miss Krueger in their games. Juniors beat Seniors in a tug-of-war, but some one has told us that there were only ten Seniors pulling against twelve Juniors. Fires were built and buns with red hots and hot coffee were served. After supper the girls wasted marshmallows.

Now that we're acquainted, we are ready for still more fun next time. Come again girls, there's a place for everybody.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held their first meeting of the year Sunday morning in the Memorial Building. The increased attendance was noticeable and very inspiring. Mr. Buxton spoke and gave an ideal opening talk on the possible development of the spiritual life of young men. He laid special emphasis on the service side of a man's nature that should be developed. The men of the school who did not hear this talk missed some valuable suggestions.

Rev. C. F. Niles will address the Y. M. next Sunday on the subject "Mental Requirements for Moral and Spiritual Growth." Be sure you hear him at 8:30 Sunday morning Sept. 19th.

FOOTBALL—

DOUBLE HEADER

Saturday September 18, two football games will be played at the fair grounds. The Menomonie H.S. team will play their alumni and the Stout Juniors will meet the Seniors. Each game will consist of three twelve-minute quarters; Stout teams beginning, and the H.S. following, and thereafter alternating the quarters on the field. A continuous performance will be on beginning at two-thirty.

All teams have been working hard getting ready to give a good exhibition preliminary game. Your support is absolutely necessary as the money made will be used for the equipment and promotion of athletics.

Admission 25 cents.

YOUR PAPER

You have noticed that there are only two Seniors who are acting as editors on the STOUTONIA just now. We have assistance from other friends and this, indeed, we appreciate. The STOUTONIA will be managed by a board of editors during the coming year, consisting of three Seniors and three Juniors. It is best, of course, if these individuals shall represent both departments of the school. Their qualifications should be: first, a willingness to serve in such a capacity; second, an ability to express their ideas in words and on paper; third, they should be well known among representative groups of students; fourth, they should be willing to devote at least an hour each week in the preparation of copy or similar work.

In a short time, the Seniors and Juniors will have class meetings, when it is hoped members to the staff of the STOUTONIA may be elected.

SENIOR MEETING

After Assembly last week the Senior class held a meeting and elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: Pres. Earl D. Mauch; Vice President, Evalyn Van Stratum; Secretary, Arthur G. Erickson; Treasurer, Margaret Weimer.

The following members were elected to serve on the editorial staff of the Stoutonia for the ensuing year: Ethel Feldkirchner, Harry G. Clarke, and Philip F. A. Minne.

Robert McIntosh was appointed as Business Manager of the Annual for the coming year by the Editor-in-Chief, H. L. Stanton. This appointment met with the approval of the class.

At a special meeting of the Senior class last Thursday a committee was appointed to attend to the duty of sending flowers to those members of the class that might fall ill during the school year. The committee is Miss Marian Corey, Miss Blanche Doughty, Walter M. Bigelow, Orin Hansen, and Robert Mulholland.

JUNIORS ORGANIZE

A meeting of the Junior class was held in the armory at 4:15 p.m. yesterday under the direction of Earl D. Manch. Harry E. Peterson was elected as temporary President and Miss Boberg Secretary.

Miss Marion Moore, Harry Peterson, and Edson Shatto were elected as Junior representatives on the staff of the Stoutonia.

STOUT DANCES

The first dance was a decided success. It was given in the Stout Armory Friday evening and about two hundred people were in attendance. Mr. Mauthe and Mr. Jimerson acted as chaperons. A three-piece orchestra furnished excellent music and every one had an informal jolly time.

These dances are given almost weekly throughout the school year and are a very important phase of the social life of the school. Their success depends upon you; not upon your neighbor nor upon the girls alone, nor the men, but upon each individual. They will be just what you make them. If you are timid and stay at home, what is to become of the dance?

Too busy? Can't you finish that millinery or write up that chemistry or do that drawing some other time? To be sure you can. Whom do you ask to do things for you—things that you really want done? Why, a busy person of course. And it's the busy people who have a little recreation and give someone else a little pleasure quite often.

HIKERS

The Stout Hiker's Club held its first regular meeting last Thursday afternoon in the main corridor of the Trades Building.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, F. W. Voss; Vice President, A. G. Erickson; Secretary, Harry Crockett; Treasurer, E. A. Holm.

Following the election of officers the plans for the coming year were discussed and it was decided to make a hike to Cedar Falls next Saturday, Sept. 25. Any one interested in hiking should report at the gym Saturday morning at 8:00 o'clock.

GAVELEERS

Last Wednesday evening the seniors of Stout who are members of the Gaveleers met in the main building for the purpose of organizing the society for this year. Many good schemes for fine programs were discussed and plans made for the best year in the history of the society.

The meeting for Wednesday, September 29, will be led by Mr. Christoffel who will offer the following program: Response to roll call with a Current Event; How to Secure Results in Reading, Mr. Otto Hasse; The Growth of Manual Training in My Home Town, Mr. Philip Minne; The Gaveleers, Mr. Herbert Steinke.

All members of the manual training Department are urged to be present to the meeting and see the value of this society to you personally and to the school as a body.

Roll will be called promptly at 7:15 in room 35 of the main building.

PERSONALS

Anyone here seen Lamb?

Why yes! Mabel S(n)een Lamb!

Harry Reed spent Sunday with his sister Doris of Lynwood Hall.

Doris Amerpool visited Priscilla Adams of St Paul over the week end.

Gertrude Conway and Edna Boberg spent the week end at their homes in Eau Claire.

Mr. W. R. Greenwood of Chippewa Falls visited his daughter Helen at the Annex this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Leyse, of Kewanee spent the week end with their daughter at the Annex.

Miss Maud Lathrop was called to her home at Bascobel, by the serious illness of her mother.

Mr. Edgar Schulz was called to his home at Watertown, Wis. last Thursday to attend the funeral of his father.

Mr. Floyd Smith who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the City Hospital last week is recovering all right at this time.

STOUT PICNIC

To be sure it rained! But what do we care! We had lots more fun in the Armory than we would have had at Picnic Point.

Everybody met everybody they had been wanting to meet for the last three weeks, and if the degree of weariness reported the next day indicates the extent of the good time, we surely had it. The first stunt was a ball game, which was won by the girls, 39-12. The next was a nail-driving contest, in which Marie Dehler won a lovely box of candy. The boys had a needle-threading contest in which Mr. Van Gent's superior efficiency was rewarded by a box of Keeley's. Mr. Arthur Liddy was a close second and won a Stout pennant.

The Seniors beat the Juniors in a Tug of War both in the boys' contest and in the girls' contest. You should have seen Cathrine Lott and Harry E. Peterson eat marshmallows.

In the Bull's Eye contest nine men were successful and drew for the prize. Dorothy Harte likes apples as, was shown by the way she got away with one, and was able to whistle afterwards.

After this, the boys were requested to sit on one side of the house and the girls to sit on the other, then the girls' name tags were collected and passed in a basket to the boys who each drew two; in this, finding their partners for supper. The "Bread Line" was then formed reaching around the Armory three deep. After supper a half hour was given to "Get Acquainted." After this the dancing began and everyone continued to "drive dull care away" until 11 P.M.

ORCHESTRA

A rehearsal of the Stout Orchestra was held in the gymnasium last Thursday. Fifteen prospective members were present, so a good instrumentation is expected. The orchestra is unfortunate in losing the directorship of Mr. Steendahl, whose time is fully occupied with his work. A student director will be elected at the next rehearsal, which will be held sometime this week.

FIRST GAME SATURDAY

Coach Schott and fourteen men leave for Hamline Saturday morning for the first game of the season with the strong Methodist aggregation. The men are all in the pink of condition and intend to give their opponents a hard struggle for first honors.

SOCIAL LIFE

Have you become acquainted yet? The picnic offered an excellent opportunity for this purpose. If you think that wholesale introduction is not just what you prefer, remember that it is good memory training to be able to connect the right name with the right individual. Professor Ebbinghaus said that, if we neglect something we have learned, we lose four-fifths of it in one month. After we have become acquainted at the Picnic, shall we lose four-fifths of these new acquaintances, thru fear of speaking to some one whom we have never met? Surely it is easy to forgive a mistake like that, while we are all new here.

Social activities at Stout have received a good start this year. It is now the duty of each and every individual to keep the ball rolling. At the same time as it is our duty to further the social activities, it is well to use good judgment.

We must not forget the little adage, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." But at the same time, all play and no work makes Jack a failure. The person who is able to plan and execute his work in such a way as to leave some time for amusement and recreation when such occasions present themselves, is one whose time has been devoted properly to the purpose for which he came here.

As future teachers it is our duty to pay some attention to our social life. Thru every walk of life, social activities of some sort are required, and we should not with our primary purpose of a preparation for future work, neglect this important part of our education. Here, as elsewhere, there is a happy medium to follow.

Come to the Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning, you will hear a man of national reputation speak on a subject that will interest you. Dr. Harvey spoke to the young men last Sunday morning on the subject "Service" and those who heard him were very glad they came.

In your search for knowledge do not forget the spiritual side of your mental development. Train the whole man, not only the mental and physical. Come to the Memorial Sunday morning at 8:30.

GAVELEERS

To-night the regular weekly meeting of the Gaveleers will be given over to business. You should be present to get the parliamentary practice that this will afford.

Last Wednesday evening the society met in Room 35, where a fine program was rendered. Mr. Christoffel led the meeting, while Mr. Hasse gave a reading, "How to Secure Results in Reading." Mr. Minne spoke of "The Growth of Manual Training in My Home Town." The third number was Mr. Steinke on, "The Gaveleers."

HIKERS

Owing to the weather conditions the hikers were unable to take the hike to Cedar Falls last Saturday.

Arrangements have been made to take the hike this coming Saturday, Oct. 2. All hikers come.

STOUT BIBLE CLASS

A very pleasant hour was spent by the members of the Stout Bible Class and their friends, at a social held in the parlors of the Congregational Church last Thursday afternoon. Games were played and light refreshments were served.

Miss Helen Barber who was elected president of the class has been compelled to leave school on account of an injury to her foot, so a nominating committee was appointed Sunday morning to submit names for a new president. The work this year, on the Literature of the Bible, promises to be very helpful and profitable under the leadership of Mr. Buxton.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its first meeting on Monday at the Memorial. Over 130 young ladies were present, and the meeting was an inspiring one. Miss Mc Calmont talked to the girls on "The Master's Place for Us."

Special Notice — Every new member is expected to be at the Congregational Church Parlors at 3:30 P. M. Sunday. Your co-operation is necessary to make this Y. W. C. A. Day a success.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thurs., Oct. 7.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. R. Greenwood from Chippewa Falls, Wis. spent the week end with her daughter Helen Greenwood at the Bertha Tainter Annex.

The "Hikers" had a meeting last week and elected their officers. Miss Elizabeth Bullen was elected president. They are planning a hike for next Sat.

Cathleen Freeman, Loretta Angler, and Jessie Frendenburger spent Saturday shopping in Eau Claire.

Hazel Westgate from Nebraska arrived at the Bertha Tainter annex the middle of last week.

Mr. George A. Jester, 1915 graduate of Stout, who is now Director of Manual Training in Little Falls, Minnesota, spent the week end in Menomonie visiting friends.

Dr. L. D. Harvey attended a meeting of the Board of Industrial Education yesterday in Milwaukee.

Mr. Arthur Schwing, "Frenchie," who at present is teaching French, German, and Gymnastics at Owatonna, Minnesota, spent the week end with friends here.

Mr. T. L. Owen of Durand, Wis., is in this city at the bedside of his son Lee Owen, who met with an accident in the Gym last week. Lee will be taken home for a short rest before resuming his duties.

HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT

Everyone has heard of the "Home Management House" at the former Homemakers Dormitory, and a great many have been wondering just what is meant by that term.

The object of conducting this house is to give girls an opportunity for practical work in home management. The girls get practice in the general management of the home, in the planning of meals, marketing, preparation and serving of meals, and all work connected with the home. There are nine girls in the house who do this work. At the end of one week four new girls enter, and at the end of the next week five new girls enter, so that the girls who came in the first week are managers while the girls who entered the second week act, in a sense, as assistants. Each girl is assigned certain duties, such as special baking, special cleaning, planning of meals, marketing, laundry, and daily care of the house. Upon reading this, one might think that this is an easy problem to undertake, but it has come to be a difficult one, as the girls are given $18 for the purchasing of supplies. Out of this amount the girls also have to pay a cleaning woman for one-half day each week.

There are numerous details and problems of organization that must be attended to; such as the supervision of all the work, the buying of supplies, keeping of accounts, looking over the schedules and plans for meals. Miss Turner deserves much credit for the work that she has done in organizing these problems, besides seeing that each girl is given her work, and the making out of a report of the character and ability of each girl.

Besides attending to all these numerous duties, Miss Turner makes the house a real home for the girls while there.

RECOGNITION SERVICES

Last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the Congregational Church the Recognition Service was held for the new members of Y. W. C. A. "Onward, Christian Soldiers" was played as a processional, and the members of the cabinet came down the aisle and formed an arch, by means of Stout Pennants, under which the old and new members bearing lighted candles, passed. These candles represented the "Candles of Self" and the President, Vera Murray, in her address, requested that these "Candles of Self"

OUR PAPER

This is the fourth issue of our school paper. You have, no doubt, noticed that we have been growing. The first issue was a single sheet, printed on one side. The second, a single sheet printed on both sides. Last week we had a folded sheet, printed on three sides. This week the four sides of the folded sheet all contain reading matter.

At the time of the publication of the first and second issues, we heard a number of remarks regarding the size of the paper. "Why don't you print a big one?", one individual said. We feel that a few words of explanation would not be out of place here. The Seniors will remember that the issues of the "Stoutonia" as published this spring were larger than we have attempted to make them this year. It will be remembered that the class that published the paper early last spring had had six months of practical work along that line, while the present Seniors have had about ten weeks practice, some none at all. In other words, we have the material, but not the mechanical ability to publish as large a paper as our predecessors did. "The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak".

If you have any material for our paper, do not hesitate to drop it into the "Stoutonia Box" in the lower hall.

It will help us very much in getting our paper out on time if you make it a point to drop your write-up in the box on Friday morning preceding the date of the issue of the paper.

HIKERS

"Weather conditions" stopped the hike to Cedar Falls a week ago, but not so last Saturday. Twenty one of the members of the Manual Training Department gathered at the Gym. in their hiking togs promptly at 8 o'clock and the hike was on.

The trip was made in 1 hour and 35 minutes so that the Juniors could see the sights on the way.

On the way back a nice big hornets nest was found, and who can resist starting a fire under one? This brought the time up for the return trip.

Half way back a nice Wisconsin shower dampened the wearing apparel of the crowd, but not the spirits, so they have decided to hike to Eau Claire next Sat., leaving the Gym. at 5:00 A.M. sharp.

GAVELEERS

The regular weekly meeting of the Gaveleers Literary Society was held last Wednesday evening in Room 19 of the Main Building. The entire evening was devoted to business.

That the student body of the Manual Training Department is interested in the society is shown by the fact that sixteen new members were enrolled at the last meeting. These new members were Messrs. Erickson, Ray, Savage, Hamilton, Bowdler, Saxhaug, Holm, Lampert, Ehrhardt, Doyle, Langer, Ducke, Smith, Tews, Owen and Fryklund.

Many others have made application, and we have every reason to believe that the coming year will be the most successful one since the society was organized.

We cordially welcome all visitors.

FOOTBALL

In the initial game of the season for both teams, Stout proved a stubborn contender for honors against the strong Hamline University team on Saturday afternoon at Norton Field.

Tho the field was soft and slow, the day was an ideal one from the spectators' view point.

The score of 7-0 indicates a close game, but could it speak of a Stout touchdown in the second-half that was not allowed on account of an off-side play, of the manner in which the Stout line held Hamline for downs on the one yard line; and of Schotts out-punting of his Hamline opponent, one might have a clearer conception of the close and bitterly fought contest. Altho a couple men were temporarily laid out during the game, none were injured.

Hamline won the toss, and chose to defend the south goal. Schott kicked off to Timm at 3:00 o'clock and the game was on.

The first half was anybody's game and ended with a score of 0-0.

With seven minutes to play and on the 4th down, Timm successfully received a forward pass and crawled over the goal line for a touchdown. He also kicked goal.

Stout fought valiantly to even the score but was unsuccessful.

Mr. Brunkow accompanied the team, acting as manager, and remained over Sunday in the cities, visiting friends and relatives.

Y. M. C. A.

Reverend Buell spoke to the young men last Sunday morning, and explained clearly why every teacher should be a Christian. Mr. Rayburn will lead the meeting next Sunday morning.

It is said that every man, some time in his life, is master of his own destiny.

PRINT SHOP NEWS

Members of the present Senior classes in Printing are largely responsible for the mechanical production of the STOUTONIA thus far. The following list shows how the work has been divided among members of the class which meets, 8:00 to 10:30 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and 8:00 to 9:45 on Thursday and Friday:

J. Blum.....Mechanical Supt.
S. Schaefer...Foreman of Comp.
J. Ginsbach...Chief Proofreader
E. Schulz...Foreman of Pressw'k
P. Purdy...Foreman of Stonew'k
J. Blackmun...Foreman of Dist.
F. Smith....Foreman of Binding

Besides these men, Homer L. Stanton is enrolled in the class, from 9 o'clock on; and J. May will attend the rest of the semester from 8:00 to 9:00 o'clock.

The members of the Senior Printing class, 1:30 to 2:50 are: H. Clarke, Otto Hasse, Philip Minne, and P. Purdy.

Now that we have been able to print a four-page paper, we hope we shall be able to continue this size at least. We ask cooperation in this matter, especially from those who have a copy for the paper from time to time. The "dead line" will be at 1:30 on Tuesdays. This means that, if your copy is handed in after this hour, it may not be possible for the mechanical force to tear up the forms to insert late matter.

be extinguished. A little later each candle was relighted from one large one representing the "Light of Christ" and this time each was given a white carnation. Miss Tunnell gave a violin solo, after which Dr. Westberg gave an address on "The Power and Beauty of Womanhood." This was a very impressive service.

PERSONALS

If Clarke was paid in full by Tews, how much do I. O. Dhein?

Bernice Nelson from Owatonna, Minnesota, is a guest at Tainter Hall.

Mabel Plummer gave a card party Saturday afternoon for twelve Stout girls.

All the girls at Tainter Hall took their breakfast up the Creek Saturday morning.

The Junior girls of the Tainter Hall, dressed in costume, enjoyed a spread in the south second floor room Friday night.

Bob Post, a Stout graduate, spent the week end in Menomonie on his way to the University of Chicago.

"Red" Schott was taken to the hospital Monday, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He is doing nicely at this writing.

Mable Ede spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in St. Paul. She took in the Football game between Stout and Hamline.

If Crockett had a penny would Ruth Matchett?

Miss Frances Carl shopped in Minneapolis Saturday.

Mrs. T. G. Pease from Anoka, Minnesota, spent the week end with her daughter Bertena Pease at the Annex.

Friday evening about 125 Stout people took the "Special" for Eau Claire to attend the concert given by Mlle. Jennie Dufau and Mr. Chas. Furvey.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly drove from Chippewa Falls Friday afternoon and took Joyce Kelly and Hazel Tuffley from the Bertha Tainter Annex home with them for the week end.

About thirty members of the Girl Hikers Club made an eight mile trip Saturday morning, walking to Irvington and back to Menomonie. About four miles of the trip was made in pouring rain.

Helen Barber was obliged to leave last week for her home in Waverly, Iowa, because of an injury to her foot. Miss Barber, who was President of the Stout Bible Class, will surely be missed by her friends.

Miss Harriet Koopman, an Annex girl, gave a week-end house party at her summer home at Lake Elmo for the following girls: Lydia Tarrant, Vera Blake, Charlotte Museus, Henrietta Wells, Edna Voelker, Mable Anderson, and Edith Zuarve.

Floyd C. Smith, who has been at the hospital for the last three weeks, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis, was pronounced well and released from the hospital on Monday. We all welcome Mr. Smith back among us.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

If you were in one of your classes, on the third floor of the main building, when such a cry was raised, what would you do? Drop every thing and bolt for the stairway, most likely. Well, why shouldn't you? Perhaps you would get there first. But all the others have the same idea in mind, and when there is a crowd of a hundred more or less excited individuals all trying to pass down a narrow stairway at once, some confusion is bound to result. Because of such little panics, incidents have occurred where there was plenty of time for everybody to get safely out, and yet all, thru their desire to be first, were either crushed or burned to death.

Yet human nature remains human nature, and the law of self-preservation is fundamental. Among lower animals, the law of the survival of the fittest is supreme. Man — and woman — is supposed to have risen above that law in its literal sense. Yet it is true that, under the stress of mortal terror, we revert to our animalistic tendencies. Does our education play no part in training us to be masters of our own emotions? If it does not, then it has failed in one of its most vital aims.

Shall we—Stout Students—at the sound of the alarm, which is probably false, rush like a bunch of sheep, with no thought for our neighbors, toward an exit that is large enuf, under normal conditions, to allow all to pass safely, and yet, which becomes, under pressure, simply a death trap?

Such an emergency is hardly to be expected, and yet, as long as there is the possibility, precautions must be taken. The management of the school has inaugurated a system of fire drills; which provides for the rapid emptying of the buildings and for an effectual means of fighting fire. If we hold back and look at this as a joke, or regard it as a waste of valuable time, the purpose of the whole thing will be spoiled.

Shall we not, then, enter heart and mind into the spirit of the affair, realizing what an important part it may play in some unlooked-for crisis, and give our support and hearty cooperation to the Faculty in this matter?

Let's get into line!

FOOTBALL

Altho Carleton defeated Stout by a score of 73—0, it was not a disgrace. They have one of the strongest teams in Minnesota, the advantage of excellent coaching, and men that have played together for the past three years. Stout was able to hold their own for the first three or four minutes of the game, then Carleton intercepted a forward pass and started piling up a score.

Both teams played in a sports-

THE GOOD FELLOW

Another week has passed, and with it came the Assembly meeting of Wednesday afternoon. How many of us were present to listen to the brief but impressive talk of Dr. Harvey's? How many of us were conspicuous by our absence, so as to necessitate new regulations? Remember, that here, as well as elsewhere, the masses must suffer for the sins of the few.

The good fellow. — Does this mean that this is the student, either the young lady or gentleman, who interferes with no one's affairs, does his own work in a somewhat satisfactory way, studies when studiously inclined, never attends church, and whose 'long suit' is social life in its various aspects?

Does it mean the student who is bright, but has no inclination toward work, who is willing to knock at every opportunity, who considers himself as the centre of attraction, and who always is ready to shift his share of the burden onto the shoulders of his neighbor?

Or does this mean the fellow who is ready to hold up his end, ready to render assistance wherever and whenever needed, who is courteous, good natured, and kind, considerate of the rights of others, and whose religious and moral standards are such as we have chosen to follow? Or does it mean the one who can en-

man-like manner. Olson, Nyhus, and Miller, being the only ones to receive injuries. Erdlitz and "Annette" Kellerman put up a good game, Sipple at quarterback handled his position well, Schott out-punted his opponent and Hager and Frogner played a good defensive game. The Stout lineup was: L. E., Frogner; L. T., Hager; L. G., Lampert; Center, Sprague; R. G., Kellerman; S. T., Olson; R. E., Tews; Q. B., Sipple; F. B., Schott; R. H., Blum; L. H., Erdlitz.

WE CAME BACK

At six in the morning eleven of the good and faithful hikers congregated at the gym. Some had previously partaken of breakfast others had not. The first few miles were cold ones, and the fellows kept their gloves on, the same as when they go to church. It soon warmed up, and when they reached the Wilson farm about 9:30, they were good and warm. They then doubled back to Knapp, reaching there at 10:45, where they had a good lunch. Leaving there at 11:45, they reached home at 2:40. The whole trip was 32 miles and was made at the average speed of $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles per hour.

The men who took the trip were: Rautio, Schaefer, Voss, Watson, Wicherski, Crockett, Buss, Holm, Hansen, Savage, and Elfner.

Ask Savage where he got sardines and what he paid for them. Voss knows the difference between the north and south when he can see the north star, but it did not shine Saturday morning.

Y. M. C. A.

The young men had an unusual treat at Y. M. C. A. last Sunday in hearing Mr. Rayburn speak on "The Essentials of Manhood". He encouraged us to be brave enough to stand by our faith and belief, and not to be blown about as chaff by the wind. As Christians we should stand for character and not feel ashamed to be rebuked by the scoffer. "Any old thing can swear, drink, gamble, suck a cigarette, lie, or scoff, but it takes a man to serve Christ."

At a special meeting of the Y. M. C. A. at 6:45 on Monday evening. Mr. Rayburn spoke to the men on "God's Partnership." By verses on the blackboard, he showed the relationship between God's part of the contract and man's part. We know Mr. Rayburn's messages have touched a number of young men whom we especially invite to join us.

Mr. Sexauer of the Agricultural School will speak next Sunday. Students of all the schools are urged to hear him and share in the benefits of the services.

Committee chairmen will announce their various committees. Be there and share your burden of the work with your fellow students.

PRINT SHOP NEWS

The Junior printing class has been doing as much of the mechanical work on the paper as has been possible. The work has been entirely new to most of the men and several weeks of study and practice have been necessary before much work could be expected from these students. Two and sometimes three students have worked each day on the Stoutonia securing the same experience as those who have been setting exercises. The paper has been a real outlet for printing some of the type set up in this way.

Members of the present class are: J. Dockar, J. A. Ginsbach, Carl Karlson, Delbert Myers, Carl Neupert, E. Newcomb, Leonard Olson, Lee Olen, J. Patalo, Harry Peterson, H. Peterson, E. Rautio, Fred Rehor, L. Robinson, A. Ro-meis.

The six weeks with these men has slipped by rapidly. They have enjoyed the work very much and most of them regret that the time is so near ended. As much as we have enjoyed Section H we look forward with interest to meeting and working with Section I.

Henrietta Atkinson spent the week end in Minneapolis.

Whom did Knutson call on at the Annex Sat., Oct. 9?

Harold Zillmann, of the class of '15 spent the week end with friends in Menomonie.

Saturday afternoon, Hazel Ellicson, a Lynnwood girl, fell and dislocated her nose.

Marjory Goodman, Helen Treat, and Mable Ede went to St. Paul Saturday.

Miss Bisbey and Miss Williams gave a little party in their rooms Saturday evening for about twelve girls.

Monica Flanigan of Minneapolis spent the week end at Lynnwood Hall as the guest of Gertrude Conway.

Wanted — A maid experienced in packing suit cases, applicants see Mary Maclin.

Helen Tompkins and Letta Neilson from the Annex went to their home in Mankato, Minnesota for the week end.

Anyone wishing to take skating lessons call on "Doc" Mc Keon; she can even teach gold-fish to skate.

Raymond Heine, Class of '14, is a visitor in town to-day.

Since Helen Barber left is Eifel Holm?

The Seniors of the M. T. department are blest with a "Jitney" Buss.

Was Happy (Langer) happy when Gladys was glad while she was Blum'en?

Rex Bartlett is teaching Manual Training this year at Lake Stevens, Washington. Good luck Rex!

The Misses Maclin, Denninger, Grimstad, and Nemeck, from the Annex went to the Homemakers last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fieweger from Menasha, Wis. spent Saturday in Menomonie visiting their daughter Gertrude Fieweger at the Annex.

Margaret Kalk from Chippewa Falls has been visiting Joyce Kelley and Helen Greenwood at the Annex.

Dr. Harvey is in Philadelphia attending the conference of educators called by the Russell Sage Foundation. He will read an important paper at this conference.

Mr. Richard Westland and Mr. Adolph Simpson of Eau Claire spent Sunday with Miss Edna Volker and Miss Charlotte Museus.

GAVELEERS

Time.—7:15, P. M. Wed. Oct. 13
Place.—Room Thirty Five.

The program was great! Had you been there that would have been your opinion too. How many of you men visited the Panama Pacific Exposition this Summer? The Gaveleers were there just a week ago, at the invitation of Mr. Curran. His vivid description and carefully prepared charts brought us to the scene of the event, showed us the layout of the grounds, and the location of each palace. It was like reading a book.

We had scarcely come back from this trip, when Mr. Holm took us with him and his gang of railroad men, to see some reconstruction work done on the Great Northern Railway. It reminded all of us of the earlier days of iron trail building, with its various incidents and events.

Mr. Bowdler on "Mixing," related a number of his experiences along this particular line, and the benefits that may readily be derived by doing so.

The crowd was there. The largest ever. The membership roll has increased rapidly since Sept. There is room for a few more. There are many on the waiting list. Get in touch with the membership committee.

FOOTBALL

That's the way our hopes went when the team came home. The first report suited us just right, and we were loath to change our ideas. But "Truth crushed to earth," you know.

It really was a disappointment to learn that our team had lost to River Falls, after the report came in that we were the victors; and we thot for awhile that they were trying to joke us. But no such luck.

They say that the third time is the charm. Lets hope that Fate got her dates mixed and will remember us next Saturday. Everybody come out to the game and help the team to win.

HIKERS

Why didn't you go to Cedar Falls with the Hikers on Saturday? They left the Gym at 7:00 and were in Cedar Falls at 8:25. The Club spent half an hour going thru the power plant and started for Menomonie at 9:00 arriving at 10:30.

As pigeon catchers the Hikers would receive below zero, but Schafer said "I had my hands on one."

Do you realize that hiking is the healthiest and most congenial sport in Stout? It lasts thru the entire school year and you do not have to be an athlete to participate. There is no limit to the number that can belong to the Hikers. Get in on some of the good times and fresh air, by joining this week. Give your name to Crockett, the secretary, at once.

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philomathean Society met October 3., and elected the following officers: President, Kathryn McHenry; Vice-President, Rose Cashman; Secretary and Treasurer, Zoe Schafer. Miss Phillips was chosen as faculty adviser.

The membership is limited to fifty. A board of censorship, appointed by the president, will determine who shall become a member.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

When we go to some athletic event in which our school is interested, we like to hear good, rousing applause for any good play, and feel the enthusiasm that permeates the crowd. We call this school spirit. But does it extend no farther than to athletic events?

Surely we can apply it to advantage in our everyday school life; in our relations with the Faculty and our fellow students. School Spirit signifies fair play. Just think for a minute. Are you playing fair to the school? What about the little card of regulations given you at the beginning of the year? Surely you have not forgotten it? The next time you are tempted to break one of these rules, think what you would call a student who refused to applaud a good play on the football field, and then apply that name to yourself. Do you get the connection?

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. boys were encouraged by a brief account of the work as carried on at the larger colleges, as related by Mr. Sexaur.

The outline of this work by the chairman of the committee shows that the work is certainly progressing fast. The young men of the school of the city were extended a special invitation to come in and work with the Stout Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Steinke will lead the meeting next Sunday and he will have something worth hearing. Mr. Nelson will lead the singing. Mr. Bigelow is making the music one of the best parts of the services. Be there next Sunday morning at 8:30 and help make the "Y" what you would like it to be.

GLEE CLUB

The notice for the organizing of the Stout Glee Club, was responded to by thirty volunteers. All the students were given a tryout and the following were selected: Appleton, Bigelow, Bradshaw, Buss, Crippe, Dockar, Feist, Goodman, Hanson, Hasse, Jones, Kellerman, Lamb, Larson, Lampert, Nelson, Neupert, Purdy, Roise, and Saxhaug.

The first practice was held last Monday night in the gym. After an hour of lively singing a short business meeting was held. The regular election of officers takes place at the close of the first semester, so Mr. Bigelow, as president and Mr. O. Saxhaug, as vice president, retain their office from last year. Mr. S. Nelson was elected to fill the vacancy of treasurer, and Mr. O. Hansen as secretary.

The club will draw up a constitution and the organization will be made permanent.

Spend a few minutes to find out whether a thing is worth doing, before you spend hours in doing it.

PERSONAL

Mr. Forest Jones went to Wabasha Saturday morning.

Miss Caroline Helmer left Friday for a month's vacation.

Miss Esther McGregor went home to Minneapolis for the week end.

Harriet Koopman of the Annex, spent Saturday and Sunday in St. Paul.

Edna Boeberg's brother from Eau Claire, spent the week end in Menomonie.

Miss Geneveve Field returned Monday from a month's vacation, which she spent at Osseo.

Miss Esther Sullivan from St. Paul spent the week end with Ruth Sullivan at the Annex.

Dr. Vaughsburg from Green Bay spent Sunday with the Monk Twins at the Bertha Tainter Hall.

Edna Aune was taken to the hospital Thursday morning, to be treated for heart trouble.

Mrs. Bouchard from Eau Claire, spent the week end with her daughter, Helen, at the Annex.

Miss Margaret Wiemer's mother, two aunts, and three cousins, have been visiting her at Lynnwood.

Fifteen of the Girl Hikers walked to Rusk Saturday morning returning before twelve o'clock.

Miss Doris Ammerpohl's mother and father from Janesville Wis., have been visiting her at Lynnwood.

The Misses Bruce, Ware, Koch, Carey and Freeman entertained the "Pee Wee's" at the Royal Hotel Saturday evening.

Miss Leedom has had a serious attack of bronchitis, bordering on pneumonia. We are all hoping she may have a speedy recovery.

The second of the regular Stout dances was given Saturday night in the Armory. The crowd was much better than usual, and the music had all kinds of "pep" in it. The "pep" was surely appreciated by everyone.

Joyce Kelly and Helen Greenwood went in a car, to their home at Chippewa Falls Saturday afternoon.

SHOP NOTES

The class in Cabinet Construction has started their chafing dish cabinets. Christmas is coming girls, so polish up your chafing dishes.

We understand that the clean up period in the Brick Laying Shop is just as enjoyable as it was last year.

A large number of the Juniors have started on new work this week. Just a word to the wise, fellows:- start out strong, and keep your note-books up to date. They're valuable.

The work on the balconies in the Trade Building is progressing nicely. There will soon be lots of additional space for work and for class rooms.

How about our practice teaching? Are we inclined to slacken up a little toward the end? Let's work a little harder the next few weeks, and finish up right. The critics can discriminate between the workers and the shirkers.

We wonder if Psychology is still the Bugbear of the Juniors.

DEMONSTRATIONS

We have among us, some girls who some day will win renown as demonstrators. Mabel Anderson will be among the first to win distinction in this line. In giving a demonstration on the preparation of grape fruit, she held the attention of the class in a way that many professional demonstrators might envy. She began by saying that grape fruit is like a certain little girl, who, when she was good was very very good and when she was bad, was horrid. She emphasized the fact that grape fruit should be allowed to stand in sugar for several hours before serving, saying that it is bad enough to get up in the morning without having something bitter handed you, the first thing.

Thruout the whole demonstration her droll humor made itself evident, making the lesson one which will long be remembered by those who heard her.

We are always on the lookout for originalities in almost every line, and we welcome them, especially if they are practical.

One of the most clever demonstrations given last week was the one given by Miss Frances Martin, on the preparation of bananas for breakfast. Miss Martin worked on the theory that the indigestibility of raw bananas is due to the fact that they elude mastication, so she proceeded to put a banana thru a ricer. The result, when garnished with a flower cut from a red apple, was a very attractive and easily digested breakfast dish.

ASSEMBLY

In the true sense of the word efficiency has reference to machines and machinery and not to people as we often hear it used now. Efficiency is a very modern word and we find no reference to it in the works of the earlier writers as used in the sense that it is at present.

In the "Journal of Education" we find a few lines of poetry on efficiency.

"Efficiency, Efficiency,

I'm just a wee bit tired of thee,
Despite thy glittering brilliancy,
Despite thy self-sufficiency,
Despite the world-wide cry for thee,

I'm just a wee bit tired of thee,
Efficiency, Efficiency."

When we heard the wonderful music by Prince Lei Lani Wednesday evening and had the thought brought to us, "Is Efficiency All?" it made us stop to wonder.

The music given us by the Victrola Company was surely a worth-while advertisement.

While we all appreciate the regular assemblies and are conscious of their educational value to us, a variety is welcomed.

Although we had the "Sacrificial Song," sung to us Wednesday afternoon, the students all seem to be thoroughly alive as yet.

RAIN

We wonder why a little rain makes everything take on an indigo hue. Walk up the street on a rainy morning, and notice the gloomy expressions on the faces of the passers by. It's funny enough to make one forget the rain. Just because it is cloudy to-day, is no sign that the sun will not shine to-morrow. Hope for it at least; for Hope is the best friend we have.

Do you realize that a gloomy expression on one face will tend to make every face around it gloomy?

Come on, cheer up. What is the use of growling over a little damp weather? Lay it to the war, or to what you will, but get rid of the responsibility and GRIN.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting Tuesday. The topic of the meeting was "We," and each Cabinet Member gave a short sketch of her work in the organization, so as to enable new members to cooperate better with her. The enthusiasm shown was highly commendable. Come out next time, Tues. Nov. 9, and sing away your troubles. The soul suffers from lack of recreation, as does the body. Let us strive to keep the balance even.

FOOTBALL

Anything that isn't a defeat, must be put down as a victory, so we know where we stand. Lay it to what we will, but that little diversion on Friday evening put the fight into the team. They knew that we were back of them. Try it yourself once. Try tackling a bear alone, and then bring your lady friend next time, and see what the bear thinks. That's just what happened on the field Saturday to the line — almost. But why say more.

We saw how close our fellows came — almost, but not quite. Then again we held our breaths when the condition was reversed, when it almost, but not quite, happened. Many of us, no doubt, were surprised at the result, but let us remember that one word "Support," and three-fourths of the mystery is solved. We learned to, that, "Good goods are done up in small packages," when we think of the smaller fellows. Not throwing mud at the heavier fellows, tho; there wasn't any to throw. The girls sure demonstrated this fact, between halves.

Wasn't it Timm, whom we all feared, thundering across the white streaks, with the pigskin? The fellows seemed to just fall when he came! Did you see Frogner give him a bunny hug? Each and every individual on our team deserves all the praise we can give them, but say, let's do it orally! Let's put in a word for the fellows who were physically unable to scrap last Saturday, on account of previous games.

GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club is alive and growing, the enrollment has increased to twenty-two, the new members being Messrs. Stanton and Wicherski. The club is still open for those who wish to try out as tenors.

With the aid of Mr. Gregg as director and Miss Olson as pianist, together with the interest shown by the members, the club gives promise of being a very successful one this year.

Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday morning the meeting was conducted for the first time this year by one of our own members. Mr. Steinke's subject was "The Christian Athlete." The fact that one of us has started this, will make it easier for the next one to follow. It is not necessary to repeat the contents of the speech. Those who came were well repaid.

Next Sunday Mr. Davis will speak to us in a way that will be profitable to all.

GAVELEERS

The club enjoyed a decidedly interesting Shakesperian program at its last meeting. Under the capable leadership of Mr. Eslinger the members on the program portrayed some of the characters of "The Merchant Of Venice," as was originally intended by the great English bard. The court room scene was reproduced in veritable "Ben Greet" style.

Separate readings were also given by the players, and Mr. Eslinger read several extracts from Dr. Samuel Johnson's preface on Shakespeare.

PERSONAL

Dr. Williams of Chicago was a Sunday guest of Miss Elsie Middleton, Lynwood—How silently a noble mind doth draw another nigh. HA! HA!!

In Class Talks the students are criticized on the subject matter of their speeches. We wonder if the Faculty would accept criticisms on their talks in that regard? Plenty have been given; shall we print them?

Miss Mildred Rock spent the week end out of town.

Jessie Fredenberg and Catherine Freeman spent the week end at Eau Claire visiting friends.

Dorothy Hart and Bertina Pease went home to spend Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Marian Carey made the only touch-down Saturday afternoon.

The Misses Esther Grimstad, Esther Denninger, Mildred Nem-eck and Mary Maclin returned to the Annex from the Homemakers.

Harriet Koopman has her mother and father visiting her from St. Paul.

A young lady at the Football game was heard to remark "Oh, dear I'm afraid they are going to have to play another inning to play off the tie."

Stout Alumni Luncheon of Minneapolis and St. Paul at Donaldson's, 12:30 Sat. 60 c a plate.

Any guests in the city then are welcome. Notify Marjorie Sime, Y. W. C. A. St. Paul or Miss Dana, Central H.S. by Thurs. night.

HIKERS

The Hikers have hiked 1000 miles to date and are still going! Why don't you join them and get in on the fun and good training?

Nine members of the club went to Downsville Saturday, leaving the gym. at 6:05, and arriving at their destination at 7:50.

The bunch is going to make a trip to Eau Claire next Saturday morning, leaving the gym. at 5:00.

A Corner of the Armory

SENIOR PROM

The Senior class has undoubtedly lived up to its reputation by giving one of the most successful Senior Proms ever given. The Prom given by them last year is certainly worth recalling, but we can say without the least doubt that the one given last Friday night was decidedly better, and one that is almost impossible to surpass.

It was held in the Stout Armory which had been decorated and transformed into the most beautiful scene imaginable for this splendid occasion. The hall was decorated with boughs and white cloth; also cornstalks and jack-o-lanterns added to the beauty of the scene. The ceiling was arched and the rude girders and walls were entirely hidden from view. Subdued lighting was secured by means of Japanese lanterns. Scattered around the hall were attractive cozy corners comfortably fitted with pillows, and blankets and rustic benches, which made very comfortable resting places. Miss Evelyn Van Stratum was chairman of the decorating committee.

The large number of students were welcomed by the reception committee. The Grand March followed, and it was surprising how attractive it was, and how it was so nicely carried out, considering the floor space and the number of students. The orchestra was placed in the middle of the floor, and they rendered some very excellent music. The program was equally enjoyed by students and faculty as everyone reported having had an excellent time. For those who did not dance an entertainment was given on the third floor.

FOOTBALL

Last Saturday we beat River Falls by a score of 19-0. From the outset the game seemed to be in Stout's favor. Both teams played an interesting, and exciting game, which was well attended by a crowd of rooters. Three touchdowns were made. Becker scored two by exciting end runs, aided by good interference. Frogner scored the third by receiving a well executed forward pass, and succeeded in crossing the goal line. The players who received slight injuries were Erdlitz, Hager and Sipple.

The student body and Faculty were well represented at the game. This shows the spirit that we need here at Stout. If this attitude continues, athletics promise to be more of a success than ever before. Now that the football season is nearly ended, we must preserve our pep until basketball holds our interest. Next Saturday Stout will probably have another game here. Play hard fellows and win another victory.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y.M.C.A. held its regular meeting last Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Holm. Mr. Davis of the Agriculture School gave an effective talk on "The Bible in Business" which was surely enjoyed by all who heard it. He gave us several good maxims, a few of which are:

"Perseverance conquers all things."

"Drive thy business and let not thy business drive thee."

"Choose an occupation and stick to it."

"Keep good company or none."

When such maxims are used by the most efficient business men, as Mr. Davis told us, why wouldn't it be possible for us to do likewise.

Next Sunday Mr. Edgar Schulz will speak to us at the usual hour.

For whose benefit were the Stout buildings erected, the "JANITORS," teachers or students? Will some one please answer this question in the next issue of the STOUTONIA?

HIKERS

"Roll Call! 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, Ump-de-da-da, Boom! Boom!!"

The Hikers went to Eau Claire Saturday and they sure had some time. They left when most of the people of Stout were still sawing wood. They saw the sun come up in the East, and make the trip to the centre of the sky. So you see, they started at 5:00 in the morning and reached Eau Claire at noon, with two stop-overs of half an hour each, at Elk Mound and Brady's Store. They took on supplies at these two places.

The Hikers Quartet was heard at its high mark all the way, singing to the cows and other unfortunate beasts on the roadside, all the popular airs of the last century.

At Eau Claire the Hikers were royally treated by the Y. M. C. A. where they had a shower bath, followed by a plunge in the pool. The hikers returned on the 2:20 out of Eau Claire.

For the benefit of those that stayed home and tore down the decorations for the Prom, there will be another hike to Eau Claire Saturday, leaving the gym. at 5:00.

CANNING

The first six weeks of Senior Cookery were spent, as usual, in the canning, pickling and preserving of fruits and vegetables, the products to be used by the people at Bertha Tainter Hall and the "House Management" House. Three hundred and fifty quarts of peaches, pears, plums, pickles, jam and beets, sixteen quarts of grape juice and ninety-five glasses of jelly went to Bertha Tainter Hall alone. By using this plan, much more of this work can be given the students than if there was no definite use for the fruit and vegetables prepared in this way. The girls are able to enjoy, thru the winter months, the results of some of their own work.

WANTED A NAME

Man may come and man may go but his name may go on forever, and so it is with a book. The Stout Annual is lacking a name. All the other School Annuals have one. Think of an appropriate name; write it on the slip contained in this paper, and drop in an Annual box, located in the upper and lower halls of the main building.

All names must be in Friday night, Nov. 12.

If the name handed in by you is chosen it shall appear in the 1916 Annual, and to you shall be awarded one of the Annuals.

Remember what a name means.

LYNWOOD HALL PARTY

Friday night the Lynwood Seniors gave the Juniors a novel party. They requested the guests to wear their hair down their backs and presented them with green hair ribbons. At the appointed hour, the Juniors appeared in open confession of their condition in green caps labeled JUNIORS.

The party proceeded to the Grand, where a large section was reserved for them. After returning to the hall, the Juniors were subjected to a clever initiation. Dainty refreshments were served later in the evening. All went to their rooms feeling that the Seniors were splendid hostesses, and all were better acquainted with the entire Lynwood family.

WHERE WE STAND

After the last few issues of the STOUTONIA, or rather, after the football team had succeeded in getting some hold on glory, kicks began to be registered regarding the attitude of the paper toward the athletic events. Incidentally, these have been made by the members of the team or by those closely associated with it. We wonder if that points anything out?

The main trouble seems to be the fact that we are running a school paper, and not a sporting edition. We print a write-up of the game, and not a stereotyped form of score, positions and slang. Of course, it would be nice if every fellow could have his name before the public in print, each week; but we can't see that the case is warranted by the facts. If a man does something very much out of the ordinary — like making a touchdown, for instance — he gets his share of the write-up; if he doesn't, he gets sore and complains about it.

We have heard it mentioned that football should have at least one page of publicity, even at the expense of some of that "sissy dope," meaning, doubtless, the Y. W., the Y. M., the Gaveleers or the Hikers. Of course, these are organizations in which less than the total number of football men are interested.

We have a box in the hall, meant to receive written contributions to the STOUTONIA. If you have a kick, write it out, and sign your name to it. We will not print your name if you are afraid of that sort of publicity.

The odor of gas is stifling; we prefer that of ink.

STATE ASS'N NOTES

Of the four numbers on the program given by the Home Economics section of the The Teachers' Association at Milwaukee, last week, two were furnished by Stout Alumni; the secretary, a Stout Alumnus, and the newly elected president. We have reason to be proud of such honors, but it is up to us to live up to the standards set. Keep a-going!

GAVELEERS

With O. W. Hasse as chairman of the program committee tonight the club will be entertained by a musical program.

Briefly mentioned, the program will be a selection by the Stout Quartette, a solo by S. Nelson, a reading by W. Wicherski, and A. Tews, an instrumental duet by Neupert and R. M. Bradshaw, and other instrumental numbers.

Altho a week late, the halloween program last Wednesday evening was enjoyed by all present. Halloween yarns were spun in answer to roll call, the origin of Halloween was related by H. G. Clarke, and a "Halloween Tale" read by A. C. Erickson.

HIKERS

Four members of the Hikers went to Downsville last Saturday leaving the gym. at 6:40 and reaching Downsville at 8:30. The return trip was started at 9:00 and finished at 11:30. Watch the bulletin board for the notice of the hike this week.

Little sayings from exam. papers. "The chief occupation of the Swiss people is raising dairy cattle and guides for the tourists."

FOOTBALL

The Football team will leave Saturday for Minneapolis where they will compete with the Minnesota Aggies. This is the last game of the season for our team, and the men are anxious to win, as this will be, for many, the last opportunity they will have to play for Stout. Tews and Krick will not be able to take part in this game, owing to injuries received during the week. The rest of the team are in the pink of condition and expect to win.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting Tues., Nov. 6. Miss Baker and Miss Kugel gave a report of the Leaders Conference at Chicago, at which they represented our society. Many suggestions as to the work to follow here, were given.

Miss Richardson, who is the secretary of this field, will be with us Nov. 20, 21. Come out and learn the plans for the rally. The busiest people always find time to do the greatest variety of things. Are you busy? Well then, be out at Y. W. C. A. Nov. 20.

CHRYSANTHEMUM LUNCHEON

The members of the Home Economics Faculty were most delightfully entertained at a luncheon given by the Misses Della Payne, Elsie Isenberg, Edith Zaring, Lorenza Schantz Hansen, and Francis Dunning, at the home of Mrs. G. W. Thompson, on Saturday, November, the sixth. The color scheme of yellow was carried out in the decorations, which consisted of chrysanthemums and yellow daisies. Soft strains of Hawaiian music added charm to the occasion.

The success of this luncheon is only another evidence of the many capabilities developed here by Stout students.

PERSONAL

Miss Irwin spent the week end in Milwaukee.

Mr. Leyse and Miss Gertrude Leyse visited Viola Leyse at the Annex last week.

Miss Imogene Pearce went shopping to Eau Claire Saturday.

Miss Kugel attended the state convention in Milwaukee this week end.

The Misses Voelker and Lydia Terant spent the week end in Durand and Eau Claire.

The girl hikers could not go on their hike Saturday because, as usual, their captain did not show up.

Mr. Dave Truax and Mr. Walter Boberg, from Eau Claire, visited friends in Menomonie, over Sunday.

Mr. Leonard Allison, who is on the Carlton Football Squad spent Sunday with Miss Lucille Welch.

"Art" Rolfe spent Sunday with Miss Olson of Lynwood, on his return from Beloit, where he had assisted Carleton in effecting a victory in football the day previous.

Miss Bernice Nolen of Tainter Hall was surprised Sunday afternoon by friends who were motoring thru.

Mrs. Knight from Ft. Wayne, Indiana, is visiting her daughter Dorothy Knight at 1012 Sixth St.

Arthur Schwing from Owatonna, Minnesota, spent the week end in Menomonie.

Olga Runstrom of Ironwood, Michigan, and Allan Hahn were married Friday night. They will make their home in Bismarck, South Dakota.

Great excitement reigned in Tainter Hall last Saturday afternoon, when a big 57 pound box of eats was delivered to the Monk twins. The fried chicken, cakes, and all other dainties which the box contained were enjoyed immensely by the Hall girls Saturday evening. Have a birthday again, soon, girls.

Mrs. Hahn, looking over fittings in the plumbing department—"If an Elbow and a Tee were to marry, would that make a union?"

MASQUERADE PARTY

Saturday night the Seniors of the Annex entertained the Juniors with a masquerade party. Everyone gathered in the living room about 7:30 and soon the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Harriet Koopman, were heard, and a wedding party filed down from the second floor. Lottie Peterson officiated as the minister, Henrietta Wells was the bride, and Marie Carpenter the groom.

The bridal party consisted of Mayfred McKenzie and Joyce Kelley as flower girls; R. MacLin as best man, Imogene Pearse, the maid of honor; and the bride's parents, who were Ethel Feldkirchner, the mother, and Ouanita Geffert, the father. After the wedding, cookies were served by the Chinese cook, Ethel Van Stratum.

Many different characters were represented, as: "Gold Dust Twins," "Clowns," etc.

During the evening the Juniors were given a chance to impersonate the Seniors. At the end of the evening Buster Brown gave a "Resolve" that the Seniors party was one huge success and that the Juniors would in turn try to do the same for the Juniors next year.

FOOTBALL

We regret that we could not print all of the football article, as it was an excellent review of the team's work during the past season. -Editor

With only four of last year's men reporting for practice the student Coaches, Schott, Hager and Frogner, faced a serious problem, for Stout had the heaviest schedule in her history. The Coaches were agreeably surprised to find quite a bit of material in the Junior class.

Most teams have a paid coach whose sole duty it is to develop and turn out a winning team and who makes athletics his life work, while we depend upon student coaches and in the majority of cases these student Coaches have no previous experience whatever. When one considers that our team has only one hour a day three nights of the week for practice, added to the above facts, one can't help but pronounce Stout's worst athletic year a success and this year's football season far from being the worst.

With a dozen of this year's squad remaining, around which to build a team, Stout should enjoy a better season yet next year, for the prospects are far brighter for next year's team than they were for this.

BLAME THE EDITOR

For the past five or six weeks, we have heard a number of complaints of various natures, regarding the material that goes into the paper. We will not repeat them, but we shall give a little explanation, so the blame may be placed on the proper individual.

Each week the staff meets and plans the paper for the following week, allotting a certain amount of space to a certain write-up. Very often a social function of some sort takes place, and a report is submitted for publication. This is not expected when the paper is planned, and consequently, if such a report does not find its way into the paper, the participants feel slighted. It is not, however, the intention of the editor to treat material in this manner. Neither do we wish to convey the idea that we do not want your material.

Frequently, too, we have more material than we could possibly publish, and as we have not the mechanical ability to publish a larger paper, some material must be omitted. However, if the nature of the report will permit, it will appear in the following issue.

Some time ago, an organization submitted a report for the paper, which, thru an oversight of the editor failed to be published. Since that time this organization has submitted no report. The editor wishes to take this opportunity to apologize for this negligence, and will not permit it to occur later.

If there is anything that goes wrong with the material for the paper, blame the Editor. While the other members of the staff submit material, reports, etc., the editor is there to take every ounce of the blame. Don't blame the others. Blame the Editor. Do not only tell the others of it; tell the editor. Write out your complaint, and give your name, tell it orally, or talk by hand. You will find his name on the first line under the heading, "Board of Editors." Have him pointed out to you, if you don't know who he is. He is more than willing to carry away all the blame, no matter if it will make two loads.

Anyone wishing back numbers of the Stoutonia, may leave orders for same with the Business Manager, Harry Peterson. They will be delivered at a later date.

PARCEL POST SHOWER

A most unexpected shower was tendered Beatrice Bruce, at the Annex, Thursday, November the third, in the form of a parcel post shower. She was the recipient of many useful household articles, which were displayed to the many curious onlookers. Heartiest "congrats" were extended Miss Bruce, but mystery surrounds the rumors afloat ????????

SENIORS

Have you had your picture taken?

BETTER HURRY

Only a few days left.

HIKERS

Six bold and faithful members of the Hikers braved the cold Saturday morning last, and made the trip to Knapp. The balance of the club, as near as can be learned, spent the better part of the morning sleeping. Why not stop this lazy habit of sleeping late on Saturday and get the fresh air that is made for our use?

Last Saturday's trip started at 6:00, arriving at Knapp 8:50. The return trip was started at 9:35, and ended at 12:35.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. met at the usual hour last Sunday morning. Mr. R. H. Rogers spoke to us in his usual pleasing manner on the subject, "Our Working Creed." There is no doubt that the talk was enjoyed and appreciated by all who heard it. The following are only few of the vital questions which Mr. Rogers put before us, and truly they are worth careful consideration: "Are my actions such that they are going to make my associates act differently." "Is your creed such that you are a positive influence in your community or, is it negative?" "What can we as students or as teachers bring to our work in the line of a creed?" Next Sunday Mr. Holm will speak to us at the usual hour.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

A most unique and original entertainment was provided for the Gavelers last Wednesday evening, by O. Hasse. We heard both vocal and instrumental selections; the former being given by the Stout Quartet and the latter by Messrs. Timbers, Nelson, Bigelow, and Shatto. In addition to this, Tews and Wicherski gave very interesting talks on the history of music.

This evening P. F. A. Minne will be chairman of the program committee. The program will consist of a talk, "A Vocation," by A. Hippaka; selection on the bagpipes, by J. Dockar; and a reading by H. Steinke.

There is a standing invitation to all who wish to attend the programs.

PERSONAL

What does it cost to get a co-education?

Miss Saline Marks spent Saturday shopping in Eau Claire.

Miss Gertrude Fieweger spent the week end in Eau Claire.

Miss Grace Augustine went to Minneapolis Friday night.

Miss Mildred Nemeck went to the Cities for the Chicago—Minnesota game.

Miss Louise Williams is reported to be ill with the measles.

Mr. Thomas Christoffel has been ill with the measles for the past week.

Mr. M. J. Bruce spent Sunday with his daughter Beatrice Bruce at the Annex.

The Misses Sue Masal and Laura Hamilton were the guests of Harriet Koopmann over the week end.

Miss Hilda Ashback went to Minneapolis Monday afternoon to attend her brother's wedding.

Mrs. Hulbush has been visiting her daughter Nora on a return trip from Indiana.

Miss Helen Greenwood, who was taken home last Thursday on account of a slight attack of appendicitis, has returned to school.

Mr. O. E. Brunkow spent the week end in Minneapolis visiting relatives and friends. He attended the Chicago—Minnesota game.

Mr. J. Steendahl, and Mr. L. O. Olson spent the week end in the cities, the latter visiting relatives and friends at the "U." They saw the Chicago - Minnesota game.

Mrs. Hahn again visits the plumbing department and remarks, "If the boiler sprung a leak would the kitchen sink."

An aircraft squadron has attacked Nancy. Will this war on women never cease?

ASSEMBLY

A most unusual and interesting demonstration on the resuscitation of a drowned person was given at our weekly assembly last Wednesday. Presented at a time of the year when accidents of this nature are very apt to occur, it showed us, in a very vivid manner, that presence of mind, combined with tireless energy and a thorough knowledge of the necessary operations required, are absolutely essential in an emergency of this kind.

Mr Mauthe was very ably assisted by Mr. Becker in this demonstration, while Dr. Butler explained to us the principle of the operation, and the use of the pulmotor.

Following this, the Boy's Glee Club rendered a number of excellent vocal selections. The first number was, "I Think of Thee, Margareta," by Meyer Holmind, followed by the selection "Dat Watermillion," by T. P. Westendorf. In the latter the solo was carried by Mr. S. E. Nelson. The last number was "The Sunday School Scholar," which was also very good. Miss Fannie Olson was the accompanist.

The singing was certainly appreciated by all, and many wish that we could hear the glee club each week.

THESIS DINNER

The first practical thesis of this year was given Friday night, when a semi-formal dinner was served to the members of the Faculty and a few of their friends. The menu was as follows:

Fruit Cocktail
Celery	Olives	Jelly
Roast	Turkey—Dressing
Mashed Potatoes	Peas Gravy
	Cranberry Ice
Rolls		Butter
Perfection Salad		Wafers
Mince and Pumpkin Pie
Cheese		Coffee
Nuts		Raisins

Every item given in the menu was prepared in an appetizing manner and each course served with a precision and grace that showed the thoroughness of the training our young ladies are receiving.

The music and readings given at the close of the dinner were much appreciated.

The decorations of smilax and fruit baskets made of pumpkins were as appropriate to the season as was the Thanksgiving menu.

The problem of the dinner was most excellently planned and executed by the Misses Beatrice Bruce, Beata Moline, Olga Nogard, Marian Rollins, Sarah Anderson and Vere Murray.

A BOY'S REMARKS

TO HIS STOMACH

What's the matter with you—ain't
I always been your friend?
Ain't I been a partner to you? All
my pennies don't I spend
In getting nice things for you?
Don't I give you lots of cake?
Say, Stummick, what's the matter,
that you had to go and ache?
Why, I loaded you with good things
yesterday. I gave you more Potatoes, squash and turkey than you'd ever had before!
I gave you nuts and candy, pumpkin
pie and chocolate cake—
And last night when I got to bed you had to go and ache!
Say, what's the matter with you?
Ain't you satisfied at all?
I gave you all you wanted; you was
hard just like a ball;
And you couldn't hold another bit of
puddin', yet last night
You ached mos' awful, Stummick;
that ain't treatin' me just right!
I've been a friend to you, I have;
why ain't you been a friend of mine?
They gave me castor oil last night
because you made me whine.
I'm awful sick this mornin', and I'm
feelin' mighty blue,
Becoz you don't appreciate the things
I do for you!

PATRONESS' PARTIES

Most delightful, informal parties were given Saturday, in a number of the homes of the city, to the students and teachers of the Home Economics
Department. Each Patroness was hostess to a group of fourteen girls who were allotted to her. The hours were from three to five, and simple refreshments were served by each hostess at four o'clock.

The giving of these parties is a most charming way these ladies have
of showing their friendliness toward the girls. The girls, in turn, are deeply appreciative of this kindness.

JUNIOR MEETING

A meeting of the Junior class was held last Thursday, at 4:15, in the Armory, for the purpose of electing permanent officers. The following were elected:

President — Mr. Lamb
Vice President — Miss Cooley
Treasurer — Mr. Peterson
Secretary — Miss Boberg

Y. M. C. A.

To be sure, last Sunday morning
was a bright and frosty one, but that was not all. Under the leadership of Mr. Erickson the Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting.

Mr. Harshbarger reviewed the question of "Prayer" in a very forcible manner. The speaker brot out many of the underlying principles which we so often neglect. Thru illustrations the talk was made very effective.

Y. W. C. A.

Miss Richardson, the Field Secretary of this district, was with the Stout society last week end. Saturday afternoon, the patronesses
gave a tea to the students. The entertainment provided in the different homes was very unique and the girls
all enjoyed the diversion from the regular week end reaction.

Sunday P. M. a Vesper Service was held so that Miss Richardson might become acquainted with our society and give us an idea of the work done elsewhere.

HAVE YOU A HOBBY ?

That exercise is good for health and conducive to continual good health is an axiom. Exercise and recreation should be inseparable. A person's daily exercise ought to be his hobby. No matter how poor the hobby ; if it induces out door exercise, it is justifiable.

All out door games such as: tennis, golf, baseball, basketball, and football afford excellent exercise. Three good games capable of affording proper exercise to those most needing it, considering age, and occupation are golf, tennis and croquet.

A gymnasium holds a valuable place. The number of games that may be played in a gymnasium gives good opportunity for recreation to those who have access to it.

After all there is only one form of exercise that is available and suitable for all ages and conditions and in all seasons. Walking is a universal pastime. It is a form of exercise which has been a favorite ever since it was introduced by the Greeks hundreds of years ago.

The Life Extension Institute, an organization devoted to the purpose of keeping people well, advocates walking as the surest method of securing daily exercise. The students that have any distance to walk to school, should make it their daily exercise and enjoy it instead of thinking it a drudge. Correct walking develops a good posture. We are in danger of deteriorating unless we hold fast to some old fashioned principles of physical upkeep. The rising death rate after forty is a warning.

PHILOMATHEAN

The following program was given by the Philomathean Society Nov. 16.

Parliamentary Drill	Norma Froelich
Piano Solo	Mabel Sneen
Book Report on "The Toils"	Gladys Condie
Paper on "The New Industry"	Bertha Pease
Reading	Margaret Weimer
Discussion on "Conditions to the Normal Welfare of Girl Workers"	Dorothy Knight
Vocal Duet	Blanche Doughty
	Marsha Fitch

This was a very credible program, being exceedingly instructive as well as entertaining.

GIRLS ATTENTION!

On Friday Night at 7:30 in the Kindergarten Rooms of the Central Building, there will be a Baby Party for all the Home Economics Students. Come in costume.

GAVELEERS

At the forty - seventh regular session, last week, the club was entertained by a program provided by P. Minne. Mr. Hippaka gave an interesting account of his vacation. He enumerated a number of obstacles which he encountered, and related how they were overcome. Mr. Docker took us with him to the hills of Scotland, where he rendered a number of typically Scotch musical selections on the bagpipes. Later he explained the construction and action of his instrument. Mr. Steinke's oration "The Predatory Rich" was very well rendered. It is quite evident that he has unusual ability in this line.

PERSONAL

Miss Loretta Engler will spend Thanksgiving in Spooner, Wisconsin.

Miss Harriet Koopman spent the week end with her parents in St. Paul.

Mr. Stewart Schaefer will spend his Thanksgiving vacation in Wausau Wisconsin.

Miss Ruth Chambers will go to Cumberland, Wisconsin for the holidays.

Mr. Edgar Schulz will spend the holidays in Minneapolis.

Thursday night a trunk for Mr. Holm was delivered at the Annex??

Miss Beatrice Bruce will spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Chippewa Falls.

Miss Agnes Boss will entertain out of town guests during the vacation.

Friday night a Stout Dance was given in the gymnasium. Everyone present had a very good time.

Mr. Luellan Spangler who is attending the "U" of Wisconsin will spend Thanksgiving day with his sister, Luella Spangler, of the Annex.

PRACTICAL THESES

Last Tuesday there was an excellent attendance at assembly. Every one came early to get a good seat. Rumors of a millinery demonstration were afloat, and so, of course everyone, even the men, wondered just what was going to happen.

Lo! when we arrived the curtain was down, and an air of mystery prevailed. When it was lifted, we beheld a millinery shop, so attractive that even the most prosaic would be tempted to step in "just to try on" one or two of the bonnets displayed.

Miss Constance Ware opened the discussion by defining a hat and its purposes. By use of living models, she made very clear to us the effect of the style of a hat and its adaptation to the wearer and her costume. She also discussed the aim of the course in Millinery as given here, saying that its main aim is not to make milliners of the girls who take it, but to give them a knowledge of the sort of hats to buy and to wear.

Miss Jessie Fredenburg continued by giving the history of hats, methods of making frames and discussing present styles and prices. She, using living models, showed the effect of colors in hats, upon various types of girls.

The French maid and the messenger boy helped to make the shop very realistic. In fact, the whole demonstration showed excellent organization in every detail.

This method of demonstrating might be used with good effect to make popular any subject. Let us hear from the men.

THE TOWER

Did you ever stop to think: What is most conspicuous about Stout? What looms up most distinctly at a distance? What is the most distinctive feature of the Stout architecture? What is the highest exponent of skilled labor on our buildings? What tells us from whence the breezes blow and whither they go? What is consulted most frequently? What warns the tardy scholar, the belated stroller, and the burner of the midnight oil?

The Tower, the answer to these questions, seems a most appropriate name for our annual. In addition to being typical of our school by its prominence, it suggests the standards of our work, and the height of our ambitions. It has a dignity befitting the annual of an institution of such a character.

To Mr. Harry Crockett, we are indebted for the name.

RESPONSIBILITY

Do you fully realize the meaning of the term, or is it merely a word, in which the letters are grouped in a certain sequence of place? Does the stimulus offered by this word, bring to your mind a certain association of ideas, or perhaps cause you to recall an obligation or promise on your part?

How many of us have ever stopped to consider that with the passing of the years, and the progress of our development, both physically and mentally, that the burden of responsibility weighs more heavily upon our shoulders than before? How many of us are in that class of individuals, who, when the opportunity presents itself, are but too eager to shift this burden to the shoulders of our neighbor? Is it the man, is it the woman, who will do this?

Shall we not, altho we may be laboring under serious difficulties, assume that portion of responsibility that should rightfully fall upon us?

Or shall we throw our present responsibility to the winds, assume it in some other situation, and then seek our goal? Let us think and consider carefully, before we act.

ATHLETIC MEETING

At the last board meeting it was decided to award the football S's and Monograms. They will be presented to the qualified players at the annual football dance December third.

Y. W. C. A.

Friday evening, about thirty of the Y. W. C. A. girls appeared at the Kindergarten Rooms of the Central Building, dressed as small children. The evening was spent in playing kindergarten games such as, "Farmer in the Dell" and "Tin man." Later in the evening pop corn and stick candy was served. All present had a most enjoyable time.

BASKETBALL

The Senior-Junior game played November 23 resulted in a score of 45-12 in favor of the Seniors. We are fortunate in having good material from which to pick the first team.

Stout has a heavy schedule and the material looks very promising.

The coach is going to give a try-out to about eight or nine men.

The first game of the season will be played in the Stout armory, Sat. evening Dec. 4, against a team from Wilson. This team is composed of two former St. Olaf stars, the Principal of the Wilson H. S., and two men from Iola, Wis., who played on the Busley College team, which, two years ago, lost but one game. A game with Hamline "U" was scheduled, but was cancelled on account of some misunderstanding. Stout will play the "U" of Minnesota at Minneapolis December 11. It is the intention to to play Winona Y.M.C.A. December 18, and Luther College at Decorah, Iowa, December 20. Kewatin Academy or some other team will be scheduled the 21st or 22nd en route.

Mr. Mauthe attended the Athletic Association Conference at the U. of Minnesota, at which Minnesota, Dakota, and Iowa were represented. Rules governing basketball were interpreted and discussed. Mr. Mauthe secured some good ideas which will be of value to our players.

ATHLETIC FINANCES

Mr. Mauthe gave a talk this morning on the financial status of the Athletic Association. He mentioned the closing of the football season, which left a small deficit for this year. The finances stand as follows:

Expenses.....	$118.22
Receipts	31.90
Deficit	86.32
Deficit, last year	197.61
Total	283.93

Last year there were various plans carried out for obtaining money, among them the candy sale, the football dance, and the basket ball receipts. It is hoped that the basket ball season this year will clear up the indebtedness.

The football dance established a precedent last year, and it was decided to make it an annual affair. The football men, however, wanted the receipts to go toward buying their sweaters, but this met with some opposition on the part of the Athletic Board. The price of the dance was thot to be rather high by some of the fellows and Mr. Mauthe asked for expressions on the part of some of the students. Harshbarger, and some others, talked; Bigelow misused the English language; Mr. Rogers arose and said something.

There was a motion made that the price of the dance be made fifty cents and the proceeds go to the Athletic Association. After some discussion, this was passed by the unanimous vote of the students.

If you dance, get a ticket. If you do not indulge, your half-dollar will be just as effective in helping to defray the athletic debt.

See Mr. Leonard Olson or Mr. Brunkow at your earliest convenience.

13TH ANNUAL WISCONSIN OLDER BOYS' CONFERENCE

Over seven hundred older boys from every portion of the State of Wisconsin assembled at Eau Claire Nov. 26, 27, and 28, for the greatest conference of its kind that has ever been held in this State.

Each one of the delegates from Menomonie and Stout Institute, who attended the Conference report a very profitable and enjoyable time.

It certainly was a wonderful sight to see a crowd, seven hundred strong, all wide awake young men, assembled for a single purpose, standing for a certain thing, and intent upon attaining the convention's object—developing the moral side of life.

Friday at 4:30 Rev. F. H. Brigham of Janesville spoke on the Christian life.

"Study to show thyself approved unto God and be not ashamed." This was one of his strong points. He reminded us of the fact that there can be no bluffing in Christian Work.

Friday evening over 700 boys gathered at the tables in Fournier's Academy where they were served by the Eau Claire High School Girls. The roof fairly quivered in resistance of the strain placed upon it as the boys gave their yells and united in singing "On Wisconsin."

There is no reason why every one cannot be the "best man" and successfully traverse the path of life, declared Mr. Alexander, of Chicago. Mr. Alexander fairly exudes good humor and certainly was with the boys.

"Any man who smokes is a 'durned' fool and a man who 'cusses' is ten species of a 'durned' fool; they are only so much excess baggage. I was going to call them beastly habits, but I don't want to wrong the beasts."

"The man who swears tags himself. He is ignorant, uninformed, mentally weak, normally wrong, religiously stupid, socially cheap and generally low born or ill bred. Not being able to reason, think, analyze, express, vocalize and articulate in decent fashion—he swears."

The benefits to be derived from a conference of this kind are unlimited, and, although there were seven representatives from Stout, there might have been more. We should take advantage of these things which are so closely related to our work, and never miss an opportunity to receive inspiration, such as was to be had at Eau Claire.

LET'S CO-OPERATE

Yes, let's do it!

Not only in the carrying out of one idea, or plan, but in everything. Break loose! It takes only once. The next time it's easier, and so on. Start now! Get others with you. Someone is eager to help, — if some one starts first. Can't you do it?

Fellows, let's not limit this to activities which we have among ourselves. Let's help the girls in their line. It's often said that the fellows don't show as much interest in the girl's work, as they show in that done by the fellows.

Does co-operation bring anything to us? It creates an attitude of willing readiness. It is an incentive toward harder work, higher standards and higher ideals. It awakens in the individual a feeling that he is a part of a whole, closely related and affiliated with the enterprises of his neighbor.

Do you get the connection? Keep the ball rolling.

Y. M. C. A.

The young men present at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday morning had a unusual treat in hearing

Rev. Dinsdale speak on "Life's Objective." The following are only a few of the reminders which the speaker left with us:

"That Christ is life's true objective."

"Because Christ has been with us we are a progressive nation."

"That the great objective of living is to make life, and to make it helpful and a blessing to those with whom we come into contact."

Next Sunday Mr. Eslinger will speak at the usual hour. Why not be there?

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philomathean Society met Tuesday evening, Nov. 30, but instead of having the usual program, a social hour was enjoyed. The guests were entertained with music and games, after which refreshments were served.

It is hoped that we shall have many such social affairs throughout the year.

GAVELEERS

At the regular meeting last Wednesday, a humorous program was given, as follows: The Young Man Waited, Man, Mr. Crockett; Peter's Ride to the Wedding, Mr. Owen; A Swimming Lesson, Mr. Lampert; Two Wandering Jews, Mr. Blum; Chairman, Mr. Steinke.

Response to roll call, a humorous story.

At the meeting, Wednesday, Dec. 8th. the following program is to be anticipated: The Private School, Mr. Benjamin; Ups & Downs of Teaching, Mr. Harshbarger; Chairman, Mr. Erickson. Response to Roll Call, The last "Spat" with a teacher.

BASKETBALL

The Stout five scored a victory over Wilson last Saturday in a walk-away game. The final score was 68 to 12. From the start of the game our men jumped into the lead and piled up a score that could not be beaten. The Wilson team was completely baffled by Stout's style of playing. Team work featured the play of our aggregation. All of our men played a fast, snappy game and showed excellent form in shooting baskets.

A preliminary game was played by the Senior and Junior teams. The Seniors ran away with the Juniors by a score of 25 to 15.

The line-up of our first team was as follows: guards, Hager and Lampert; forwards, Mauch and Gullickson; center, H. A. Schott. J. G. Schott, Sipple, and Olson, played during the second half of the game. Saturday Stout plays the Minnesota "U" at Minneapolis.

ANNUAL FOOT BALL DANCE

Friday evening, the Annual Football Dance was given in the gymnasium. The music which was furnished by Mr. Stori, "Mike" Timbers and Mr. Mallory, was excellent, and was appreciated by everyone.

Mint punch was served during the evening by "Mutt" and "Jeff," who created quite a sensation, presiding at the punch-bowl.

Several members of the faculty were present and took part in the dancing. During the evening two musical numbers were rendered by the Male Quartet, following which Mr. Mauthe presented the football men with their monograms and "S's." He reviewed the football season, giving the work of each individual player, and of the team as a whole.

A demonstration of football as it will be played in 1930, was given by the team. Dancing was then resumed and continued until 11:30.

Men who received monograms: Hughes, Chamberlain, Van Gent, Gullickson, and Neupert. Men who received letters: Tews, Sprague, Becker, Erdlitz, Blum, Sipple, Kellerman, Olson, Krick, Lampert, Miller, and Nyhus. Last Year's Men who received letters: Hager, Frogner, Bradshaw and Schott. There will be six juniors left for next year's team.

MILLINERY EXHIBIT

Those who attended the Semi-Annual Millinery Opening in room 22 on Saturday, were greatly pleased by the display of hats and flowers made by the seniors of the Home Economics Department. One especially interesting thing about the display was the fact that there were no two hats alike.

Cedar boughs and baskets of sweet peas and chrysanthemums were the main features of the decorations which so completely transformed the room. Tea and cookies were served during the afternoon.

PHILOMATHEAN SOCIETY ENTERTAINS AT ASSEMBLY

In commemoration of the birthday anniversary of Ellen H. Richards, the so-called Mother of Home Economics, the Philomathean society gave a very interesting and instructive program, during the assembly hour last Wednesday.

Dr. Harvey placed the assembly in the hands of the president, Miss Kathryn McHenry who presented the purpose of the Philomathean Society as being: to create the spirit of good fellowship, to acquire ability in the speaking of correct English; and to acquire general literary information thru the united efforts of its members.

The society this year has been limited to fifty members, each one of whom must appear on a program at least once each semester. That the work of the society is beneficial as well as entertaining was shown by the girls who represented the society Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Saliene Marks showed how from her youth Ellen Richards strove to get an education and later gave her life, time and money to the Home Economics Movement. Miss Agnes McHenry in her talk on the works of Ellen H. Richards, showed how her early domestic career in her home laid the best kind of a foundation for her future work, how the perfection with which she performed the homeliest tasks, was the best asset she had at the most intricate periods of her life, and how her great ambition enabled her to carry out every project attempted.

Miss Zoe Shafer presented The Influence of Ellen H. Richards on Home Economics, showing that it was she who established this great movement and that it was she who was the largest factor in maintaining its progress during her life. Lastly, Mrs. Richards' ultimate aim for Home Economics was, "To make the home more nearly an ideal for the life of the race."

FOR THE QUERY BOX

"Doesn't Annual mean yearly?"

A Junior wants to know,

"And how, then, can an annual board
Meet every week or so?"

"There's something else I'd like
explained,

It has troubled me of late.

When you want to set a sink trap,

What do you use for bait?"

The Junior's little queries

Have the editor quite floored,

So we refer the first one

To the knot hole in the board.

And the second one should probably

To the plumbing shop have gone;

But we leave it preferably

To the genial Mrs. Hahn.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Harshbarger.

Mr. Eslinger spoke on "How we may honor our parents, especially our mother."

The following are a few thoughts brought out in his text: Honor thy mother by doing her wishes in so far as they do not hinder your progress. Be true to the principles she had in mind when she trained you. Have contempt for no one and hatred for no one. Remember that he or she is some other mother's child.

The next regular meeting will be held Sunday morning, Jan. 9, 1915.

THESIS DINNER

A delicious and attractive Christmas dinner was served to the January graduating class, their guests, and D. S. faculty, Friday night, by the Misses Ruth Calkin, Lois Reed, Mabel Sneen, Grace Freeland, and Ella Jackson. The menu consisted of the following:

Fruit Cocktail
Roast Chicken	Dressing
Mashed Potatoes	Giblet Gravy
Olives	Jelly
Creamed Celery	Cranberry Ice
Rolls	Tomato Jelly Salad
Plum Pudding
Coffee	Mints

The table decorations were carried out in Christmas colors with holly and small Christmas trees. During the meal, which was served by some of the D. S. Seniors, the guests enjoyed several splendid victrola selections. The dinner was a success from every stand point and the girls are to be highly commended upon the excellent execution of their work.

PLUMBING SHOP

An accident in the plumbing shop last week, called to our mind the fact that, up to this time, that department of our school has been neglected by the Stoutonia. We have a plumbing trade school and the number of students is increasing, as was attested by the entrance of Mr. Fuller's name upon the roll-book last week.

These young men are learning the modern methods of health protection as imparted to them by Mr. Jimerson. While we realize that there are good systems of plumbing in some houses we are also aware, thru experience, that a poorly installed system can give a great deal of annoyance, to say nothing of its menace to the health of the household.

Let us join in wishing this department success in its work, and in hoping that the blame for poor plumbing may never be laid at its door.

BASKETBALL

Our team succeeded in making a good showing at Minneapolis last Saturday, by holding the University team to a score of 20 to 10.

An interesting feature of the game was the fact that the two teams were evenly matched. Owing to the large floor and the University style of playing our men were somewhat handicapped. The game was desperately fought from the beginning to end. Contrary to the nature of games played by the University, Saturday's contest was fairly free from roughness.

Our team has shown great improvement since the first of the season and the prospects for a winning team are good. New plays will be tried this week in preparation for three out-of-town games scheduled for the holidays.

The line-up of the team against the "U" was as follows: forwards, Mauch and H. A. Schott; center, Lampert; guards, Hager and Olson; subs, Tews and Sipple; coach, J. G. Schott.

Mr. Manthe and Mr. Brunkow accompanied the team.

STOUT BIBLE CLASS

A delightful Christmas program was enjoyed by the Stout Bible Class on Sunday morning at their regular meeting. Everyone enjoyed the solo "Silent Night," rendered by Florence Hull. Dorothy Knight told us the story of the fourth wise man, after which several religious selections were played upon the victrola.

PERSONALS

Miss Grace Augustine is ill with "La Grippe"

Friday night an impromptu dance was given in the gymnasium.

Miss Leedom spent the week end in Minneapolis.

Mr. Otto Brunkow attended the game in Minneapolis Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey and Miss Gladys Harvey spent the week end in Minneapolis.

Ruth Maclin entertained her Sunday School class Saturday night, at the Annex.

Messrs. Walter Boberg, Ronald Stilp and W. Hanson spent the week end in Menomonie.

Mr. G. H. Hipp of Madison spent the week end with Elizabeth Bullion, 914 Sixth Street.

Dewey Doyle was taken to the hospital last week where he underwent an operation for an abscess in his ear.

We are glad that Miss Kugel is able to resume her work, after several day's absence, on account of illness.

TEACHING AS A LIFE'S WORK

The following notes were taken from a lecture presented by Mr. R. H. Rodgers before the Manual Training Department, September 22, 1915.

There are four success elements which a teacher must possess to succeed in his work: a pleasing personality, character above reproach, a broad education and training, and a sound physical and mental make-up.

Under the first of these comes that love of work which is so essential to the ultimate success of any line of endeavor. Coupled with it must be enthusiasm, for the enthusiasm of the class is proportionate to that of the teacher, in order to get in full sympathy with the student, the instructor must feel with him, must get his point of view. This leads to an interest in the student himself, rather than in his work only.

The teacher must be honest and truthful in all things, and loyal, both to his fellow teachers and to the institution. In every way must he be dependable.

The foremost feature in the training or education of a teacher should be his ability to do special work, to excel in a certain field, and his ability to impart his knowledge in this field effectively.

Lying back of this specialization should be a broad general knowledge, which may be kept up and increased by keeping in touch with the affairs of daily life. A deep understanding of human nature, of applied psychology and of the method of dealing successfully with his fellow men, is a necessity.

The teacher must be in good health, in order to withstand the wear and tear of class-room work, and to set an example before his pupils.

In many communities, unusual conditions must be met by the teacher. The successful meeting of these conditions imposes a strain on his physical and mental make-up; and if, thru resourcefulness and common sense, he comes out ahead, he has indicated a desirable flexibility of mental ability.

The rewards of the teaching profession are many. First, the physical or financial reward. The average monthly salary of men teachers in the U. S. is $73.00; of women teachers $55.00. There is a regular salary schedule worked out in progressive cities, and in some states there is legislation effecting teachers' salaries. In other places there is the pension system.

Second, the position of the teacher in the community. Upon entering the community as an instructor in the school system, the teacher's social position is assured. He is constantly in the limelight, and is looked upon as a leader.

Third, the joy of service to our fellows. There is a satisfaction in having done good work along a line where the results are readily seen, and the recompense sure.

TRAINING SCHOOLS IN CONFERENCE

A conference of directors of special departments in institutions in the Mississippi Valley engaged in training teachers of the Manual Arts and Industrial Education was called by the United States Commissioner of Education to meet in the Arts Building of the Chicago Normal College, on December 9, 10, and 11, 1915. The states included in this territory are Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

The Bureau of Education was represented by Dr. W. T. Bawden, its Specialist in Industrial Education. The following institutions were represented.

Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, Pa.; State Normal College, Athens, Ohio; State Normal College, Kent, Ohio; Miami University, Oxford, Ohio; Normal Institute, Marion, Ind.; State Normal School, Terre Haute, Ind.; Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind.; State Normal School, DeKalb, Ill.; State Normal University, Normal, Ill.; Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Peoria, Ill.; Lewis Institute, Chicago; Francis Parker School, Chicago; Chicago Normal College; Chicago University; State Normal School, Kalamazoo, Michigan; University of Minnesota; State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa; Iowa State University; State Normal School, Warrensburg, Mo.; Missouri University; State Normal School, Peru, Nebr.; State Normal College, Emporia, Kans.; Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.; State Normal School, San Marcos, Texas; San Houston Normal Institute, Huntsville, Texas; Texas University; State Normal School, Platteville, Wis.; State Normal School, Milwaukee; Wisconsin University; The Stout Institute.

It was found that from the thirty institutions represented, four will furnish over one-half the total number of graduates in Manual Training in 1916. Of these institutions, The

THE VIEW BEFORE US

The view before us.—Yes, what is it? Don't you know? Don't you know the view before you? If you do not, who does?

This is the first week of the new year, and we are rapidly approaching the completion of one-half a year of our work. Have we anything to which we can link the past? Have we anything upon which to build in the future? These questions, when put to us, can best be answered by us as individuals.

Do we look back, when we have begun and partially finished a race? Do we, upon the partial completion of a piece of well-executed and well-planned piece of work, cast a backward glance and survey it rather proudly? Have we forgotten the fable of the tortoise and the hare? Or, do we, having our goal before us, strive to reach it in record time?

Perhaps we have no view before us, no goal, no determination to reach the finishline. If not, we have just begun a new year in which we and everyone else have "a chance to make good." Let us not forget the past, but remember the lessons we have learned, and, guided by the experience gained from them, adjust our course accordingly, so that we may reap the benefit by having done so.

Let us "look up, not down; look forward, not backward, and lend a hand."

BASKETBALL

During the holidays Stout played the Winona Y. M. C. A. team and the Luther College team of Decorah, Iowa.

Both games were lost. The Winona game was lost thru unfair decisions of the referee and the football style of playing, of the Winona team. The final score was 31 to 15. The Luther College game was more sportsman-like in character. Owing to the small floor and the illness of several of our men, the game was lost by a final score of 21 to 13.

The line up of our team was as follows: forwards, Mauch and H. Schott; center, Lampert; guards, Hager and Olson; sub., Sipple; coach, J. Schott; manager, Mr. Mauthe. On January 7th, the St. Paul College of Law will play Stout at Menomonie.

THESIS PROBLEMS

With the approaching completion of the new building, a new opportunity for practical thesis work has been brought before the Senior Manual Training students.

This work consists of the problem of partially or wholly equipping an office or some other room of the building. To those of the men who are interested in such work, an opportunity is presented here, that will be a fair measure of their ability and skill in their particular line.

Thesis work of this nature will not be finished in a year or two, so the men, who in the future come here, will have an opportunity to further this work.

It will be remembered, however, that the equipment, such as exhibit cabinets, furniture, etc., must correspond with the interior trim and finish of the room in which this equipment is to be used, so that those who have undertaken this work must use good judgment in the selection of an appropriate style and design for the proposed equipment.

GAVELEERS

The opening meeting of the year, to be held at the regular time this week, will be conducted by Will Hamilton, chairman of the program committee.

It is to be hoped that the members, and also friends, have not forgotten our society and will begin the new year right, by a regular attendance at the meetings.

The program, as planned, will consist of a reading, "New Years," by Kenneth Smith; a talk, "New Year's Resolutions," by C. J. Ducke, and "A trip to the Iron Mines," by August Hipakka.

We always welcome all who wish to attend our meetings.

Meet us in Room 35 at 7:15 P. M.

Walter Brinkmann, class of 1915, now teaching at Detroit, Minnesota, spent the holiday vacation with his parents in this city.

Anker Graven, Class of '12, now attending the University of Illinois spent the holiday vacation with his parents in this city.

We regret to hear of the loss by George Jester of his notes, clothes, and all personal belongings, in a fire at his rooming house in Little Falls, Minnesota. At the time of the fire George was in this city.

Charles W. Hyde and Alvin C. Schaefer, teaching in Indianapolis en route from school to Mr. Schaefer's home, stopped here for a few days visiting friends.

Stout Institute will furnish the largest number, and more than any other two schools.

The men in attendance were guests of the Chicago Normal College, for luncheon, on Thursday and Friday, and also enjoyed an inspection tour thru its fine new Arts Building. Discussions of unusual value took place mornings, afternoons and evenings and covered the following topics:

Problems of the United States Bureau of Education.

Evolution of Units Credit in the Manual Arts.

Manual Arts and Vocational Education under the so-called Gary Plan.

Definite Standards for Manual Arts Work and Means for Testing the Results of Teaching.

How to Meet the Demands of Vocational Education and the Manual Arts with the Same Plant or Equipment.

Results of Educational Surveys in their Relation to the Manual Arts.

WILL THEY DO IT?

Wanted:

The persons who hit my cow on the state highway with their auto about seven miles out of Menomonie to write me, as the cow is badly injured.

WAR NOTES

The Germans have taken Pilsner and are now surrounding Delicatessen where the wurst is expected. The Belgian Hares have had a falling out with the Welsh Rarebits and the Swiss Cheese is shot full of holes. These will make the Irish Stew and the English Mustard hot and if the Russian Caviar sees the French Pastry he may start a Swiss Movement Watch. The Spanish Onions are strong for a mix up and if the Home Preserves are called out and spread the German Noodles, they may Ketchup with the Navy Beans, causing an uprising of the Brussels Sprouts.

“Unlucky at cards, lucky in love.”

Is a saying so very old.

But as I can see they are games of chance;

They depend on the hands you hold. —Quoted

HOLIDAY EXCHANGES

The following holiday papers were received thru the exchange. “Blue and White,” Junction City, Kansas; “Merritt News,” Merritt School, Indianapolis; “The Ranger,” Chisholm, Minnesota, “Christmas Booster,” Indianapolis and “The Mirror,” Gilbert, Minnesota.

All have two color work and are typical of school print shops.

STUDENT WELFARE

A few weeks ago Mr. Rogers gave a report of the Social Affairs Committee which had recently been formed. Last Wednesday Miss Margaret Baker gave us the report of another committee formed at this same time — the Student Welfare Committee. It consists of the following members of the faculty: Miss Kugel, Miss McFadden, Miss Baker, Miss Turner, Mr. Buxton, Mr. Curran and Mr. Gregerson.

The explicit aim of this Committee is to be helpful to the students of Stout Institute.

The committee has decided to have the students divided into groups and assign one member of the Faculty to be advisor for each group. The names of these groups, with the advisor for each, will be posted on the bulletin board as soon as possible and it is probable the groups will be called together soon to "get acquainted." The faculty advisors desire to be helpful along the following lines:

1. Health and environment.
2. General conduct.
3. Affiliations with student organizations and interest in social affairs.
4. Academic progress
2. Student employment.

Miss Baker ended her report by asking that each student ask himself or herself the question "How can I help or be helped by this organization." If this is done, the best possible results will be obtained.

HOME ECONOMICS CONFERENCE

At Assembly last week Miss Kugel gave a brief report of a meeting of Home Economics teachers which was held at the Chicago City Normal School on December tenth. The meeting was called by Miss Carrie Lyford, who is a specialist in Home Economics in the United States Bureau of Education. At this meeting were teachers from State Normal Schools in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The following informal program was rendered.

1. Normal Course for Specialists.

Miss Allen of Stevens Point, Wisconsin.

Intensiveness and Concentration.

2. Course for Rural Teachers.

Miss Mac Arthur of Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

3. Practice Teaching.

4. The Use of Text Books.

5. Domestic Art Course in the Grades.

Mrs. French of Ypsilanti, Michigan.

6. Machine Work in the Grades.

WHICH SIDE?

There is a certain journey of about forty miles, that I have traversed again and again,—a journey up a river valley, somewhat barren and desolate. At least so I have always thought, for as it has happened, I always have sat on the side of the car, from which I could see only the scrub oaks along the muddy stream and the overflow land covered with the weeds, brought from many countries. But yesterday I chanced to sit on the other side of the car and behold, the outlook was so different that I began to fear that I made a mistake and had boarded the wrong train. Everything looked so different! Broad farms, well-kept buildings and splendid roads, were a delight to the eye.

I wonder if we are all on the right side of the train, in the matter of school spirit. How many of us have seen only the muddy stream, with its scrub oaks and its weedy valley, or, have we finally moved across to the right side of the train, where we can see ourselves and our relations to the school and its work? If we haven't, it is high time we were moving across. Perhaps the view is different from the other side of the train.

Noah was six hundred years old before he built the ark. Don't lose your grip!

GAVELEERS

At the fifty-first regular session, last week, the Gaveleers Society was entertained by a New Year's program led by Mr. W. Hamilton. The members of the society answered to roll call by giving New Year's resolutions and toasts. Mr. Smith gave a very interesting reading on the, "Origin of New Years." Mr. A. Hippikka took us on a very instructive "Trip Thru an Iron Mine." The concluding number on the program was a suggestive talk by Mr. Ducke on, "New Year's Resolutions."

Next Wednesday evening Mr. Bowdler will be chairman of the program committee. Good entertainment is assured. All members are requested to be present on time. Door will be locked at 7:30.

The Y. M. C. A. will hold its regular meeting on Sunday January 16. Mr. Watson will give the main talk of the morning, giving to the members a report of the Older Boys' Conference recently held in Eau Claire. Other members of the society who attended the conference will give brief reports with more detail on some particular feature which proved helpful to them.

All members need the benefits of such conferences. Not all can attend in person but all should hear the reports of the delegates. This is within reach of everyone. Mr. A. C. Tews. will have charge of the meeting.

SHOP NOTES

The senior course in bricklaying this year is one of the most practical courses offered in the Manual Training Department. Mr. Ray evidently believes that the subject is one that is of equal importance with any, and he is determined that as far as actual trade education is concerned it will stand toward the head of the list.

The students are given the most practical of projects to build, and these follow in logical order so as to cover a great deal of the trade without leaving out any of the essential points. Just at present the work is the building of a library front, with its problems in arch and panel work. It is a project on a greater scale than has heretofore been attempted in this shop at Stout.

Keep in touch with the work, drop in once in a while to see how the fellows are doing.

BASKETBALL

Last Saturday night, Stout won from the St. Paul College of Law, by a score of 31 to 13. A snappy preliminary game was played between our Senior and Junior teams. The final score, 15 to 11, resulted in a victory for the Seniors.

The first team game was fast and exciting, from the beginning to the end. Lampert scored the first basket for us, which was quickly followed by one from the opponents. Superior team work enabled our men to take the lead and pile up a score, before the Lawyers were aware of the fact.

The opposing team tried all kinds of methods to even up the score, but seemed to lose all of their pep, when their fat boy failed to demolish the floor.

Carl George a former Menomonie athlete refereed the game and used good judgment in all his decisions. The line-up of our team was as follows: forwards, Mauch and Sipple; center, H. Schott; guards, Hager and Lampert; subs, De Merit and Olson; coach, J. Schott; manager, Mr. Mauthe.

Friday of this week our quintet plays River Falls Normal, at River Falls. Saturday they play the Minnesota Aggies at Minneapolis.

Note — It has been reported that the fat boy did not damage the floor beyond repair.

PERSONALS

Miss Imogene Pierce who has had an attack of La Grippe is back in school.

Miss Marion Rollins has returned from the Home Makers.

Mrs. Shafer, from North Dakota, is visiting her daughter Helen.

A few of the students attended the Concert at Eau Claire Wednesday

A number of Stout students attended an informal dance given at the Catholic school Friday night.

The Delta Phi Club had a celebration in honor of two of the members. The honored ones were the Misses Letta Marie Neilson and Mayfred Godfrey Mc Kenzie.

The personal concerning Lottie Peters' friends was rather misprinted last week. In order for people to see the point it should read: Do you know twins Billyruben and Billyverden? If not, ask Lottie Peters to present you.

The Misses Beatrice Bruce, Evelyn Koch and Catherine Dey entertained at Bridge Saturday P.M. in honor of a few of the January graduating seniors. Prizes were won by Miss Mary Maclin and Jessie Fredenburg. Refreshments were served.

THE MAKING OF A STRONG TEACHER

Sympathy, Knowledge and Poise combined, constitute power. No man is great who does not have Sympathy. The greatness of men can be judged by their Sympathies. Your heart must go out to all men, the high, the low, rich and poor, learned and unlearned, good and bad; it is necessary to be one with them in order to comprehend them. Put yourself in the other man's place; then you will know why he thinks and does certain things.

But Knowledge must go with Sympathy, else the emotions are void and placed everywhere. Knowledge means a sense of values; the power to determine which are the big things in life and which are the small. A small tragedy in life, a misfit, makes us laugh; a great one excites our Sympathies and is a cause for the expression of grief.

Poise is the strength of body and the strength of mind to control your Sympathy and your Knowledge.

Sympathy must not run riot or it is valueless and implies weakness instead of strength. The hospitals are full of instances of this loss of control. Sympathy without Poise make the man worthless to himself and to the world. Poise reveals itself more in voice than in words, and more in thought than in action. It is always felt more than it is seen. It is both physical and mental, and one without the other is almost worthless.

Any man whose Sympathy and Knowledge are governed by a Poise which is both physical and mental, will not only develop into a great and powerful teacher, but can be great and powerful in any line of work which he may undertake.

GRADUATING EXERCISES

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

GOV. PHILLIPS WILL SPEAK

Tomorrow, at assembly, the place on the rostrum, usually occupied by the members of the faculty, will be given to the January graduating class. This occasion, has, no doubt, been looked forward to by these individuals, for some length of time. Perhaps at the same time, now that the auspicious moment has arrived, the event does not appeal to them, as it did before. Altho the graduates, no doubt, have had many responsibilities upon their shoulders, many difficult tasks to accomplish, and it may be, lost sight of their goal, they will also realize, that to the majority of them, the work of the future, will not, in many respects, be as pleasant and agreeable as the past has been. To be placed in such a conspicuous position, will, perhaps, not be as natural to some as to others, but in order to succeed, they must adapt themselves to the environment.

This is the first time that a mid-year graduating class has been honored by such a commencement exercise, and the class may feel proud that they are the first ones to have this distinction conferred upon them.

The class will be addressed by Governor Phillips, who has been brought here for the occasion. Not only the class, but the whole student body, will have the privilege of hearing him speak. The Boys' Glee Club will also give one or two numbers.

At the close of the exercises in the Memorial, the young ladies, who will be graduated, will serve a dinner to the Faculty, Governor Phillips, and the Board of Regents. After dinner, the Governor will address the Commercial Club.

The following students are to be graduated:

Doris B. Amorpohl
Elizabeth Bowen
M. Louise Case
Elizabeth Clasbey
Helen M. Cleveland
Blanche Doughty
Alice B. Eckmann
Jessie M. Fredenburg

FAREWELL

This being the last week of the semester, a number of our fellow students, who now have completed their work here will bid us, who remain, adieu, and perhaps begin their life's work in their chosen profession.

We trust that their time spent here, has been, and will be, time will spent and profitably employed.

Let us, who remain, remember that we must make the most of our opportunities, while here, in order to do justice to our work, and to prepare ourselves properly for the task, which we have chosen to accomplish.

Let us also, bear in mind, that altho we have completed the course of study of an institution, we still have much to learn. Let us not assume the attitude, that as graduates we have completely mastered our task, and are infallible, but be willing to take advice from our superiors, and to profit by experience.

We wish to express our thanks, to those who leave, for the time we have spent together here, and trust that you may have pleasant recollections, with which the name "Stout" may be associated.

Our hearty wish is, "May the best of luck and success be yours in the future!"

REMEMBER!!!

To come to the Memorial, Sat. Jan. 22, at 8:00 o'clock, to hear Helen Keller's lecture on "Happiness."

GAVELEERS

On account of the inclement weather last Wednesday evening the regular meeting of the Gaveleers society was postponed until Wednesday, January 19 of this week. Mr. Bowdler has provided for us a very unique program, which is as follow.

"A Trip to Switzerland," by Mr. Christoffel.

"A Trip to Scotland," by Mr. Dockar.

"Some Places of Interest in the Eastern States," by Mr. Eslinger.

Baloptican views will be shown with the talks. A full attendance is desired.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting at the Memorial, on Tuesday. After a pleasing song service, the plan was presented for "The Pagaent," which is a feature of the National Jubilee.

BASKETBALL

Last Friday, our team was defeated by the River Falls Normal team, by a score of 36 to 17. Our Senior Class team, was also defeated, by the River Falls second team, by a score of 22 to 16. The Senior team played the Wilson team at Wilson last Saturday, and lost again, by a score of 26 to 15. Last Saturday, our first team played the Minnesota Aggies at St. Paul. The game was a walk away for our men. The contest resulted in a final score of 47 to 7.

The first team game at River Falls was closely contested, but the Normal team, was lucky at shooting baskets, and had the advantage of playing on their own floor. The game between our Senior team and the River Falls second team, was very rough and exciting. The game was lost thru the partial decisions of the referee, who favored the Normal men. The Senior team's game at Wilson was stubbornly fought, but luck was with the opposite players, who had the highest score, at the end of the game.

The game with the Minnesota aggies, was an easy victory, for our quintet, which held the aggies to 7 points against our 47.

The line-up of the team was as follows: forwards, Sipple and Mauch; center, H. A. Schott; guards, Lampert and Hager; sub, Olson; coach, J. G. Schott; manager, Mr. Mauthe.

The line-up of the Seniors was as follows: forwards, Sprague and Becker; center, Frogner; guards, Thompson and Tews; subs, De Merit and Hansen.

PERSONALS

LEAP YEAR DANCE

A unique affair in the form of a Leap Year Dance was given by the Stout Girls Friday night. It was held in the Gymnasium and was one of the largest and most successful dances held by the students, excepting the Proms.

The girls entered thoroughly into the spirit of the affair, calling for the boys, doing all the exchanging of dances, and in short, doing everything that the boys generally do. Everyone enjoyed themselves, and everywhere one turned one saw "smiles."

Grape Punch was served during the evening. Besides being a success socially, the dance was also a success financially, the committee being able to turn over to the Student Fund, eleven dollars and seventy-five cents, after all expenses were paid.

LECTURES BY DR. ULRICH

The members of The Home Economics Department had the privilege, last week, of listening to a series of most interesting and instructive lectures on Social Hygiene. These lectures were given by Dr. Ulrich of Minneapolis under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The following phases of the subject were discussed:

The Biological Evolution of Sex.

The Effect of Internal Secretions.

Adolescence.

Adolescence Problems.

The Unnecessary Evil.

Sex Pedagogy.

While attendance upon the lectures was compulsory, every girl went with the greatest willingness, especially after the first lecture, because of Dr. Ulrich's charming personality, and her splendid manner of handling her subject. The whole department certainly owes a debt of gratitude to The Young Women's Christian Association, for bringing Dr. Ulrich here.

CONVENTION AT MINNEAPOLIS

School will close on Thursday, for the Manual Training students, thus giving them an opportunity to attend the convention of "The National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education," to be held at Minneapolis, Friday and Saturday, this week. The men have been urged to attend this convention, as the benefits that may be derived from a meeting of this nature, are numerous, and will greatly help them in their future work.

The usual Friday session of the Manual Training was held last Saturday, to make up time.

STUDENTS ENJOY HELEN KELLER

Those present at the exercises at the Memorial last Saturday evening, surely heard a most unusual and wonderfully interesting lecture. Many have undoubtedly either heard or read about the unparalleled achievements of Miss Keller, but by witnessing the result personally, a better knowledge of the magnitude of the undertaking and the perfection of the outcome, was obtained.

Miss Keller's teacher and companion, Mrs. Macy, gave a brief but interesting history of Helen's life, telling how Helen had remained in utter darkness and almost complete ignorance for a period of over five years.

At the time that Mrs. Macy became her teacher, Helen was six years and eight months old, knowing very little, if anything of the world in which she lived. It was with the child in this condition that the "Teacher," as Miss Keller still calls her, began her work. Since that time, the tireless efforts and inexhaustible patience of both instructor and pupil, have accomplished the result, which was seen and heard Saturday evening.

In teaching normal children language, we are assisted by such mechanical means, as the voice, hearing, and eyesight. While the mind of the pupil was probably more alert and active than in normal children at the same age, the fact that there was a great difficulty in getting in touch with the mind, made the task very difficult, to say the least.

At the age of eight years Helen expressed a desire to learn to speak, having learned that this was the method which other people used in communicating with each other. This was another task added to the other numerous duties of the teacher, but by tireless persistence and an enormous amount of practice, this obstacle too, was overcome. Mrs. Macy and her pupil were greatly assisted in this work, by the aid of a vocal music instructor at Boston. A period of twenty years has been spent in bringing Miss Keller to the present stage of

THE NEW SEMESTER

One climax has been reached and survived. From off our shoulders has been raised a burden of worry, responsibility, and uncertainty of expectation. There now remains the eager expectancy of results, the report of whether or not we have reached the goal, toward which we have been striving.

Have we reached our goal? Each one of us knows his own condition the best. Let us hope that the word failure does not appear in our vocabulary. Let us, whether our work has been ended in a satisfactory manner or not, let the past bring its lesson to us. Let us, whether encouraged or disheartened, profit by our past experiences, and be spurred onward and upward to higher aims and ideals, remembering the maxim, "Don't lose time in vain distress, Work, not worry, brings success."

We extend a hand of welcome to the students who have entered, and taken up their work with us.

May they enjoy their work and recreation, putting forth their efforts so that their short time here will not have been spent in vain.

GAVELEERS

Last Wednesday Evening the Gaveleers society was entertained by one of the most interesting programs held thus far. Mr. Christoffel took us on a trip thru Switzerland. Mr. Eslinger told of some interesting places in the East. With each of the talks baloptican views were shown.

Next Wednesday evening, Jan. 26, Mr. Saxhaug will be chairman of the program committee. An unusual program has been prepared. Come and hear it. You are sure to be pleased. A cordial invitation is extended to all visitors.

Y. W. C. A.

The first of the Jubilee Meetings will be held Tuesday, February 1. The topic will be: "Then and Now."

Come out and get in line for these Jubilee Meetings. Visitors are welcome.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

After a snappy practice, a business meeting was called for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. The following were elected:

President, P. L. Roise
Vice-president, C. Lamb
Treasurer, Wm. H. Lampert
Secretary, C. N. Neupert

During the meeting, Mr. Bigelow was called upon for a "Farewell Address" and responded with the same old "pep" with which he has been fulfilling his duties thruout the past year.

The newly elected officers, in assuming their duties, solicit the cooperation of the members and of the school to assist in making the ensuing year the best in the history of the club.

MID-YEAR COMMENCEMENT

GOV. PHILLIPS SPEAKS

Governor Phillips addressed the mid-year graduating class at the assembly in the Memorial last Thursday. Altho he did not announce his subject, it may be termed "Teaching." The following are a few of the points upon which he touched, in the in the course of his address.

"Teaching, altho not as remunerative as many others, is the most honorable profession, which one could choose to follow. The true success of a person in his life's work is not as greatly dependent upon the remuneration, as upon the happiness and satisfaction derived by the individual thru the successful and conscientious completion of his work.

"Altho our ancestors were able to practice economy in household affairs, we may congratulate ourselves upon the fact that the fair sex of the present generation, have learned to practice this same economy, under an improved form of scientific management. Good cooking is of the greatest importance to the young ladies, especially those who are unmarried. After marrying, 'Feed the lord of your choosing well, if you would live peacefully with him.'

"The State of Wisconsin, spends an enormous sum of money annually, upon schools, for the purpose of preparing young men and women for the profession of teaching. In the year 1914, the State of Wisconsin with its population of scarcely two and one-half million souls, spent for educational purposes, the sum of fifteen million dollars."

The concluding remark of the Governor was, "I wish you God speed in your future work."

Dr. Harvey spoke a few words of congratulation, and inspiration, and presented the diplomas. Everyone was delighted with the pleasing numbers rendered by the Glee Club.

After the exercises, the girls who were graduated gave a very excellent and fitting demonstration of some of the skill they have acquired in the last two years by serving a dinner to Governor Phillips and the officers of the Commercial Club.

PERSONALS

Miss Eunice Mulholland has had her mother and cousin visiting her from Kaukauna, Wisconsin.

The Misses Irene Casper and Helen Tompkins spent the week end in Chipewewa Falls.

The Misses Bernice Ward from Glenwood City, Wisconsin, and Beryl Nash from Muskegon, Michigan, are among the "New Juniors" at the Annex.

Last Sunday morning the beautiful sun beamed with all radiance upon four thumping hearts. Eleven friends of the two couples escorted them to the Junction and here is where excitement prevailed. As the train pulled in, the four, namely, Miss Doughty and Mr. Erickson, Miss Amerpohl and Mr. Mauch, made a mad rush for the observation car amid a heavy shower of rice. Once aboard, they were safe. Those who remained wished the couples a happy journey. Subscribe for the Annual and see some real pictures of the flight.

The Printers' Clan had a most enjoyable time, Friday, Jan. 21. Mr. Eslinger entertained the Clan by giving them a dinner at the Hotel Royal and afterward taking them to the Poultry Show where he explained many interesting things along the lines of breeding and raising poultry. Those present were: Mr. Eslinger, J. A. Ginsbach, P. C. Knoop, C. Lamb, Harry Peterson, S. P. Schaefer, E. F. Schulz, with F. W. Gross-tuck, '15, as a special guest.

perfection, as regards to the power of speech.

Miss Keller's winning of the degree of Bachelor of Arts, marks an epoch both in the life of the pupil and in the institution from which she was graduated, as she was the first blind and deaf person to have the degree.

The short address given by Miss Keller was, perhaps the most unusual and interesting lecture ever heard. Ordinarily, a topic of that nature, treated in as concise and brief a manner as did Miss Keller, would not have made a very small impression upon those who heard it, but given as it was by such a talented individual, the memory of the exercises and those who occupied the place on the rostrum, will not soon be forgotten.

We all join heartily in wishing both Miss Keller and Mrs. Macy all good fortune and success in the future.

BASKET BALL

Last Friday our quintet defeated the Eau Claire Y.M.C.A. team by a score of 27 to 17. Stout scored the first basket and by good team work keep the Y.M.C.A. men from gaining a very big lead. At the end of the first half the score was 11 to 10 in favor of the Eau Claire team. In the second half our team came back strong and succeeded in keeping the ball away from the opponents. Our superior team work and the aid of the High School rooters enabled Stout to win the game. All of the players on the visiting team were excellent basket shooters, but our style of playing gave us the advantage.

The Stout student body was very poorly represented at the game.

Those who were not there missed an exciting game of basket ball. The line up of our team was as follows: forwards, J. G. Schott and Mauch; center, H. A. Schott; guards, Hager and Lampert; Subs, Demerit and Sipple; coach, J.G. Schott; manager, Mr. Mauthe.

There is no game scheduled for this week end, but the team is practicing hard for the game with River Falls Normal here next Friday night. The Senior team meets the River Falls Seconds the same night.

THE NINTH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF THE N. S. P. I. E.

BIG MEETING HELD AT MINNEAOPOLIS

The 9th Annual Convention of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education held in Minneapolis at the Hotel Radisson on Jan. 20, 21, 22, was one of the best meetings of its kind ever held.

Speakers of national reputation held places on all programs, including educators, manufacturers, and labor men from all parts of the country. Over five hundred persons attended and all programs were well received.

The main interest was centered upon the report of the Minneapolis Survey and the work of the new Dunnwoody Industrial Institute of Minneapolis. The report of the Survey is very voluminous, containing about 700 pages. The Stout Library will have a copy and students may be interested in looking over the survey of Minneapolis schools, industries, and the recommendations of the survey.

One of the most striking things of the convention was the prevailing idea that the old question of "Shall we have industrial education," was not a question anymore but the question, "How shall we apply industrial education," occupied the center of interest.

One interesting and valuable conference was held in connection with an informal dinner given at the Dyckman Hotel under the auspices of the U. S. Bureau of Education, W. T. Bawden, chairman. Pre-vocational education was the topic of the evening and three hours were devoted to short talks by prominent educators.

Stout Institute was well represented at the conference. From the M. T. Department were Pres. Harvey Messers. Rodgers, Olson, Steendahl, Jarvis, Gregerson, Hansen and Jimmerson. From the D. S. Department were the Misses Kugel, Darling, Johnson, and McCauly. Several students attended and many former Stout students were present.

H. W. Schmidt of Oshkosh Normal gave a talk on the training of men teachers. He said that more emphasis should be placed on the different tool processes, which play a great part in the training of a child. The artisan who teaches does not state the fundamental points in the tool processes, therefore the most important part is omitted.

Dr. Harvey gave a discussion on the same subject. He said that the training of the

WHY NOT?

Have you all the back numbers of the STOUTONIA on file? Have you looked thru them lately? Did you notice the various contributions, in the form of spicy and interesting write-ups, submitted for publication at different times?

Pick up any school paper, whether it be published at a university, a college, normal, or high school, and you will find something characteristic about it, something that, apart from the regular reports, announcements, and write-ups, savors of school life, school activities and school spirit.

It may be said that our environment here is different from that of other institutions, but does that help us? It may be easy enough to sit quietly and think or write in a strain of this sort, but the results thus obtained will be minus quantities, unless the thinking or writing is coupled with action, properly directed and efficiently applied.

Perhaps the sentiments of a number have been voiced in this writing. Shall that be all? When anything happens in a classroom, at the dormitories, boarding clubs etc., think of it in terms of our paper. While the duty of the Staff is to provide and prepare material for the paper, it cannot be everywhere at once to get a line on the things that happen.

Do you get the idea? Why not, then?

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philo Society held their mid-year election of officers on Tuesday, Jan. 25. The officers elected were:

President, May Van Duzee,
Vice-President, Dorothy Knight
Sec.-Treas., Dorothy Bemis

The Philo meetings during the past semester have been a great benefit as well as pleasure to all who have attended. We hope each member will do all she can to make the coming semester the most successful in the society's history.

GAVELEERS

Last Wednesday evening, O.E. Saxhaug, chairman of the program committee, entertained the society by offering a special musical program. The many fellows present, both members and visitors, is proof positive that the entertainment was what it was expected to be. Neither were they disappointed. Need more be said? Come to our meetings.

The following numbers were given:- 1. Instrumental trio, Hungarian Dance, Messers. Schellschmidt, Shatto and Bigelow. 2. Quartette, In the Gloaming, Messers. Nelson, Saxhaug, McIntosh and Bigelow. 3. Plantation Melodies, R. M. Eradshaw. 4. Solo, In the Garden of Love, S. E. Nelson. 5. Instrumental Trio, Faust, Messers. Schellschmidt, Shatto, and Bigelow. 6. Solo, Alabama Rag, W. Larson. 7. Quartette, Jordan is a Hard Road to Travel, Messers. Nelson, Saxhaug, McIntosh, and Bigelow.

teacher requires four things: first, tool processes; second, organization; third, administration; fourth, a knowledge of the industry.

Warren E. Hicks, Supervisor of Industrial Education in Wisconsin, gave a very interesting talk on the continuation schools in Wisconsin. He stated that there are 29 cities in this state that have such schools. West Allis leads in this work. Oshkosh is at the foot of the list. Some of the advantages of these schools are as follows: (1) It gives the boys a change of environment, developing a greater interest in their work. (2). Bigger results are accomplished in the industrial line, thru having more trained laborers. (3). It gives the boy a chance to acquire skill in given lines. (4). Increase in wages means a higher standard of living, benefitting the community. Greater skill means more work accomplished, and so gives rise to better industrial conditions. (4). Business and education are correlated, giving material benefit. (5). To settle conditions, so as to keep the girl out of the boy's place in the factory.

Some of the disadvantages were also given:- (1). Insufficient funds. The city council has power to raise a half mill levy, to carry the work. This power is not altogether rightly understood, nor is it rightly handled. Due to a failure of getting a bill thru the legislature, the state can pay only 87 per cent of half the expense, instead of half, as stated in the bill. (2). The municipal powers have not awakened to the scope of the work. More enthusiasm is needed. (3) There is a lack of trained teachers. Several schools, opening up, created a larger demand for trained teachers than could be supplied, and so many unskilled teachers had to be employed. Over 600 teachers have been employed in the last 3½ years.

SPRINGS A SUPPRISE

Members of The Annual Board? Who? Did some one ask? Possibly, before Assembly last week, but not since, for at that time they proved that they were alive and awake to their responsibility and are perfectly capable of handling their job.

Mr. Stanton, Editor in Chief, announced the purpose of the program and the names of the members of the Board as follows: Messers. McIntosh, Saxhaug, Shatto, Steinke, Schulz, Schott, Brunkow, and Misses Weimer, Carey, and Van Stratum. The program consisted of a sketch by Messers. Steinke and Shatto, readings by Misses Islay McKenzie, Henrietta Atkinson and several numbers by The Stout Orchestra.

Precisely at the psychological moment, the members of The Annual Board went thru the audience and took subscriptions for the book.

The whole scheme was clever and well worked out, and it resulted in a very large advance sale.

"STANDARDS"

At assembly last Wednesday, Dr. Harvey gave the student body a talk that was at once pertinent and well timed. "Standards" was the subject. The talk was developed along lines that would pay every one of us to apply personally. What are our standards: what are yours, what are mine? The standards of a school are just a composite of the standards of the individual members of the school, both faculty and student members. Each and every student contributes his standards to those of the school.

Are our personal standards high enough? Applied to the girls, will they allow us to have a dress finished at the dress-makers and then hand it to the teacher as our individual work? Will they allow a boy to copy another's note-book and hand that in for a grade? The difference between such actions and the actual theft or deliberate falsehood is so slight as to be scarcely noticeable.

Standards fix our places in life. As prospective teachers we cannot afford to have such a set of standards that a responsible person will hesitate to recommend us as men and women of strict honesty and reliability.

STOUT LOSES TWO

Stout's hopes of returning the compliment of River Fall's double victory over them at River Falls, were drowned in Stout Armory last Friday night when the Normal teams again succeeded in annexing a double victory. The score of 19 to 7 in the first game and 36 to 16 in the big game tells the story.

The big game developed into a rough contest owing to the inability of the referee to hold the teams in subjection.

The spirit and "pep" shown by the crowd during both games surely added excitement to the evening.

The line-ups and baskets scored is given below:

STOUT—H. A. Schott (Capt.), c; Sipple, f; Mauch, f; Hager, g; Olson, g. Lampert substituted for Olson in first half and J. G. Schott for Sipple in second half. Field baskets: Sipple, 1; Hager, 2; Mauch, 2; J. G. Schott, 1. Free throws: H. A. Schott, 3; J. G. Schott, 1. RIVER FALLS—C. Eggebrecht (Capt.), f; O. Eggebrecht, c; Betzel, f; Peterson, g; Morrow, g. Mitteyer substituted for C. Eggebrecht, and the latter for Morrow in the second half. Field baskets:—C. Eggebrecht, 4; O. COOPERATION

EXEMPLIFIED

Last Wednesday, Room 5 was probably the most busy of all shops in school. The occasion of the rush was the production of the STOUTONIA for that date and the issue of the paper in time for assembly.

The rush began at 8 A. M. and continued during every class period. No one person could accomplish the result—surprising you by getting the paper out on time—but the combined efforts of every member in the classes turned the trick. From the fellows who acted as “monkey” to the “boss,” himself, every individual was on tip-toe.

The fellows ought to have a better knowledge of the mechanical details of the paper than the girls could be expected to have. In lieu of a long explanation, suffice it to say that the production of our paper, small as it may seem to those who are inexperienced, really is a matter of no small consequence.

However, neither the planning, nor the mechanical work, is considered as drudgery by those who are assigned to these various tasks. Visit the print shop at any time during working hours and you will find each and every individual busily picking a letter here and there, or doing some other of the thousand and one little odd jobs that combine with the whole to put the publication into the hands of the reader.

One value of publishing and printing a school paper in a school shop is the experience that individuals all secure by working together. Printing is a good example of team-work in industry. Press day or the last half hour before closing the forms are really enthralling times for the mechanical staff or a person viewing the work. The definite orders given in a tense tone, the quick accurate movements of the workers, the manner in which the efforts of one fit with the actions of another, appeal to the observer until he also catches the enthusiasm and wants to take off his coat and “fly at it” with the rest. This is co-operation exemplified.

Y. W. C. A.

The series of meetings held by Stout's Y. W. C. A. began last Tuesday. Miss McCalmont gave an interesting sketch of the development of the Stout Y. W. C. A. and Miss Hess gave the forecast for this association. At the close of the meeting tea was served to the unusually large number present.

About one hundred and fifty girls attended the Winter Picnic Saturday night, given in the Memorial by the Y. W. C. A. The rooms were cosily decorated. Picnic refreshments were served, and games were played. A fire was made in the grate and marshmallows were toasted. A number of solos interspersed with informal talks delighted the company. The spirit of genial fellowship prevailed, making the picnic a marked success.

Miss Ware, from Minneapolis spoke at the Vesper Service Sunday afternoon. She spoke of the life of Miss Grace H. Dodge, first president of the National Y. W. C. A. and its greatest benefactor.

In speaking of Miss Dodge whom she had known personally, Miss Ware said, “She walked humbly before her God and dealt kindly, gently, and charitably with every one she met.” Her life was truly a worthy emulation of her Master's.

Miss Ware entreated the Y. W. C. A. girls not to let Miss Dodge's influence die, but to cultivate her spirit of helpfulness and let it become a living monument to her.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last Sunday under the leadership of Mr. Erickson.

Mr. Newport spoke on the subject "Today and tomorrow," and brought out some very important facts; stating how we might better ourselves and also the society by taking advantage of the opportunities as they present themselves daily.

Next Sunday morning the quartette composed of Messrs. Saxhaug, McIntosh, Nelson and Bigelow will sing two selections. Mr. Holm will speak on "Character" and he will have something worth hearing.

Be at the meeting next Sunday morning at 9:00 A. M.

GAVELEERS

The Gaveleers will hold their regular meeting Wed. night in room 35, at 7:15 P. M.

Mr. Holm will act as chairman and offers the following program:

Life of McKinley.....J. L. Savage
Carnation Day.....A. G. Erickson
Ground Hog Day.....P. Ehrhard
Government School..R. W. Benjamin Parliamentary Practice.....
.....P. R. Harshbarger.

Your time will be well spent at this meeting.

SLEIGH RIDE

Mr. Brunkow's group knocked all veracity out of the time worn chestnut "Anticipation is greater than realization" last Saturday evening. The occasion was a sleigh ride we had been leaning toward all week.

A couple of hours were spent in songs, jokes and merriment, and we returned to Mrs. Gordon's to partake of a hot repast.

Tho the evening is past long since, slumbering heads still turn on their pillows and dream of skidding sleigh beneath a starry sky.

PERSONALS

Have you heard of the latest style? Benjamin sews his pockets. Ask him about it.

Mr. Frank Denniger spent Sunday with his sister Miss Esther Denninger

Mr. Fred Gerth from Aberdeen, South Dakota spent the week end with his cousin, Miss Myrtle Klambunde.

The "Lafalots" entertained at a sleigh-ride and dinner party for Miss Dorothy Malvern of St. Paul.

Mr. John Frisch of Saint Charles, Minn. spent the week end with his daughter, Erma Frisch.

Miss Sue Hayes and Miss Marian O'Neil, who are attending the "U" of Wisconsin, spent the week end at the Annex, as the guests of Miss Irene Casper.

The "Delta Phi's" entertained the "Beta Gamma Theta's" Saturday at a one o'clock luncheon and informal dance. The decorations were hearts and the color scheme was pink.

Miss Helen Bouchard entertained at a birthday spread Saturday at twelve o'clock. Covers were laid for sixteen. The decorations were in pink and white. Mrs. Bouchard was the guest of honor.

STOUT SCORES DOUBLE VICTORY

Stout scored a victory over the Minnesota Aggies last Saturday by a score of 61 to 12.

The preliminary game was played by the Stout Juniors and Elk Mound. The final score was 30 to 18 in favor of the Juniors. The preliminary game started out with a rush, but the Juniors soon had the lead and completely baffled their opponents by their style of team work. At the end of the first half the score stood 7 to 11 in favor of the Juniors. During the second half both teams featured everything ever heard of in basketball and succeeded in producing the final score of 18 to 30 in Stout's favor.

The big game showed the superior team work of our quintet compared with that of the Aggies. Our team scored the first basket which was quickly followed by one from the opponents. At the end of the first half Stout had the lead by a score of 31 to 4. At the end of the second half the final score was 61 to 12 in favor of Stout.

The line up of our first team was as follows: forwards, J. G. Schott and Mauch; center, H. A. Schott; guards, Hager and Lampert; subs., Olson and Siple; manager, Mr. Mauthe.

All of those present at the game enjoyed the music which was played by the student band under the direction of Mr. Valaske.

The band will play at the next game which will be Friday night, February 18th. Carleton is the visiting team and has the Minnesota College championship. Our team is in good condition and is practicing regularly for the coming event.

"Why is a misogynist like an epithalamium?"

Is your vocabulary of such proportions that it includes these words, not only as regards definition, but pronunciation as well? If not, here is a chance to make them your own. This can not be done by merely finding the meaning in the dictionary and letting it pass away without any further effort.

Do we ever stop to consider that each word added to our vocabulary, also increases our mental wealth? But in order to receive the benefits that this new word can bring to us, it must become a link in our chain of words.

The mere repetition of unusual words in proper sequence, does not mean that we have acquired them properly. Even a parrot has a vocabulary, but may it be correctly called his own?

Who knows that we, being able to express our innermost feeling by the proper and adequate use of these terms at some time or other, may become relieved of a pressing mental strain of long duration?

Let's make it a point to increase the size of our vocabulary by at least two words daily.

PERSONALS

Miss Williams and Miss Beatrice Bruce spent Saturday in the cities.

Miss Ethel Zilton spent the week end at her home in Chippewa Falls.

The "Six Q's" entertained Friday evening at six-thirty at a four course dinner party in honor of the birthdays of two of the members.

Miss Harriet Boberg from the "U" of Wisconsin, visited her sister Edna, over the week end.

Miss Henrietta Atkinson had a friend from the "U" Minnesota visiting her last week end.

The Misses Letta Neilson, Lottie Peters, and Mable Anderson, left the Annex Saturday night for the "Home makers."

Mr. Harry Kopplin from Kenosha, a former Stout student, visited in Menomonie last week.

Mr. Stanley Hahn spent the week end in Menomonie.

It was considerable of the ladies to place their names in the boxes of candy that were sold; for, if any one expires, it will be simple to trace the cause.

Wonder why the ANNEX girls attended the show last Saturday night instead of the basket ball game?

Mr. W. Bowdler left this morning for Johnstown Penn., where he is to fill a position as Manual Training instructor.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET

The first banquet of its kind at Stout was given the members of the Y. M. C. A. and friends last Saturday evening. Rev. Buell and Rev. Dinsdale kindly honored the occasion. Five thirty found all the guests eagerly waiting in the corridor on the second floor of the Manual Training building. Six o'clock found them all comfortably seated at the tables, after a search for their place cards.

The dinner, which was served as a thesis work by four of the young ladies of the D. S. Department, consisted of the following menu:-

Cream of Tomato Soup Saltines

Roast Pork Gravy

Scalloped Potatoes

Buttered Peas Cabbage Salad

Hot Biscuits Honey

Olives Pickles

Cocoa

Ice Cream Cake

Any of the sixty-four guests can vouch for the statement that it was "just like mother used to make."

The three tables were arranged in the shape of a triangle, with a large fern occupying the space in the center. The overhead decorations were carried out in green and red crepe paper, and the subdued light, from incandescents partially covered with the colored crepe, greatly added to the cheerfulness and prevailing spirit of the occasion.

Before the dinner was served the guests listened to a musical selection by the Stout Quartette. Following the dinner other toasts were made, a number of musical selections by the Quartette and a solo by S. E. Nelson were rendered.

At seven thirty, the fellows adjourned to room 35, on the third floor, where an entertainment had been provided for them.

This entertainment was both very well planned and carried out. No monotony was experienced, as the different numbers were not only of the kind that do not grow tiresome, but were dispatched with such rapidity that all the fellows were kept guessing. The wrestling match between Harshbarger and Myers made more than one wish for a good old-time tussle and roll on the mat. Following this, a number of the fellows were given a chance to demonstrate their ability as center-of-gravity experts; the problem being to thread a needle while seated at a mechanical disadvantage on the round side of a rolling jug, with the legs pointing north, the heel of one foot upon the toe of the other. The result is yet to be accomplished. The

PREPAREDNESS

We hear much on this subject today, but there is more to be heard. Have we thoughtfully considered it in more ways than one? Have we applied it to our own sphere of activity and work? Would it be worth while to think of our own individual selves in terms of preparedness?

Preparedness in our chosen line of work does not call for an ability to display marvelous physical power to any great extent. To us it means mental culture, derived thru the constant and proper use of our faculties, skill in our chosen line of work, including physical development to a certain extent, a conscientious fulfillment of our duties, together with an attitude of willing readiness to serve.

Shall we, in preparing ourselves for the future, do no more than is required, when we can do just a little more? Shall our faculty of effort be allowed to retard in strength, owing to a lack of some "gratuitous exercise" that might have been given it?

Prepared. Are YOU?

STUDENT WELFARE

At a meeting of the M. T. students this morning the group with Mr. Eslinger outlined the work that they had done and told what they hoped to see done in the future. The program was hastily arranged and short talks were given as follows:

Harry Peterson, History and work of the group; C. Lamb, The Wisconsin Archeological Society; E. Schulz, Drawing the Signs of the Individuals; J. Mullica, What the Other Groups Might Do; P.C. Knoop told of what the group had done in an initiative way in starting a Bowling League and S. P. Schaefer corrected wrong ideas that the students had toward the Welfare work.

BASKETBALL

The games of Friday, February 18th were attended by a record crowd which enjoyed two of the best games of the season.

The preliminary game was played by the girls' volley ball teams, the Red's and the Black's. Both teams were evenly matched and played a close game neither seeming to have the advantage. The first game was won by the Black's by a score of 21 to 18. At the final whistle of the second game the Black's were again victorious by a score of 21 to 10.

The Carleton and Stout game of basket ball was fast and exciting from beginning to end. The game started out with a rush, exciting plays being made by both sides. Carleton was the first scorer and was quickly followed by Stout. During the first few minutes of the game, both teams played hard but failed to gain any advantage over the other. At the end of the first half Carlton had managed to gain a lead of three points, the score being 7 to 4 in their favor.

In the second half both teams put forth their best efforts and kept the crowd at the height of excitement until the end of the game. Carlton slowly gained the lead and succeeded in scoring 19 points by the time the whistle sounded. Stout's score at the close was 10.

The line up of our team was as follows: forwards, Mauch and Lam-pert; center, H. A. Schott; guards, Hager and Olson; subs., De Merit and Sipple; coach, J. G. Schott; manager, Mr. Mauthe.

The student band again helped to liven up the spirit of the crowd by playing a number of pieces before the games and between the halves.

School spirit was not lacking in the Girls and Boys Hikers Clubs. They boosted the attendance at the Carlton game by having a contest between the two clubs. The sale of tickets made by the Girls Hikers was $48.75 and by the Boys Hikers was $15. The door receipts were $35.75, making a total of $99.50.

final number was a blind fight, with star-gazing in the dark as a side issue, enjoyed by the crowd nearly as much as by the combatants, Shumway and Minne. Blindfolded, firmly grasping a yard stick with the left, and a paper club in the right hand, both gladiators fought for the honor, until the referee announced the result as a draw, much to the satisfaction of Minne, as he was winded.

The members of the various committees are given below: General social committee, Watson, Nelson, Neupert, Mr. Eslinger; toasts and music, Nelson, Bigelow, Erickson, Karlstrom, Holm; place card committee, Mr. Eslinger, Crockett, Hasse; arrangement of tables, Neupert, Peterson, Demerit, Lampert, Hippaka; entertainment, Guderian, Cox; finance, Harshbarger; reporter, Minne.

The Association is greatly indebted to Watson, who, thru his untiring efforts and seeming capability of being everywhere at once, and his ability to plan and execute, made the whole affair one grand success. Due credit must be given the chairmen and other members of the various committees, who surely put forth their best efforts in the carrying out of their work.

Those having charge of the supper, which was given as a thesis, were Alice French, Lillian Lockert, Greta Tregoning, and Maude Smith. The four young ladies were assisted by a number of their classmates, who served in the capacity of waitresses.

BASEBALL OR TRACK

Last Wednesday it was discovered to the joy of the M.T. men that there were to be no class talks, but, that a meeting was to be held in the Armory to decide whether we should have Baseball or Track Work.

Mr. Mauthe acted as chairman and opened the meeting by giving the view point of the Athletic Board regarding the topic under discussion. He stated that the Athletic Board decided to carry out whatever was desired by the men of the school. After a short discussion by several of the students and members of the faculty, a vote was taken which resulted in a unanimous decision that Stout should have both of these branches of athletics.

Prospects are very bright for a good baseball team this year as we have most of last year's men with us. At present we know very little about track work for it is just being revived after a lapse of two years. Hopes are entertained that it will be a great success.

THE GIRLS OF YESTERDAY AND TODAY

At the Memorial Theater Friday, Feb. 24 the historical pageant "Girls of Yesterday and Today" was given by the Y. W. C. A. This pageant was one feature of the nation wide Jubilee celebration which the Y. W. C. A. has been holding during the month of February, in honor of the 50th anniversary of its founding.

A prelude of old fashioned airs by the orchestra made a fit setting for the opening of the Pageant. Miss Mary Moore the girl of 1866 came slowly across the front of the stage bringing the spirit of the women of 1866 to her audience in her short opening speech. She spoke of the need of self supporting women and girls, and as she spoke, slowly across the stage came various groups of girls: the first representing working girls looking for a place to live; second group representing girls taking home work from dressmaking and tailoring establishments; the third group, office workers, school teachers, a governess, and factory and mill workers were all dressed in costumes of that period and gave out the spirit of the time.

At the close of the prologue the chorus introduced the theme of the whole pageant—"God is working His purpose out."

Miss Mae Flint—the girl of 1916—at the close of the prologue, took her place upon the stage and the curtain went up on the first scene. This scene was entitled "The Beginning," and it represented a private house in a New England city in the year 1867.

Here a group of women, inspired by work already begun in England and in Boston, came together to organize a Young Women's Christian Association. Mr. James Dockar, as husband of the lady of the house expressed the general disapproval of the scheme in accordance with that age of thinking in a most characteristic manner.

Scene II—"The Procession of the Years"—covering the space of time from 1866-1916 was given by groups of girls who represented the increasing Association membership in the decade 1866-1876, 1876-1886, 1886-1896, 1896-1906, 1906-1916. These groups, each dressed in costumes characteristic of the time they represented, came slowly down the aisle of the theater and across the stage, accompanied by music suitable to the period.

The procession of years brought us up to the time of

ENGLISH

"Say, yuh goin' to the hop to-night?"

"Guess not. Ain't got the price. The girl don't want to, and besides, she said she'd ought to stay to home and study."

"Better come, we don't get these kind of dances very often."

This is no examination, but how many errors in English can you point out in the above conversation? There are several flagrant mistakes, and yet such dialogues may often be heard.

The best of us use the wrong word at times, but we believe that to be caused more by carelessness than by lack of knowledge. College men and women surely should remember, from their high school days, the fundamentals of expression.

But we of Stout have a strong reason for being more than careful of our speech. As teachers, many things will be demanded of us, and not least will be these two:- the use of correct English, and the correct use of English.

Can we meet those demands?

GAVELEERS

After a vacation of a week, all members and friends should unite to make the meeting this evening a record breaker.

Mr. Ehrhard as chairman will have charge of the following program: 1. Life of George Washington. Mr. Bagstad. 2. Extemporaneous Debate: Resolved: That the Regular Army of the U. S. should be increased to 500,000 men. (Read up a little on this.)

Mr. Ehrhard will close the program with an Oration: "War and Puplic Opinion."

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last Sunday. The services were conducted under the leadership of Mr. Hintz.

Mr. Harris spoke of the services rendered by the Y. M. C. A. of Indianapolis, Indiana, at the time of the floods, some five years ago.

The following are some points that were brought out in his talk: the value and efficiency of organized efforts; that true hospitality and charity exists in the Y. M. C. A.; the fact that the Y. M. C. A. was the first organization to be recognized, by authorities, to be competent to take charge of this work.

The next regular meeting will be held Sunday morning, March 5, at 9 A.M. in the Memorial. Mr. Gehl will lead the meeting and Mr. S. Nelson will speak.

The Y.M.C.A. extends an invitation to all young men to attend their meetings.

PHILOMATHEAN

The Philos held their regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 22. The following program was rendered:

The secretary reported that one fourth the membership had a perfect attendance last semester; one fourth were absent once; and of the remaining half only two were absent more than twice.

BASKETBALL

Last Saturday the Stout Juniors defeated Colfax by a score of 28 to 21. The Stout first team lost to the St. Paul College of Law, at St. Paul, by a score of 29 to 23.

The Colfax contest was a close one all the way through, but the Junior's Superior playing gave them the victory. A large crowd witnessed the game, which was due in a large measure to the loyalty of the basketball fans and the effective advertising.

The game between Stout and the St Paul College of Law was also close, especially in the latter few minutes of the game. At the end of the first half the score was 14 to 13, Stout's favor. In the second half the lawyers forged ahead and succeeded in gaining the advantage of a few points.

The line up of the Junior team was as follows: forwards, Newcomb and Valaske; center, Van Gent; guards, Thompson and Miller; sub., Timbers; referee, Larson.

The line up of the Stout first team was as follows: forwards, Mauch and Lampert; guards, Olson and Hager; center, H. A. Schott; coach, J. G. Schott; manager, Mr. Mauthe.

Scene III—Which represented the present day in any Young Woman's Christian Association. Here the varying life of the association was shown by groups of girls, and we find the college girls, country girls, city girls, school girls, and girls representing the countries having association work, all taking an active part in the Y. W. C. A. work.

A beautiful folk dance was given by seven girls and in this manner the attention to the physical welfare of the association girls was emphasized.

Late in the scene, the foreign girls gave a drill at the end of which all joined hands and encircled a globe held high above their heads, thus symbolizing that the Y. W. C. A. encircled the globe.

As the curtain fell on this scene the girl of 1916 who had been watching the many-sided association life of the present, found her thoughts drawn to the part. She saw in memory the brave beginnings fifty years ago and in both past and present found promise for the future.

The pageant was in charge of the Social committee of the Y. W. C. A. of which Miss Lawrentza Hansen is chairman and was assisted by Miss Gladys Harvey, Miss Oreda Schrotke, Miss Leedom, and Miss Alma Kruger. The whole pageant truly represented the spirit of the Y. W. C. A., in a very striking way, making all realize how great an organization it is.

HABITS TO ACQUIRE NOW

At recent meetings, the members of the faculty, under the leadership of Dr. Harvey, have made a study of habit formation and its particular bearing on the training of individuals who are about to be teachers. Each instructor prepared a list of nine habits which he considered most important for students taking his work to acquire at the present moment. The list consisted of three mental, three motor, and three moral habits. A committee was then appointed to select from the individual lists and prepare a list of habits that the whole school could cooperate in putting in force.

Their report is as follows:

1. Habit of exact, clean cut, forceful English expression.
2. Habit of logical arrangement of subject matter for each day's work.
3. Habit of cleanliness and orderliness in handling of equipment and supplies.
4. Habits of manual dexterity. Def.—Habit of manipulation resulting in ease, skill, speed; accuracy of execution.
5. Habit of consideration for the rights; opinions of others.
6. Habit of sensory discrimination. Def.—Habit of making fine distinction through the senses between existing condition and the ideal.

STOUT CONDUCTS

ELIMINATION GAME

Last Friday night, March 3rd an elimination game of basket ball was played in the Stout Armory between the High School teams of Ellsworth and Glenwood City. The game was called at eight o'clock and for fifteen minutes the teams were very well matched and the score remained very close. The second half was altogether different as the Ellsworth quintet came back very strong and piled up the score on their string and held the Glenwood team to two baskets. The score at the end of the first half was 11-17 and at the end of the second it was 45-16 in favor of Ellsworth.

The Glenwood team came to Menomonie handicapped by not having their coach with them. The team practiced the entire week without their coach who was ill. On account of this handicap the boys seemed to have lost their pep. Their eye for baskets was very poor especially on free throws, because only one was made out of the ten chances they had.

Ellsworth's winning this game entitles them the honor of sending their team to participate in the N. W. W. I. A. A. which is to be held in this city March 16th, 17th, and 18th.

HABIT

What part of your activity is or has become habitual? Upon reflection we will readily agree with Dr. James that "ninety-nine hundredths or, possibly, nine hundred and ninety nine thousands of our activity is purely automatic and habitual." Upon further reflection we will also realize that the older we grow, the more we become mere bundles of habits, living automatons, thus leaving our higher powers of mind free for their own proper work.

As prospective teachers, this is of very great importance and has a vital bearing upon our work. We are not merely to be instructors of Domestic and Manual Arts, but must remember that we are to be teachers of habits.

With such an aim in view, should not we co-operate with our present instructors and superiors in the formation of correct habits for ourselves, so that we in turn, may be able to be of help to others in the same way? Are we broad and far-sighted enough to realize the importance and the relation of this matter of habit with respect to our future work?

The minute we think of habit, many of us think of perseverance and "stick-to-it-iveness," which must necessarily go hand in hand with the formation of new habits or the breaking of old ones. It is at times such as these that our will power is put to test, and many are they, who, because of a lack of will power to stand firmly in spite of odds, have fallen back into the old rut.

Where are you?

Y. W. C. A.

On Feb. 29, the Y. W. C. A. held its annual election of officers. Mr. Harvey spoke to the association on "What the Y. W. C. A. Means to Stout." A pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all after the meeting.

On Mar. 3, the installation service was held.

At this meeting, the annual reports of the old cabinet were given. The missionary committee then entertained the audience with reports of Y. W. C. A. work of other nations. These reports were given by girls in the various national costumes.

The next meeting will be held on Mar. 14 and will be in charge of the new cabinet. Come out and help.

GAVELEERS

The Gaveleers held their regular meeting last Wednesday. Mr. Erhard acted as chairman and entertained the members by a program somewhat different from the preceding ones.

Mr. Bagstad read the life of Geo. Washington. Mr. Bagstad's reading was excellent, his selection was good. Messers. Dockar, Karlstrom, and Hasse, took the affirmative side in the extemporaneous debate; and Messers. Doyle, Minne, and Christoffel, debated the negative. The question as debated was: Resolved that the regular army of the United States should be increased to 500,000 men. The debate was a very close one. Many strong points were rendered by both sides. Mr. Clark acted as critic.

Another debate will be held at the next regular meeting on March 8. Mr. Tews will be chairman at this meeting and will appoint the debaters. The question will be chosen by the members present at this meeting.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last Sunday morning, under the leadership of Mr. Gehl. Mr. Nelson gave a very interesting and impressive talk on "Profane and Vulgar Speech." He gave several good thots for consideration, a few of which are:

There is no surer index of disposition and mental condition than language. Word values are not forgotten, no matter how well or how poorly they are spoken.

We seldom pass on the street without hearing low and vulgar speech. Just as vile odor is to the nostrils, so should profane and vulgar speech be to the ears. Words are ennobled or disgraced by usage. We can become acquainted with their proper usage if we would only trouble ourselves to turn to the dictionary.

So important is language, so much a revelation of inward nature, that we write ourselves down on the intangible air, and are known and read of all men whether our disposition be foul or fair.

GIRL HIKERS

Mr. Mauthe gave "comp" tickets to all the girl hikers who had sold tickets for the Carlton game. The girl hikers had the exclusive sale of the tickets for the elimination game Friday night.

The president of the Girl Hikers Club has resigned because of illness and it is probable that as soon as the weather is suitable for hiking that a new president will be elected.

—Dryden.

A very enthusiastic meeting was held on Thursday P. M. March 2. for the consideration of tennis. To our great surprise and pleasure a large number of co-eds were present, and from all indications they would be the main backers of the association.

Mr. H. Frogner the acting chairman opened the meeting and explained the purposes and plans that have been made. He said that with the co-operation of the boys and girls we will have four courts ready a week and a half after Jack Frost has left the ground. The courts will be on the south west corner of the lot across from the dormitories.

A motion was made and carried that a fee of 50 cents be levied on each member for this year. Before leaving the meeting 59 signed up for membership.

The following officers were elected.

President, Mr. H. Frogner.
Secretary, Mr. C. Karlstrom.
Treasurer, Miss. E. Kock.

MR. HASKINS AND MR. WALDRON OFFICIALS

The teams which will play these games are the representatives of twenty-one counties of North Western Wisconsin. It is expected that each team will have a few followers coming with them to attend the tournament. The teams this year seem to be very evenly matched so some good games are expected.

The officials of the tournament will be Mr. Haskins, who is taking the place of Mr. Dean, and Mr. Waldron of the Minnesota University.

The tournaments of previous years were officiated by Dr. Meanwell of the Wisconsin University.

The two teams taking first and second place in this tournament represent this district at Appleton, Mar. 29, 30, and 31.

The tickets are on sale at the Anderson Drug Store and the report is that they are being sold as fast as can be expected, because some people wait until the last day to purchase them.

Any one that can accommodate one or more of the visiting contestants in the tournament please report to Mr. Leonard Olson or Mr. Brunkow.

The teams winning places at the tournaments in previous years were as follows: In 1913, Menomonie, first place; Ashland second. In 1914, Menomonie, first place; Cumberland, second. In 1915, Eau Claire, first place; Menomonie second. The games were all hard fought in these tournaments and the same thing is expected this year.

SPELLING CONTEST

NEUPERT WINS

This morning a spelling contest was held among the Junior Manual Training students, this taking in Mr. Rodgers' Psychology class, Dr. Harvey's Psychology class, and Miss Phillips' English class. Mr. Alfred Bagstad won for Mr. Rodgers' class, Mr. F. D. Farnsworth won Dr. Harvey's class, and Mr. Neupert won for Miss Phillips' class. Of the winners of each class, Mr. Neupert won first place, and is therefore, the Champion Speller among the Junior Manual Training students.

The words were pronounced by Mr. Rogers and were taken from James', "Talks to Teachers," and Smith's, "English for Boys."

How about a contest among the Seniors?

surety and precision of an invisible, but steady hand that makes no false or unnecessary moves.

Let us not grow impatient, at the seemingly slow improvement of the conditions under foot. Nature can do in a very short time, that which we, with all our worry and grumbling can never accomplish.

In due time, the eye, tired of viewing the vast expanse of white solitude, will behold a new world, clothed in her new garment. The ear will be greeted by songs of praise

NATURE'S CHANGE

No well-trained eye is needed to note the change that is taking place about us at this time of the year.

Nature, after several months of rest and slumber, is awakening to new life and activity.

The change, though it may seem to occur slowly enough to us, who have been anxiously awaiting its arrival, is being wrought with the and joy, warbled from the happy-hearted feathered inhabitants of the air, glad to be back again.

And we, shall not we also, profit by this change? Shall not we, if we with Nature have been drowsy or dormant, awaken to new desires and new activities? Let us unite with Nature in making this change benefit our fellow men as well as ourselves.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its regular meeting last Sunday morning under the leadership of Mr. Patalo. Mr. Peterson, the speaker being absent, the hour was spent in informal talks by Mr. Watson and Mr. Neupert. The subject for discussion was, "Sunday School work and the plan of organization in home churches."

Mr. Watson spoke on the system used in the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Neupert discussed the work of the Moravian Church and the study of missions among the Alaskans in connection with bible study work. Both talks were both interesting and well presented to have been given extemporaneously.

The meeting next Sunday will be conducted by Mr. Holm and Mr. Karlstrom. Why not be there?

CLEAN ATHLETICS

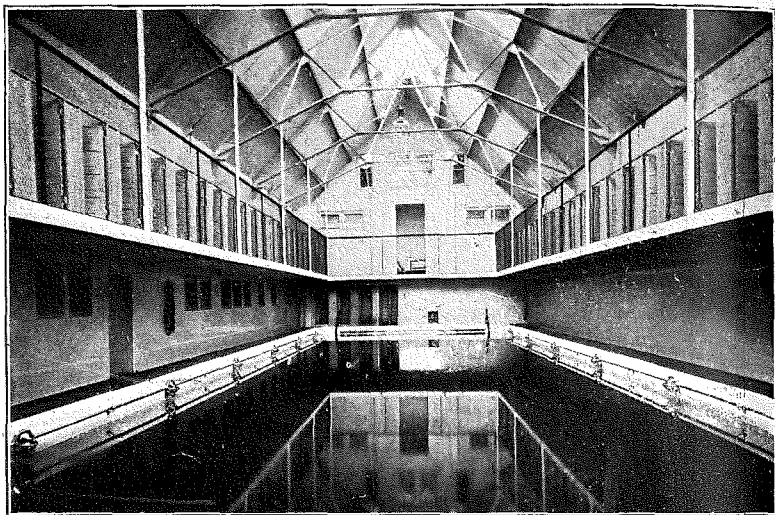

By Claude M. French '15

We take pleasure in presenting this article by Mrs. French who was coach of Menomonic High School basketball team, season of 1913-1914. Mr. French is now teaching and coaching in the High School at Renton, Wash. —Editor.

According to the critic's viewpoint school athletics have both benefits and drawbacks for all concerned. There is nothing that appeals so strongly to the loyal student as high school spirit. By school spirit we mean the enthusiasm manifested by the student body in advancing the interests of their for his school that gives him courage to champion her cause when opposition confronts her. This same spirit is apparent in every school in the nation. It permeates the student body of America.

The boy who works to win a position on the football, basketball or baseball team does not

THE STOUT INSTITUTE NATATORIUM

school, both in sport and in the field of knowledge. It is not always the student's desire for work that prompts him to enter debating or take up literary work in the high school. Neither is it always his particular love for the game that lures him on the football field. It is often the student's love often realize that he is developing and strengthening his character, as well as developing himself physically. Physical education has come to play a most important part in the school work of today. A sound body should accompany a well developed mind, and this means a sufficient amount of well directed exercise.

Athletics form a variety in school work which is eagerly seized, and it furnishes a stimulus to the student for devoting his spare time to his physical perfection.

The drawbacks we shall mention for the sake of looking at both sides of the question. Opponents of athletics believe that inasmuch as they form a ketball, football or track contest. He undermines his character and standing with fellow-men; and that form of athletics is as degrading as the other is elevating. There is little doubt but that most athletes enjoy winning fairly, and detest unfairness.

Quite often public sentiment molds the course of the youthful athlete without any conscious choice on his part. Every school desires the spirit of running fairly, and we are going to feel proud to say that our own school spirit and pub-side issue of the school work, they detract attention from the school studies. There is also the physician's claim of over development, that is undue enlargement of the heart.

STOUT TEAMS ON FOOTBALL FIELD

There are two ways by which students may enter athletics. One is to win at any sacrifice of sportsmanship and honor; the other to win, but win fairly. It would be far better for the athlete and athletics in general, if the individual or team going in to "win-at-any-cost," had never seen a bas-lic sentiment make clean athletics our aim. To athletes, successful in being square, if not in winning the largest number of games, to them alone can the broader sense of success be applied. They alone have attained the true goal in the fight for clean athletics.

THINGS A BOY SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TOOLS AND TOOL OPERATIONS.

This list was written by Joseph Berg, Instructor in Woodwork, Lane Technical School, and was first published in the M. T. Mag., June, 1913

27. To lay the plane on its side, to avoid dulling the blade and cutting the bench.
28. That the cap iron, for bench work, should be about 1-16" from the plane blade.
29. That the plane should not be held diagonally, except when cutting across the grain.
30. That a modern jack plane is not a scrub plane, as the old fashioned wooden plane was.
31. That good work is impossible with dull tools.
32. That the scraper should be reversed for curly-grained wood.
33. That the sharpening of the scraper should not be done by the students.
34. How a rip saw differs from a cross cut saw.
35. That a number on a saw indicates the number of teeth per inch.
36. That a rip saw is not always numbered 8 and a crosscut saw 10.
37. That a gauge and square are useless if not used properly.
38. That it is necessary to have a line squared across two adjacent faces, to cut off square.
39. That a hack saw should be reversed for close work.
40. That no time or labor is saved by sawing around the piece.
41. That a large chisel will do better work than a small one.
42. That chiseling across the grain is correct and possible in many cases.
43. That a mallet should not be used, except for heavy duty.
44. To watch the chisel edge, not the handle when chiseling.
45. That a mallet or hammer should be held one-third the handle length from the end.
46. That a bevel should not be called a "bevel square."
47. That the bevel should be held firmly against the work, when testing or gauging.
48. That the gauge point should be filed like a knife edge, and should actually cut a line.
49. That the gauge point should not project beyond 1/16" from the beam.

HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT LABORATORY

By Ethel Feldkirchner

A brief article appeared in our columns some months ago which told you something about a new form of laboratory which had been introduced into the Home Economics Department; a form of laboratory work which had been introduced into some eastern and a few western schools. This laboratory work is carried on at what is generally spoken of as "The Homemakers," but is, properly speaking, The Household Management Practice Cottage.

This cottage is a thirteen room house which is occupied by the girls in groups of nine, for a period of two weeks; four or five girls entering each Saturday night.

The purposes of the course are threefold: first, to afford an opportunity for practice in household management; second, to apply the principles learned; and third, to create a true homelike atmosphere for the girls while there.

Perhaps the most noticeable element of the work is the most excellent organization, and arrangement of all the details of the household. Correlation of the house and school work is secured thru schedules which are made out by the different managers, who carefully note each girl's program and assign her duties so that she has time to perform them.

On the whole the work is divided into five departments, presided over by as many managers: namely; the manager of meals, manager of daily care of the house and entertaining, manager of laundry, manager of special cleaning and the manager of special baking.

The cottage is owned by the school and weekly expenses are met by the board paid by the girls. All accounts are kept by the girls—a thing which in itself is of very great value.

We might list a great many values to be gained but space permits only these few which we consider most important. Economy is learned through the careful management and preparation of meals and the keeping of accounts; organization is gained through the necessity of planning and doing many duties; the value of time is also learned through the realization of the necessity of doing work thoroughly and quickly.

Much has been said both for and against the course, but the general opinion of the girls who are willing to work, is extremely favorable. They realize the very great practical value to be gained and are very happy in the cheerful, home-like atmosphere of "our house."

Of course it means work to direct and keeping house for a family of ten, in addition to carrying a full senior program. But everything worth while means work and this is only another of the activities from which one receives benefit in proportion to the effort put forth.

The work has been carried on for six months and so far as we can see the health and happiness of the girls has been in no way impaired, and they certainly have gained in wisdom.

CITY TOURNAMENT

Three twenty-minute periods were played. The first period was played by the High School and the Aggies. The Aggies gave the H. S. team the battle of their lives. The game ended in a 6 to 6 tie, necessitating the playing of an extra five minute period to decide it. The H. S. scored a free throw and thus won the game by a score of 7 to 6.

The second period found Stout playing the Aggies. The Stout men had no difficulty in scoring an easy victory, holding the Aggies without a basket. The final score was 13 to 2.

The third period found Stout playing the High School for the championship. The High winning first place by a score of 9 to 7.

The first game between Cumberland and Superior was easily the best game staged thus far. Superior opened with a rush and held the lead at the end of the first half by a score of 16 to 9. Cumberland staged a phenomenal come-back, and in the last few seconds of play scored the basket that left them 31 to 29 winners.

Eau Claire easily scored a 52 to 20 victory over Mondovi in the second afternoon game. At no time during the game was Eau Claire in danger. Mondovi showed some good interference of Eau Claire's passes, but Eau Claire's speed was too much for them.

In the first evening game, Ashland defeated Stanley by a score of 21 to 15. This was an exciting game made so by the crowd who were rooting strenuously for both sides. Both teams played an excellent guarding game.

In the last evening game, Menomonie scored an easy 70 to 14 victory.

Menomonie was the favorite from the start and continued so. Glenwood often started out a fine system of team work but the Menomonie guards broke in and stopped it. The score at the end of the first half was 27 to 6.

NOTES OF THE GAMES

The officials, Waldron and Haskins of the Uni. Minn. are doing good work.

The biggest afternoon crowd ever turned out in Menomonie was in attendance yesterday.

The band is furnishing good music and lots of it. Keep it up, you are doing fine.

A record crowd is expected tonite at the runner-up elimination game.

ASHLAND vs CUMBERLAND

Ashland met Cumberland in the first game; this game ended 26 to 16 in Ashland's favor. Ashland did well the first half to obtain the lead of 19 to 9 for Cumberland came back and held their opponents 7 to 7. Brenskie scored six baskets for Ashland while Talbot and Algeo divided the honors for Cumberland with two each.

MENOMONIE vs EAU CLAIRE

The hardest fought game of the Tournament thus far was staged in the last game of Friday night between Menomonie and Eau Claire. Eau Claire brought a good bunch of rooters along, determined to "carry home the bacon." For the greater part of the first half it seemed that they would realize their greatest hope.

Menomonie kept crawling up on their opponents and the half ended 14 - 13 in the locals favor.

Menomonie came back with a vengeance, Shabacher scoring four baskets this half and stowing the game away.

Enough cannot be said of the plucky fight that the little Eau Claire forwards, Williams and Cleasby, put up during the whole game. Cummings of Eau Claire did great work, holding MacDonald of Menomonie to two baskets. The Eau Claire forwards did the scoring for their team, and Shabacher with six baskets and MacDonald with two, were the chief point gainers for Menomonie.

During the evening the crowd was in a fine humor and saw only the funny side of being trampled on by people trying to get to the upper seats and by ones becoming excited over the game. Those at the doors were very well behaved and tried their best to aid the officials in their attempt to keep an open passageway.

TOURNAMENT NOTES

Saturday afternoon a show was given at the Orpheum Theater for the players.

Friday afternoon a complimentary show was given at the Grand Theater for the visiting players.

Everything at the tournament has been going finely this year. The crowd is very well behaved and receives the decisions of the referee in a very orderly manner. The management wishes to thank the Menomonie fans especially, for their courteous treatment of their rival teams.

The officials are doing their best to conduct the cleanest type of games possible. In order to do this they have been watching the players closely calling all fouls carefully, even tho the rooters seemed to think that some of the teams were discriminated against.

Five fanettes attending the games, surely showed their school spirit by coming down from Superior with their team.

The fouls are being watched very closely by the officials, thus making cleaner and better games. This has not been realized by everyone attending the games. On the whole the crowd received the referee's decisions in a nice way.

Between the two games played last night, the Menomonie High School girls sold candy to the audience. The demand was far greater than the supply. They then paraded around the floor and began giving their yells, and kept it up until asked to leave the floor in order to begin the second game.

The M. H. S. girls with their rendition of "Adair" attracted quite a little comment and produced a great deal of amusement and applause.

We regret the absence of the Ashland coach. He surely is missing it by not seeing his team put up a mighty plucky game of basketball.

The visiting teams have all enjoyed the privileges extended to them by the Commercial Club. They have used the game room with pleasure and the reading room with comfort.

PREPAREDNESS

Pres. Harvey At Assembly

At Assembly last week, Dr. Harvey threw light on the much - heard - of subject of "Preparedness." We all have had ideas concerning both the word and the subject, but with most of us, these ideas were based more on hearsay than on any deep thinking on the matter. Now, the only ones entertaining any doubt are those who missed Assembly.

The attitude of Germany toward preparedness, and the result of that attitude were dwelt upon fully. Germany's position in the present war, her unbound ingenuity and forethought, gave to the world an example of unparalleled efficiency.

The Pacifists of the United States, with their milk and water theories, were scored heavily. We don't want war—of course we do not—yet it often happens that one party can start a quarrel. The bully does not pick out the prepared man as a victim; it is usually a "peace-at-any-price" that is so favored.

Preparedness need not mean the start of aggressive warfare; but it would save us from the position we are now in, where an untutored bandit with a few ragged murderers defies a whole nation, and that nation cannot punish him because it has not the power to send a sufficient force after him within a week after the consummation of his misdeeds.

Preparedness need not necessarily mean warfare of any sort; it may be industrial and educational preparedness, such as Germany has had for the past twenty-five years. The nation whose industries and educational system are so organized as to give the highest standard of efficiency, is the one that will stand out foremost among the nations of the world.

Educational preparedness applies to us. Shall we not, in our training for teachers, do our best to make our preparation as complete as possible, in order that the world may know us as persons of dependability in the crises that will arise before us in our work? There is food for thought; let's think.

OUR FIRST BIRTHDAY

A number of readers noticed last week how we "put on" a little extra and not a few troubled themselves to tell us they enjoyed the extra pages in the STOUTONIA. Really we enjoyed it as much as our readers and felt that the celebration was rather a successful one.

Celebration, did we say? Yes; not the kind that includes a vacation, but rather one that involves extra work and some special "fixings." We really had something to celebrate as it was our first birthday.

The return of the Basket Ball Tournament reminded us of the fact that the first "Weekly News" was dated March 17, 1915. After the three issues under this title, the name STOUTONIA was chosen and a copy of the paper has been issued each week that school has been in session, including the summer period.

In size, we have not shown a year's growth. It would not sound right to say that in quality STOUTONIA is much improved over last year. It would insinuate that last year, STOUTONIA was "bunk" and this year has a "bump." But still we do feel that each week's issue of the paper comes easier than the preceding one. The editorial staff and reporters prepare the copy in a quicker and better manner than before. The mechanical force works more efficiently and secures a better result in the time required than at the beginning.

Our value as a School paper is not questioned. STOUTONIA exists as one agent which unites us into a better fellowship and relationship. We get acquainted thru the columns each week. We see names of certain students often enough to realize that there are leaders among us; others who are workers; others still who are jokers. It takes all these types of personalities to bring out the best in a community and just so in the Stout bunch.

Now that the child has had its first birthday, and is walking about for itself, it needs more attention than ever. It needs your interest in its welfare above all else.

We wish all the students and faculty to enjoy the school paper. We are glad for the suggestions of ways that will enable the STOUTONIA to serve all more satisfactorily.

The names of the girls passed by the board of censors was given to the society. Next meeting, March 21. Every member, new and old, is expected to be present. Special business.

Y. M. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held in the Memorial last Sunday morning under the leadership of Mr. Smith. Mr. Karlstrom gave the talk of the morning on the subject "Men Wanted Everywhere." According to him, "Men are wanted, not of the kind that, like jelly fish, are swept with the tide; nor of the kind that have only wish bone; but of the kind that have a back bone to back up the wish bone."

There is to be a meeting as usual next Sunday morning, and it is hoped that a good number will turn out to enjoy the good fellowship to be found at these meetings.

BOY HIKERS

There will be a meeting of the Hikers, Thursday at 4:15 in Room 125 for the purpose of planning hikes for the Spring Vacation.

The 200 mile emblem will be discussed; so please be present.

There is still time for some of the Stout men to gain some of the benefits of Hiking. Get in the Bunch!

Y. W. C. A.

On March 14, the Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting. This was the first meeting in charge of the new cabinet. Miss Deborah Roberts spoke on the "Consumers' League." Special music was rendered by Miss Margaret Dunn. There will be a special meeting next Thurs. Mar. 23. The subject will be the "Eight Weeks Club." Come and hear the new suggestion, which the cabinet has to offer.

PERSONALS

Miss Catherine Conway is visiting her sister, Miss Gertrude Conway.

Miss Henrietta Wells has had a severe case of tonsilitis.

Mr. Ben Fernstrum will spend his vacation in Chicago.

Mr. W. A. Williams, from Mankato, Minn., was in Menomonie Thurs.

Mr. George Blum of Eau Claire was a guest of Miss Peggy Goodman on Saturday.

Mr. La Verne Lang of Eau Claire was Miss Edna Boberg's guest for the week end.

Mr. O'Brien of Eau Claire was Miss Gertrude Conway's guest on Saturday and Sunday.

Arthur Berg, '15, who is teaching at Milbank, South Dakota, spent a few days here visiting friends while on his way home.

Mr. Clarence Mc Nabl of Eau Claire spent the week end with Miss Mildred Rock.

Miss Edna Roeseler spent the week end with the Misses Sydow and Ubele. Miss Roseler is a student at Madison.

Mr. Geo. A. Jester '15, teaching in Adrian, Minn., spent the week end in Menomonie.

Mr. B. Cooley, from Dubuque, Iowa, spent Friday in Menomonie, visiting Miss Ruth Cooley.

Miss Marjory Weirs spent Saturday and Sunday with her Mother at Lynwood Hall.

Messers. Boberg, Augustine, Blum and Frarr, from Eau Claire, were in Menomonie for the tournament.

Miss Leedom chaperoned the Misses Ester Denninger, Alma Christianson, Marie Carpenter, Imogene Pearse, and Ethel Mc Gregor at a St. Patrick's dinner at the Royal Hotel Saturday night.

Miss Cora Babcock and Nina Michaelson entertained all of the third floor girls of the Annex Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Charles Brunkow, from Dubuque, Iowa, spent the week end in Menomonie, visiting his brother, Mr. Otto Brunkow.

Because of the illness of her mother, Miss Leedom will leave Wednesday night, for her home in Dayton, Ohio.

Miss Marian Carey entertained eighteen of the Annex girls Sat., at a St. Patrick's luncheon, in honor of her roommate, Miss Van Stratum, who will not return after vacation. Miss Van Stratum has accepted a position in the Appleton High School.

Miss Irene Wegener and Miss Bernice Nolan gave all of the Bertha Tainter Hall girls a spread Saturday night.

and Ashland second place. The score of this game was 23-12.

Eau Claire received third place by defeating Cumberland 31-27. When the whistle blew at the end of the second half the score was 26 to 26. An extra five minutes was played and in this time Eau Claire made two baskets and a free throw while Cumberland made one free throw.

The crowd which was in attendance the last night was not so large as that of Friday night but their attitude toward the officials was good. A great deal of yelling was done; not alone for the home team, but for the visitors as well.

The medals were presented to the five men winning first, second, and third places, by High School girls. Five girls from the Sophomore Class presented the bronze medals to the Eau Claire team. Five Junior girls awarded the Ashland team with the silver medals and the gold medals were given the Menomonie team by Senior girls.

The cup which was awarded the team for the best conduct and appearance went to Stanley. This speaks well of the Stanley team, because it was the second time they have received this cup during the four tournaments held in Menomonie. Mr. "Don" Miller, formerly of M. High School, who is now principal of the Stanley H. S., received the cup and gave a well-worded acceptance.

The All Tournament team which was picked by one of the officials follows:

FIRST TEAM

Williams, Eau Claire, F
Mac Donald, Menomonie, F
Talbot, (Capt.) Cumberland, C
Shabacher, Menomonie, G
Dick, Ashland, G

SECOND TEAM

Brensiike, Ashland, F
Cleasby, Eau Claire, F
Mc Nabb, Eau Claire, C
Mc Gowan, Menomonie, G
Hart, Cumberland, G

SHOP DEMONSTRATIONS

SPECIAL WORK IN ALL SHOPS

10:00 TO 12:00 MARCH 17

The demonstration which took place in the various shops of the M. T. Department, on Friday of the Tournament week, should be reviewed, although some time has passed since it happened.

The only fault that some of us had to find with the demonstration, was that we were tied so closely to our own work that we saw nothing of what was going on in other shops. However, we heard what it was all about, — especially did we hear from those who were fortunate enough to get to the kitchen, where doughnuts were served as souvenirs.

Fellows working in the shops that turned out a souvenir product surely gave a fine demonstration of division of labor and coöperation. The shops that made souvenirs were the foundry, forge shop, print shop, woodturning shop, mill, and saw filing shop. Each fellow claimed that the particular shop in which he worked turned out the best souvenir.

This decision, however, will be left to those who were able to visit them all.

In the M. T. shops the souvenirs took a more inedible form, ranging from brick bats in the brick shop, to cold-chisels in the forge room.

Mr. Buxton expressed his appreciation of the manner in which the fellows took to the work, and the courtesy shown the visitors by the guides. He feels sure, as we all do, that the visitors felt well satisfied and repaid by paying our school a visit.

We hope that the visitors took away with them a favorable impression of Stout, for that is one of the ways in which the good name of our school is spread.

A certain minister once arose to preach a sermon. This is the way he began. "Ladies and gentlemen, I'se now gwine to announce my text. I'se gwine to define de undefinable and I'se gwine to explain de inexplicable. And when I gets de undefinable defined and de inexplicable explained, den I'se gwine to unscrew de inscrutable."

NINE MORE WEEKS!

"Back at work after vacation! Oh! I had such a good time! Why I haven't been to bed before midnight a single night! I'm nearly dead! How I did hate to come back!"

"Did you really?"

I don't believe it. Perhaps you did rather hate to leave home, but ask yourself honestly now, aren't you glad that you are able to do the work that awaits you? That you could spend a week at home? And honestly now, aren't you glad just to be back? To be sure you are!

Only nine weeks more of school! For some of us this means only nine weeks more before a summer of rest and then a beginning of the work we have elected to do. For the others it means only a few weeks more before they are sober seniors wondering what they will do for a thesis. For all of us it means nine weeks more in which to put forth our best efforts to make the short time worth while, to round out the year in a way of which we shall not be ashamed.

Some one asked a certain strenuous statesman how he managed to look so fresh and to be so enthusiastic, even under the strain of long hours under very trying circumstances, to which he replied with his characteristic smile, "I like my job." Do you?

Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday morning was the most beautiful that the members of the Y. M. C. A. have enjoyed this spring.

After singing two songs, a Scripture reading followed by Mr. Hanson. Mr. Bagstad presented a well-written paper on the subject, "Light." In his paper were several good thoughts, a few of which are: Natural and artificial light. Each one of us is a light but, the rays vary within us. In all ages God has been the light of the world.

Mr. Harshbarger informed us of the Y. M. C. A. meeting at Lake Geneva the coming summer. Among other things, he stated that the cost would amount to about $50. But it is possible to get some work there, if arranged for ahead of time. In that way one can reduce the expenses.

GAVELEERS

The Gaveleers held their regular meeting on Wednesday, March 8. Mr. Tews was chairman of the program committee and arranged for an extemporaneous debate. The debate was very interesting and amusing owing to the fact that the question was stated in a negative form, which resulted in the affirmative men debating on the negative side of the question, and the negative men debating on the affirmative side.

On Wednesday, March 15, the Gaveleers held thier meeting with Mr. D. Doyle as chairman. The program consisted of a selection by Mr. Bagstad, and a spelling contest. The by-laws were amended. Members will please note that their attendance is now required at three meetings out of every four.

DON'T BLAME THE SCHOOL

If you want to go to the kind of a school

Like the kind of a school you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip,

And start on a long, long hike;
You'll only find what you've left behind,

For there's nothing that's really new.

Its a knock at yourself when you knock your school—

It isn't the school—It's you.

Real schools are not made by students afraid

Lest someone else get ahead.

When everyone works and nobody shirks

You can raise a school from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake

Your neighbors can make one, too,
Your school will be what you want to see,

It isn't the school— It's you.

BOY HIKERS

The Stout Boy Hikers opened their Spring Season with a hike to Cedar Falls, Saturday afternoon. Eight Hikers made the trip.

The hike was made in good form, leaving here at 1:00 arriving at 2:20, and the return trip started at 3:20 from Cedar Falls arriving in Menomonie at 5:00.

At this season of the year the falls are a beautiful sight because of the enormous amount of water falling over the dam. This produces a roar that can be heard for miles.

The trip had a close call to being marred by an accident as Mr. Schaefer was lost in a hay barn, but after a short time the trip was resumed.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is starting a series of Bible Study Classes beginning this week and continuing for six weeks.

Meetings are held at the following places:

Tainter Hall, Wednesday evenings, 6:45-7:15, Rev. Dinsdale, Leader.

Lynwood Hall, Wednesday evenings 6:45-7:15, Rev. Westenberg, Leader.

Baptist Church Thursday evenings, 6:45-7:15, Rev. Buell, Leader.

It is the duty of every Y.W.C.A. member to attend one of these meetings each week.

PERSONALS

Robert Donald and Yep Sang spent the week end in the Cities.

Miss Winifred Straub is quarantined at her home in Fergus Falls, Minn. She will return to school the last of the week.

The Misses Ruth Testman, Saline Marks, and Ella Jackson spent their vacation at Lynwood Hall.

Miss Margaret Paulson has had her father from North Dakota visiting her.

Harold Decker, Wm. Werrell, and Ed. Gibson, all of the class of '14 are spending their Spring Vacation in Menomonie, this week.

The Misses Ruth Cooley, Lottie Peters, Ethel Feldkirchner, Nina Michaelson, Catherine Maruen, and Mayfred McKenzie spent the vacation week at the "Annex."

Mr. Erickson and Mr. Holm spent the week end at their home in Wilmont, Minnesota.

The Misses Pearl Leighton, Beth Cole, Grace Freeland, and Lillian McDurmand remained at Bertha Tainter Hall for their vacation.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR STOUT STUDENTS

1. This is thy school; thou shalt have no other school before thee.

2. Thou shalt not suffer thy instructors to labor in vain, for thou wilt never pass if thou hearest not to the words and wisdom of thy instructors.

3. Remember the study hour to keep it obediently. Five nights of the week shouldst thou be in thine room studying at 7:30, and retire at 10:30. And on Friday and Saturday nights thou shalt return to thine own room, from any amusement whatsoever at 12:00.

4. Honor the President of thy institution and also the heads of the different departments, so that they begin not to criticize for thy conduct, thy behavior, or thy knowledge or a lack of knowledge.

5. Thou shalt not appear in the school room at any time without thy uniform.

6. Thou shalt not steal thy neighbor's rain coat, nor his hat, nor his umbrella nor his books, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

7. Thou shalt not form a chattering mob in the passages, and thus cause tardiness of thyself and of other people. If thou so doest thou art liable to incur the wrath of the Dean of Women.

8. Thou shalt not crib.

9. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's fine clothes, nor his friends, nor his good marks, nor her "steady," nor his worldly possessions, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

10. Thou shalt love thy instructors, thy school, thy work, and thy friends as thou lovest thyself.

BASE BALL "DOPE"

With Mr. Rodgers as coach and with all of last year's men back except two, the indications for a good baseball team are very favorable.

The battery men have worked out in the Armory since the middle of February and are in splendid shape to take up the out-door work. The two veteran pitchers, Nordstrom and Benjamin, remain over from last season. They are showing better form than ever before and are ready to defend their positions against Peterson and Neupert, the two junior contestants for the mound.

Behind the bat we have "Hank" Fieldseth and "Snag" Werrel, as veterans of last year's team. Aijala, a junior, is also after the position and has shown that he has the ability to stop the fast ones, and a good arm for pegging.

There are about thirty candidates for the out-field and in-field positions, and judging from the work-outs there is going to be some very close competition for some of the positions.

The Coach as well as the student body will have an opportunity to estimate the material at the Junior-Senior game, April 15 and also at the Faculty-Student game, April 22, at the Stout Athletic Field.

On April 29, Stout goes to St. Paul to play its first game with St. Thomas.

THE FUTURE

As a result of hearing the reports at Assembly last week, some of us may have suddenly become more sober-minded and stern, with better intentions in mind.

Not only must we consider ourselves as the only ones with whom this serious matter is concerned. We must remember that we, as a member of the student body of our institution, are either directly or indirectly, responsible for the success or failure of our fellow classmates and students.

We cannot justly consider ourselves as being individually separate from the others, and expect to conduct ourselves as we see fit, without regard for them. As primitive man united with his fellows for the purpose of self-defence, so we must unite our best efforts for the welfare of our fellow students, for the reputation of the school, and for our own good.

CITIZENSHIP

STOUTONIA is non-partisan with reference to the candidates elected for the various offices and will usually not take sides with local issues. But now, that a majority of the citizens of Menomonie have determined that the city shall have no saloons for a while at least, we want to express our appreciation of and belief in the fact that Menomonie will be a more excellent city for the welfare of the many students that each year attend her schools.

We wish to commend to all the spirit shown by some of the fellows in connection with the election on April 4. The calm insistence upon the inalienable rights of the American citizen in regard to his share in settling the issues of the country, is one of the factors that makes a man. America needs such citizens, if it is to remain a government of, for, and by the people.

THE TRACK SEASON

With but a few weeks left for practice, Stout is endeavoring to develop a track team that can cope with the strongest normal schools in the state. Dual track and field meets with River Falls and LaCrosse Normals, to be held at Menomonie, have been arranged.

It is encouraging to realize that experienced men are rapidly getting into form and it is equally gratifying to note the development of green material. However, Stout cannot hope to make a desirable reputation during this, her initial year in track work, unless there is a decided and steady cooperation of the entire student body in building up a good team and duly and loyally supporting it.

Practice will be held as often as possible at the Athletic Field and on the Crescent Street cinder walk, along the lake. All students are cordially invited to watch the men practice and thereby become familiar with the nature of track and field work.

Football men should not lose the opportunity that track work affords for building up a sturdy physique and for developing those essential gridiron requisites---fight, speed, and precision of quick action.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. met in regular session Sunday morning. Mr. Dickert was leader of the meeting.

After the opening exercise Mr. Shumway gave a talk on "The Educational System of the South."

Mr. Lampert and Mr. Peterson will conduct the meeting next Sunday. Every one that was present last Sunday come and bring someone with you next Sunday. Each service you miss you are depriving yourself of a position of good fellowship that is justly due you.

PERSONALS

Miss Nell Malone who is teaching in Tomah, Wisconsin, spent the week end with Miss Marjory Hill.

Miss Ada Estrop from Mandan, North Dakota, spent the week end at Tainter Annex as the guest of her sister, Miss Eliza Estrop.

Mr. Cole from Mankato, Minnesota, spent Sunday with his daughter, Beth, at Bertha Tainter Hall.

Miss Anna Taft from Evansville, Wisconsin, was the guest for the week end of Miss Esther Grimsted at the Annex.

Friday afternoon, the Juniors held a class meeting to make arrangements for the Annual Prom given in honor of the Seniors. Chairmen were appointed for the respective committees, and preparations will begin at once.

The Junior girls of Bertha Tainter Hall entertained the Senior girls Saturday night at a Theater Party. Seats were reserved at the Grand. After the show the girls went to Chase's, where refreshments were served.

Last Friday evening "The Woodworms" were called together by Mr. Christoffel to partake of a sumptuous supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kolby. The gathering was in the form of a farewell extended to Mr. Hippaka, who left for Fond du Lac, where he has accepted a position.

!! REMEMBER !!

Y. W. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held at the Memorial April 6. The meeting which was unusually well attended was in charge of the Religious Committee.

Reverend Buell of the Baptist Church gave an especially interesting and instructive talk. He took as the key letters for his topic "Y. W. C. A.," from which he evolved the sentence "You Will Change Again." Reverend Buell said that every day our lives were being moulded and changed by the associations which we form and with which we come in contact. Every individual should ask herself, "Is the nature of this change tending toward good or toward bad?"

In concluding, Rev. Buell emphasized very strongly the importance of getting rid of bad habits in order to make this final change one which will be acceptable in the sight of Jesus. "It is only," he said, "thru the cross and Jesus Christ that we can rid ourselves of the habits which interfere with our material and spiritual development."

TENNIS

At last the tennis courts are complete. The last loads of dirt were hauled Monday and the courts have now been rolled and are as hard as a floor. It is now up to the fellows to get out and make the backstops. This means only a few hours and ought to be finished before Saturday.

On Friday night, the club is giving a show at the Grand Theater. The Five Reel feature "A Gentleman of Leisure," a comedy drama, will be shown. The picture is one of the best that has been shown in this city for some time. We hope to see everyone help the Tennis Club by being there.

A tournament has been planned for the last part of the year. Members will draw for places and those losing will be eliminated. The ones winning first and second places will be awarded prizes.

Those who have not paid their dues should do so at once as a schedule is being made for playing, and only those who have paid are included.

THINGS A BOY SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TOOLS AND TOOL OPERATIONS.

59. That a handscrew is not a clamp.
60. How to adjust a handscrew.
61. That a vise will hold the work, without placing the entire weight upon the handle, when tightening it up.
62. That "LE-PAGES" glue is only one kind of glue.
63. That "the more glue, the stronger," is a mistaken idea.
64. That a loose joint, with much glue, is weaker than than a tight one, with less glue.
65. That a thick glue is worse than none.
66. That shellac does not dry in half an hour, as is generally believed. It merely sets.
67. That shellac must be thin, and applied quickly.
68. That the work must not be handled the same day if possible.
69. That wood filler is not intended to fill bad joints and ruts on the surface.
70. That "sawdust and glue" is a poor workman's motto.

[This concludes the list.]

EXHIBIT WORK

Many students may not realize that a representative exhibit of the work of the school is being prepared in some of the various shops. The exhibit is rapidly nearing completion and will go forward to its destination the last of this week.

Photographs of the various shops, rooms, buildings, students at work, etc., have been enlarged, mounted and framed. The frames have been made in the mill, as part of the work of the various mill classes. Special charts have been printed in the print shop with special type purchased for that purpose. Enlargements of these charts have been made by the photographer to a size large enough to be easily read. The charts contain information about the different phases of the work as carried on at our school, thus enabling many who know nothing of the nature of the work, to form a good estimate of The Stout Institute.

The exhibit will first be shown at Springfield, Mass., at a convention of the Eastern Arts Association, which will commence April 19. From there it will be taken to Grand Rapids, Mich., to the convention of the Western Drawing and Manual Training Association, commencing May 3.

PERSONALITY

As a sequence to the reading of letters from school officials in regard to teachers from Stout Institute, Dr. Harvey spoke on the personality of teachers, last Wednesday. He said in part:

The man or woman, blessed with a beautiful face, splendid build, and charming manners, has a big advantage over the plain, homely person, because people, as a rule, form opinions very quickly and the first one often has a lasting effect.

How easy it is for this type of person to make friends. Every one takes to him and much is made of him. And herein lies the trouble. Social activities attract more than the work, and soon they lead every one in town a merry chase.

But the outside features are only a small part of the personality of a man. The plain, every-day person, by his actions, by his words, and his thots can give a far better impression than a pretty face and fine clothes.

The contrast is easily seen. The person who does these things in moderation, makes himself one of the community in social and church affairs; who tends to his work in the best possible manner, will soon have friendly sympathy with him in anything he wishes to undertake.

Don't put everything on the outside. Keep something for the people to find out themselves. And finally, be sure that you know the kind of wares you are displaying.

FACULTY WELFARE SUPPER

PRACTICAL THESIS

As a thesis problem the Faculty Welfare Supper was served Friday night, by the Misses Virginia Marsh, Mary Jones, Fern Osbeck, Ruth Brown, Gladys Strobel, and Gladys Winigar. The color scheme of green and yellow was carried out in the decorations of smilax and yellow roses and in the menu which was as follows:

Creamed Veal	Mushrooms
Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Carrots and Peas
Celery	Rolls
Coffee
Cucumber Salad	Cheese Straws
Pineapple Bavarian Cream
Cakes	Mints

As a mixer the guests changed places after each course. After the supper the faculty indulged in a spelling match, Miss Kugel being the champion of her side.

SIDE-WALKING VS. CROSS-CUTTING

The result of a tendency to desire to save time by cutting off corners straightening out curves, and generally departing from the intended thoroughfares, is now manifesting itself.

The idea is to walk where the walks are, not where you want them to be. There may be times when it may become necessary to forget this idea for the time being, but we believe that if the lawns were intended to be used as walks, that these lawns would not show the bad effects of being trampled upon.

Why should it be necessary to be reminded of this each year? We feel that this occurs, not through a desire to wish to destroy Nature's work wantonly, but through thoughtlessness. If we think of each footstep on the lawn, or other places not intended for use as walks, in terms of so much work done in vain, so much property mutilated or destroyed, we surely will use the walks.

If your comrade leaves the walk for a short cut, help him back upon the straight and narrow path.

The child is wiser in its simplicity than the philosopher in his wisdom.

GAVELEERS

The Gaveleers held their regular meeting Wednesday April 12. Mr. Owen, who had charge of the programme, had spared no efforts in selecting good numbers. Mr. Crockett gave a good description of the situation in Mexico. Mr. Crockett being from near the border, knows conditions very well and told many interesting things that are not obtainable thru the papers. Mr. Karlstrom gave a graphic demonstration of underground railway building in New York City. His talk was very interesting and realistic for he spoke from actual experience. Mr. Bagstad gave a talk on the word "efficiency." He discussed it from four viewpoints: that of the what, the how, the why, and the when. To conclude the program, Mr. Braun conducted a geographical contest. It was conducted on the same order as a spelling contest. The object of it however was to pronounce a geographical word beginning with the last letter of the word previously pronounced, and give it in a limited time. Failure to do so caused retirement.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y.W.C.A meeting of April 14, was very much enjoyed by all present because of its unusual nature. Miss Ruth Preston was in charge of the meeting. Miss Ester Larson sang a solo, which made her audience forget their Chemistry equations and Dressmaking difficulties, and put them into a pleasant frame of mind so that they could the more enjoy Miss Preston's reading of "Everybody's Birthday."

A feature meeting has been planned for Thursday, April 20, when Mr. Wem Ping Pan of the University of Minnesota, will speak at the Memorial Theatre. This meeting, which will be held at 4:15, is to be for both Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A.

PERSONALS

Miss Irene Casper spent the week end at her home in Chippewa Falls.

Miss Ethel Tilton spent Saturday, in Eau Claire.

"Why spend Easter Vacation at Menomonie?" Ask Don Mereen.

Miss Elizabeth Wasley has had her sister visiting her this week.

Mr. George Blum and "Babe" Boberg of Eau Caire spent Sunday in Menomonie.

Mr. and Mrs. Teare from Augusta, Wisc. spent Friday with their daughter, Ellen Teare, at Lynwood Hall.

The Annual Play, which is said to be a "hummer", is dated for May 4 and 5. "Go thou and do likewise."

Mrs. Calway of Portland, Oregon, is visiting her daughter Bernice and Mr. Floyd Smith during the last week.

Miss Letta Neilson was called to her home in Mankato, Minn., last Thursday night because of the illness of her brother.

The Stout Bible class of the Methodist church was entertained at an Easter Party, Saturday night at the Waterman home. About forty members of the class were present.

George Jester, '15, teaching at Little Falls, Minnesota, spent part of his vacation here renewing old acquaintances about the school.

A. C. Tews left last Thursday for Richmond, Indiana, where he has accepted a position to teach Manual Training and Algebra. Good luck Art, don't break any more limbs.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y.M.C.A. service was conducted Sunday morning by Mr. Lampert and Mr. Peterson.

Mr. Peterson gave a very interesting talk on "The Making of a Man." He placed special emphasis on the "Service" as rendered by man that entitles him the right to be called "Man."

Next Sunday, Easter, the Y.M.C.A. will hold a special service. The program committee are arranging for some splendid musical numbers. Every young man that expects to get the full enjoyment out of the Easter Day should attend this service. Why not come and let us make the opening event of the day a joyous one? The service is scheduled to begin at 8:45.

"PEP"

Stout sure has the "PEP." Last Friday night there was a benefit show on at the Grand and about half those who have signed up for tennis were there. The courts are now almost done and when asked to come out and do a little on a Sat. A. M., the fellows are all too sleepy. If as many turn out for work as have so far, we may be able to get the courts ready by the time school closes in June.

Shall we let School Spirit die out in our School, or are we going to arouse more spirit? Unless we start something soon there won't be enough "PEP" left in our school to flag a hand car. It is up to the students, to make school life pleasant and get as much as possible out of it. Unless we all dig in and work we will always be in that narrow rut in which some of us are now living.

SUNRISE HIKE

Did we go? Well I guess! Did we see it? You just bet! How we hiked it, how we liked it, never will we quite forget, even though we sure did grumble as to whom the grub should carry, until one considerate person said, "If the rest will take it over, I will vouch upon my honor, I will carry all the wienes, and the buns I can back home." Down the road we started, leaving far behind us the old town and all our worries of Micro Chem and such, for what cared we of to-morrow when to day we had before us, the road and all outside, for only once did we remember, and think of Stout in general, when we found that knives and matches were missing in our kit, for knew if we had captured some rare man, even though much battered, he surely would have had the necessary things.

With much work and bustling, our fire was made and hustling, and eats prepared by those who cared and some who just suggested, our music [We Will Continue "The Hike" Next Week.]

FORMAL DINNERS

The coming of spring brings many things to Stout Students: the opening of the lake and the creek, the Junior Prom, recommendations for positions far and near, formal dinners and what not! Four formal dinners have been given during the last week—two by section one, and two by section five. According to the custom of previous years, one-half of each section served the other half on alternate evenings.

The following menu was served by section one:

Grape fruit	Cocktail
Beef Boullion	Celery Olives
Creamed Tuna Fish	on Rosettes
Roast Lamb	Potato Nests with Peas
Mint Ice	Rolls
Perfection Salad	Sandwiches
Ice Cream	Cake
Coffee	Cheese Wafers
Bon Bons

This menu is typical of the dinners which were served, the girls having the responsibility of all planning, marketing, cooking and serving. The cost of these dinners is about fifty cents a plate.

A Poem of Passion

"My love," she cried in ecstasy,

And sank upon his chest.

"Go 'way," he bawled,

"You're breaking all

The stogies in my vest!"

JUNIOR - SENIOR GAME

The annual Junior-Senior Base Ball Game was staged at the lot last Saturday afternoon. The game ended rather disastrously for not only the Junior boys but for several of the girls as well who lost candy and neck wear on the result. The final score was 15 to 3.

Benjamin and Nordstrom did the twirling for the Seniors with Fieldseth and Werrell behind the bat. Neupert and Peterson occupied the mound for the Juniors with Aijala at the receiving end.

The game, although there was a little friendly rivalry, served its purpose in giving the Coach a lineup on the material at hand.

A team composed of the Faculty will be the opponents of the team this coming Saturday. The Faculty have agreed to allow the students to furnish a battery for them.

See them both. Don't come late for either. Be on time for the first one and you won't miss the second. The ball game in the forenoon, followed closely by the track meet at one o'clock in the afternoon, leaves no time to eat lunch, — unless you carry it. Get the idea? Tell your friends. Bring enough of whatever you wish and have a picnic between the events. Crowd Saturday, Apr. 22, full with a roaring good time. ROOT FOR THE FACULTY AND FOR STOUT.

BASE BALL

The baseball team is rapidly rounding into a machine in preparation for the game with St. Thomas in St. Paul on Saturday of this week.

Three practice games have been played and although the Stout Team was not victorious in each case, it gave a good account of itself.

The first of these three was a game with the Micheels of this city, an aggregation that has played together for several years. Score: 1 - 1.

On Saturday of last week the Student-Faculty game was to have been played. (Emphasis on the was.) Whether cold weather or thru their fear of being beaten, kept the Faculty from turning out, we do not know, but suffice it to say only five turned out and they didn't stay long. The Students supplied the missing men as well as the batteries for both sides and "entire-student team" won from the "Student-Faculty."

On Tuesday night of this week, Stout again played the Micheels' team, and again the score was a tie. This time 0-0.

Mr. Blum has been elected Captain and this should mean lots of "pepper" around the infield, as well as some "inside base ball."

DEMONSTRATION

A very excellent demonstration was given by Miss Elsie Middleton, in assembly last week. She discussed briefly the history of cooking by the retention of heat and told how primitive ways had developed into the modern fireless cooker. She showed by means of a chart, the construction of a fireless cooker, several varieties of cookers, from the simple home-made one to the more elaborate, three compartment caloric. The chart shown, indicating the economy of a fireless cooker, was most interesting and instructive.

TRACK MEET

The Junior-Senior track-meet was run off as scheduled on Saturday in spite of the most unfavorable weather.

The Juniors completely outclassed their competitors. The Seniors were represented by only a few men.

The first year men had eleven point winners, while the seniors had two. Timbers and Lampert, Juniors, tied for individual honors with 20 points each. Becker, a Senior, was third with 15 points. Timbers took four first places.

HAVE YOU A VISION OF YOUR "JOB?"

Expressed in terms of a more appropriate word, this question will read, "Have you a vision of your position?" — Think.

At present, when positions for the coming year are being filled, can you think of yourself as having assumed a different attitude? Changed from the attitude of a student to that of an instructor?

What do you expect to see next year, when you are called upon to take charge of the work in your particular department? Will it be a new building, containing laboratory, kitchen, or workshop, where conditions are ideal, and everything will seem to promote the doing of excellent work? Or will conditions be the reverse? Your department apparently unnoticed, equipment of the poorest kind, and conditions anything but favorable?

Will success or failure in your line depend upon such conditions? You may think that it will, and in a large measure this is true, but how shall we account for the fact that success has been made in the past, by individuals who have worked under conditions which are in many instances poorer than those last named?

Need we say more? — Think.

Y. W. C. A.

On April 20, the members of the Y. W. C. A., and Y. M. C. A., enjoyed a very good program at the Memorial Theater. Miss Fern Osbeck was in charge of the meeting, and after a pleasing solo by Miss Eunice Shaw, Miss Osbeck introduced Mr. Wen Ping Pan, of the University of Minnesota. Mr. Pan, besides interesting us as a speaker, proved to be doubly interesting when we learned that he was champion of the Olympic Games, held in Shanghai three years ago, and that his mother is at present, vice-president of one of the Young Women's Christian Associations in China.

Mr. Pan spoke on Missionary work in China, telling us what is being done; what conditions are being met; and what help is needed. "Since all student life in China hinges on the educational advantages provided by the missionaries, I can not talk of one without touching on the other," Mr. Pan said. In closing, he stated that he would rather see China uneducated, than educated along the western idea, without the Christian religion.

At the end of the program, Mr. Good and Mr. Pickford sang two duets, which were especially enjoyed by the audience.

Don't forget that very definite plans are being made for the County Fair, which is to take place May 6 in the main building. Altho the features are being kept secret, we know that some very original "stunts" are being planned.

SUNRISE HIKE

tard jar was opened by one who had the notion that fence posts were in service long before knives had cut teeth. With one hard knock she did it, off came the stubborn cover; but also all the mustard which landed on the post. This might sound sad and touching, but not to those who were there, for it eliminated spreading, which always was a bore. Whenever we wanted mustard, the serving was so simple, just wipe the afflicted fencepost with the inside of a bun.

It is all past and over, as are hikes that happened; let all agree, of all the deeds, there never was such fun as when we ate the "Too Much Mustard Buns."

CONFERENCE

The Continuation and Industrial School Teachers of Chippewa Falls Eau Claire, La Crosse and Menomonie, will meet in sectional conference on Saturday, April 29.

The students are urged to attend this conference in connection with the morning program. Don't miss it.

HOME ECONOMICS EXHIBIT

On Saturday, April 29, a good chance will be given the fellows, and others as well, to see what the work of the young ladies has been during the year.

This exhibit, which will take the place of the annual display that is given in June, will include the work of dressmaking, millinery, plain and advanced sewing, and a special exhibit of illustrative material for educational purposes.

The rooms on the second floor of the Manual Training Building, where this exhibit will be found, will be open to visitors on Sat. afternoon.

After the close of the Round Table Program, the display of millinery and dressmaking will be presented on living models at the Memorial.

PERSONALS

Miss Loretta Engler spent Saturday with her brother in the cities.

Miss Gertrude Fieweger spent Sunday in Eau Claire.

Miss Irene Casper went to Chippewa Falls over the week end.

Miss Helen Tompkins left Sat. to meet her mother in Minneapolis.

Mr. Earnest Tieberg, from the University of Minnesota, spent the week end in Menomonie.

Miss Katherine Dey and Miss Virginia Marsh were in Hudson Saturday.

Mrs. Koopman from St. Paul spent Friday and Saturday with her daughter, Harriet, at the "Annex."

Miss Edna Boberg spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in Eau Claire.

Miss Edna Goodrich and Miss Hazel Tuffley were the guests of Miss Joyce Kelley and Miss Helen Greenwood, in Chippewa Falls last week end.

Mr. Rodgers attended the meeting of the Superintendents of the State of Wisconsin, which was held at Milwaukee last week.

Mr. Buxton returned Monday from a week's stay at Springfield, Mass., where he attended the annual meeting of the Eastern Arts Association.

Mr. Eslinger attended the meeting of the Minnesota Education Association at Minneapolis, last Saturday, and gave a talk on "Printing as an Industrial Subject," which he illustrated with charts.

The Silver loving cups to be awarded to schools winning the dual meets are now on display. The trophy for the La Crosse meet may be seen in the show window of Jungck's Hdwe. Store and the River Falls cup is being displayed at Madsen's Jewelry Store. The latter trophy must be won three times before it becomes the permanent possession of a school.

Practice will be held at the Fair grounds every afternoon in preparation for the River Falls Meet, which will be conducted here in two weeks. Everyone who is a candidate for the team will be finally judged by what he can do at the time of the meet, not by his reputation in any other school. New men, get out!

ANNUAL PLAY

A big laugh! A scream!

Those two expressions characterize to a "tee," the Annual Play of this year. It is called "The Sophomore," and is a ripping college comedy. The play has to deal not only with the serious side of college life, but the humorous as well.

The Annual Board promises bigger laughs and a more humorous production than where the play has been given before, by the introduction of something absolutely original. They have also laid in a supply of sleep producer to be injected into the person who fails to have "big laughs and lots of them."

The play is to be shown at the Memorial for two nights, May 4 and 5. Tickets will be on sale the latter part of the week. These are general admission tickets and can be exchanged for reserved seats at Ingraham Bros., beginning at 7:30 a.m., Wednesday, May 3.

THE 1916 ANNUAL

The purpose of an Annual as expressed by President Harvey, and as seen by the 1916 Annual Board, is largely that of a souvenir. This fact has at all times been kept in mind during the preparation of the Stout year book which is now on the press. You will find it a volume good to look at, good to handle, full of life, and full of interest; one which you will be proud to possess, and to show your friends.

On the front cover of the 1916 Stout Annual, which will be bound in gray suede leather, will be found an interesting design ironed down and stamped in gold. Various tones of gray, which are in excellent harmony, will be used throughout the book. An extra run in gray ink will be given the entire book, which will appear in borders and background.

The lining and fly leaves will be of Silver Gray, Sunburst cover paper. An original design by the Art Editor will be printed in three colors on Duchess Gray Cover paper for the inserts. The art work of the entire book is of very high class. A member of the faculty was recently informed by the Bureau of Engraving of Minneapolis that the drawings for our annual are equal to any that they have received for the one hundred and sixty annuals for which they are making cuts.

SECTIONAL CONFERENCE FOR INDUSTRIAL AND CONTINUATION TEACHERS

MORNING SESSION

The morning session of the conference was quite well attended, there being present about thirty instructors from Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, La Crosse, and Menomonie, and a number of Stout students from both departments.

The meeting was called to order by J. O. Steendahl, chairman of the program committee.

After a short address of welcome by Mr. Kabot, Secretary of the Menomonie Industrial School Board, Miss Werstad, of the Eau Claire Continuation School, gave a very interesting discussion on the various problems encountered in the teaching of English to foreigners. She related how, by the combined teaching of reading, writing, spelling and grammar, she realized her purpose.

Following this talk, Miss Halseth, of the Menomonie Continuation School, read a paper on the same subject, making a plea for the education of the foreigner in the language of the land. Among many other points she emphasized the fact that we are neglecting an important duty when we allow the immigrant foreigner to remain ignorant of the English language.

A general discussion followed these two talks, after which Mr. Rodgers spoke on "Vocational Classes in the Menomonie Public Schools." He outlined the method of carrying on the work, the scope of the course, and some of the results that have been realized.

The general discussion at the close of Mr. Rodgers' talk was followed by Mr. Curtis, of the Chippewa Falls Continuation School, who read a paper on some of the difficulties encountered in the teaching of evening school commercial work, and the methods used in overcoming these difficulties.

Following the general discussion on the paper by Mr. Curtis, Mr. Sutherland, Director of the Continuation School

WHY ATTEND CONVENTIONS AND CONFERENCES?

Is it because your friend or your fellow teacher does so? Do you feel the need of being present and can you realize a gain by having taken opportunity to meet and discuss educational issues and problems of our school systems of today?

You may think that all conferences and conventions are carried out along the same cut-and-dried style, and when you have attended one or possibly two, that the time spent at such a gathering might be more profitably employed otherwise.

Why don't prominent educators, influential men, men and women of foresight, of development, and of improvement, realize this and discontinue the work? Do you think that thousands and thousands of dollars, concentrated effort, time and energy are being expended annually, without a definite purpose in view?

The benefits to be derived by attending conventions are so numerous and so evident that anyone should know them, and knowing, not consider them as unimportant. Here old acquaintances are again met, new ones are made, and best of all, each one is given the opportunity to profit by the experience of the other, and by the use of good, sound judgement, to glean out the best methods, all of which enable one to meet and overcome problems with which he will sooner or later be confronted.

Miss Ruth Maclin had charge of the Y. W. C. A. meeting Thursday April 27, and led the discussion, on Personal or Student Honor, which was the main feature of the meeting. Miss Maclin discussed the subject under three separate heads: what has lowered our standards; what has caused these circumstances under which they were lowered; and what we want to do to raise our standards. The meeting was then left open, and there were many interesting discussions on the subject. You will learn more about it.

COUNTY FAIR

Can you imagine Vaudevillians, Circus Clowns, a menagerie, minstrelites, Hades, and many other novel features, assembled under one roof? If you can't, come to the County Fair and see for yourself. Have you seen the tags, the posters, the signs? And to think that the day is almost here — May 6. Oh! its going to be a 'regular' County Fair, and every one is invited.

The Y.M.C.A. was twice blessed last Sunday morning: first with music and second with a splendid talk by Mr. Dickert on Efficiency. One could tell by the hand-shake that the hour was well spent.

During the business meeting the following officers were elected:

President - Mr. E. H. Hintz

Vice President - Mr. H. Dickert

Sec.-Treas. Mr. F. J. Rehor

Extra effort will be made by the new officers to keep up the well-defined spirit.

I spare no one, and find my victims among the rich and poor alike; the young and the old; the strong and the weak; widows and orphans know me.

PERSONALS

Miss Helen Greenwood who has been ill for the past week has had her father from Chippewa Falls visiting her.

Miss Minda Hogseth, a former graduate of The Stout Institute spent Saturday in Menomonie.

Miss Florence Rockwell and Miss Eleanor Johnson were accidentally struck by a car while crossing Main street. The accident occurred Monday evening about seven o'clock. Both young ladies have been able to return to school.

Mr. Lois Herzog and Percy Pad-dock, from Waukesha, Wisconsin, spent Saturday and Sunday in Menomonie, as the guests of the Misses Loretta Engler and Evelyn Koch.

Miss Ethel Tilton spent Sunday at her home in Chippewa Falls.

Because of the rain Saturday it was impossible for the Stout Baseball Team to play in the "Cities," as scheduled.

The tennis courts, which belong to the Stout Tennis Club, have been completed and have been used a great deal during the past few days.

SECTIONAL CONFERENCE

at La Crosse, read a paper on "The Inconsistencies of the Present Day School Law." He related how the school laws had to be changed from time to time, in order to meet the needs and demands of the school. The necessity of these changes was brought about by the fact that the attitude of the schools, by those attending, has undergone decided changes.

Dr. L. D. Harvey concluded the morning program by a few interesting remarks on "The Trend and Future of the Continuation School." He stated that it is necessary to make a more careful study of the particular needs of the people with whom the continuation school has to deal, and then to meet their needs and demands. It was his opinion that the future all-day continuation school should form a part of the regular public school and that the part time, apprentice and evening continuation schools should remain under the present scheme.

The assembly then adjourned to Room 22 of the Manual Training Building. where luncheon was served.

About eighty-five persons sat down to the luncheon and enjoyed nearly an hour of conversation and the good things to eat. The luncheon was served as a thesis problem under the supervision of Miss Johnson. The young ladies who planned the details of the luncheon were: Imogene Pierce, Charlotte Grover, Dorothy Barrett, Lillie Olsen, Eva Olsen, Clara Pilling, and Georgia Amos.

Mr. Warren E. Hicks as chairman of the Round Table spoke of the Continuation School teacher and how much of value these types of conferences were to the teachers. He expressed regret, however, that of 600 teachers in the state a large part who needed the benefit of the conferences did not receive it because they have failed to attend all of the meetings. If the various programs are of worth-while value, it will be only fair to command the attendance of the teachers at the conferences. Mr. Hicks ventured the suggestion that the State aid might go in the future to those cities whose teachers were careful to have a perfect record of attendance at the conferences, and to other cities in proportion to the attendance of their teachers.

Mr. Geo. F. Buxton in speaking of the Continuation School Teacher, emphasized the teacher's opportunities for service. The public school boy needs help, but the continuation school pupils need much more help, and the opportunities of the teacher to be of real service are increased in the same measure. The teacher was urged to get a grasp on the pupil and make him feel the full value of the work presented by the teacher.

The question, "What are the personal needs of the individual pupils?" should be constantly before the teacher. And lastly, Mr. Buxton urged each teacher to get a perspective — to see the work from all the angles.

Miss Hattie Mordell, director at Chippewa Falls, gave a very stirring talk on "Girls' Clubs" and the work of girls' classes. She emphasized the desire and need of our youths for fellowship, social and home life. She told of the problems in Chippewa Falls and the methods of meeting them. A modern house near the school was secured and fitted up for the girls' home, including rest rooms, cooking and sewing rooms. The girls meet here for regular work as well as after hours and Sundays. The equipment and materials were donated. The home is self-supporting. The girls pay 25 cents dues and carry on a series of sales, lunches, and athletic activities from which they derive revenue for operating expenses.

The Girls' Club is well organized and officers govern and manage the institution, consisting of over 200 girls.

Mr. Hicks then called upon Miss Kate Scritsmier, who told about her work with the boys of Menomonie in her talk on "Boys' Clubs." Miss Scritsmier showed the need of directing the activities of the boys along proper lines. The boy needs some ideal and needs guidance at all times. In order to successfully organize and continue a club; the leader must have a keen interest in and stay with the organization. Many clubs fail because of the leader losing interest.

Miss Scritsmier stated that the boy must be kept busy and interested in something. She named a number of means as, musical and literary activities, games and educational features valuable in keeping the boys together and affording recreation and education.

Mr. M. Towner, director at Eau Claire, spoke for a few minutes on "The Industrial Boy," classifying him as the all day industrial boy and evening school boy. He stated that the all day boy is a serious problem. Many boys have bad habits and care very little for school work. Some are so affected with the tobacco and truant habit that he recommended that this type be referred to the proper officers. He stated that the industrial school teacher should study the individual boy and attempt to meet his needs.

An interesting speaker not listed on the program was found in Mr. G. L. Bowman of the Dunn County Normal. Mr. Bowman complained to us that he was only a by-stander but he showed all present that he was a deep thinker. Mr. Bowman spoke to the effect that he felt the by-product (the continuation school boy and girl) was more and more coming to the fore and the school of formal nature was becoming of less importance. He prophesied the time when we would have professors of boys and girls instead of professors of subjects.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF STUDENT'S WORK

H. E. DEPT. HAS DRESS PARADE

Contrary to the usual custom of having the annual exhibit of work of The Home Economics Department just previous to commencement, this exhibit was given on Saturday April twenty-ninth. Thesis work of various kinds was displayed as well as work of the Art Needlework and Sewing classes.

An unusual and very attractive feature at the exhibit was the Style Show which was given at The Memorial at 4 P.M. Here we were taken to the shop of Paul Paree where about sixty gowns and a number of hats were displayed for his approval and the delight of the audience. The stage was effectively arranged and the living models were admitted by French maids, who assisted in displaying the gowns. These models, who were wearing dresses they themselves had made, came slowly upon the stage and passed down thru the audience.

A most charming introduction was given by Miss Gladys Goodnough who explained that these dresses were the result not only of drafting a pattern and sewing up seams, but also of careful study of the lines and coloring of the girl who was to wear them. The dresses shown were most pleasing in color and line and the whole affair reflects great credit upon Miss Irwin.

ANNUAL PLAY

"Who in the world are the girls taking part in the Play? Such funny names! I know there are no such people in school. Who is the girl that just entered? I never saw her before."

These are characteristic of the remarks heard at The Memorial last Thursday night when the Stout Annual play was on for its first night.

Those who were there expressed surprise and bewilderment at the names following those of the girl characters and with good cause, too. The fact that the girl characters were featured by the boys added much to the merriment. Some few figured out that the names of the boys were jumbled up and made pronounceable before the curtain rose.

Joseph Blum as Hope Alden certainly did justice to that part; Stanley Appleton as "Aunt Mary" Scott; Marvin Thompson as "Cousin Mathilda" Dwiggins; and Dewey Doyle as Violet, Alden's servant, played their parts exceedingly well. Walter Larson as Prof. Alden brought forth many rounds of laughter as did James Dockar as "Buster Brown."

The rapidity with which the play was run off and the finished qualities shown by those taking part, speak well of Miss Philipps' ability as a coach.

Although the house was not full either night, the play was a success, both from a financial standpoint as well as its quality as a good show.

GAVELEERS AT ASSEMBLY

Wednesday, May 3, an unusually interesting program was given at Assembly. The first part was a Practical Thesis given by Miss Islay McKenzie. She demonstrated in a very unique way the difference between correct and incorrect table etiquette. Miss McKenzie's demonstration was thoroughly enjoyed by all of the students. The second part of the Assembly was turned over to the Gaveleers. Mr. Holm had charge of the program. The program consisted of the following numbers:

An oration, "The Predatory Rich," by Mr. Steinke, was the first number. His ability as an orator was very evident before he had finished his introduction. Not a word was lost upon our ears.

We wished that we could have followed Bagstad and Rehor behind the scenes and watched the prize fight promoter train the under-fed Dutchman.

COTTAGE FOR MISS DAVIS

Saturday found a bunch of former high school graduates of Menomonie on a hill just a little to the right of the east end of Wilson avenue, ready to build a "one-day house" or cottage for Miss Davis, a former graduate of the Menomonie High School, who has been stricken with tuberculosis of the lungs.

Mr. Steendahl and Mr. Olson are two of the Menomonie men who had charge of the work. The fellows are: Barnett, Bass, Anderson, Larson, Timbers, Thompson, Valaske, and Doyle. The work was done as a special problem of the carpentry class.

Monday morning the work was resumed and the fellows never left their work for "eats." This was furnished whenever needed by Mrs. and Mr. Steendahl.

The cottage is a one story affair, with a band of screening about four feet wide extending around it at a distance of about three feet from the floor, thus making it an "out-of-door" cottage.

Miss Davis, who at present is at the hospital in Eau Claire, will return at the close of school to take possession of her home, where she will receive the best of care.

We all join in wishing her a speedy and permanent recovery.

Y. W. C. A.

What a pleasant change from the stuffy club rooms at the Memorial to Riverside Park, for it was on the banks of Red Cedar River, that the Y. W. C. A. held its meeting May 4th. A feature which made the meeting especially pleasant was Miss Schrotke's reading of "God of the Out of Doors." Miss Florence Hull read some resolutions regarding student honor discussed at the last meeting, which were unanimously adopted. Bertena Pease, secretary, read a letter from National Headquarters, reporting the work of the Jubilee Month in February.

To express our gratitude to Miss Schrotke for the number of things she has done for our association, the members of the Y. W. C. A. voted her an honorary member of the student association.

LIGHTING OF SHOPS

Last Tuesday, Mr. Price, of the Industrial Commission for the State of Wisconsin, lectured on the "Proper Lighting of Shops and Factories." Mr. Price is the Inspector for this district, and investigates the conditions of sanitation and safety devices of shops and factories.

A brief summary of his lecture which was illustrated by various kinds and types of lamps and reflectors, is given below.

Ten per cent. of the 91,000 industrial accidents which were investigated at one time alone were due directly to improper lighting. Thirteen and eight-tenths per cent. were due indirectly to improper lighting. Thus nearly 24 per cent. of the industrial accidents were caused by this one item alone.

Proper lighting of shops leads toward efficiency, resulting in an increase in output of from 2 to 10 per cent. at a cost of 1-tenth of 1 per cent. to one-half of 1 per cent. of the wages of a working man. Many more accidents occur to pedestrians, on the street and elsewhere, in the winter when the hours of actual daylight are short.

In ordinary departments, one-fourth of a candle power of light per square floor foot is adequate for all work that is not of the extremely accurate kind. Foundries, where smoke and gases are prevalent, require one half-candle power per square floor foot. Warehouses require one-eighth of a candle power per square floor foot.

The Commission recommends but one type of lamp, the tungsten which when used with a reflector gives a light that can readily be adapted to supply sufficient light for all kinds of work. The new gas-filled tungsten gives a light far superior to the old kind, at no greater expense.

A simple rule to follow in figuring the cost of a light is given below:

Let the cost of the lamp be $.85. For the cost of wire, knobs, fixtures, etc., take 125 per cent. of the cost of the lamp. Result - $1.06. For the labor of installing, figure 45 per cent. of the sum of the two, or $2.77, including lamp, fixtures, and labor. Then add the cost of the reflector, $1.95. Result $4.42. It is safe to figure that $5.00 will be sure to cover every expense in putting in one light.

After a very detailed discussion and explanation of the best kinds of lamps suited to a particular kind of shop and work, Mr. Price concluded by saying that the problem of lighting can be very materially simplified by painting the interior walls and ceiling some light color. Such painting has increased the light in some particular shops as much as 25 per cent.

The lecture was very much appreciated by the number of city business men and M.T. students who were present. Many more could have spent the hour more profitably by attending.

PERSONALS

Miss Edna Boberg spent the week end at her home in Eau Claire.

Miss Elsie Hatch had her mother and sister, from Eau Claire, visiting her over the week end.

Miss Gladys Goodnough went to her home in Anoka, Minnesota, last Friday night.

Miss Mercedes Swift, from St. Paul, spent the week end in Menomonie, at Bertha Tainter Annex, as the guest of Miss Esther Denninger.

The Misses Eveyln Koch, Catherine Dey, Constance Ware, Loretta Engler and Virginia Marsh spent Saturday, shopping in Eau Claire.

Mr. Erdlitz was fortunate to have the company of an outside lady for the Prom, but evidently the young man was somewhat excited as he was pinched for "speeding" homeward on his bicycle.

BASE BALL

The third time's the charm. This was conclusively proven at the lot last Thursday night when the Stout team took the Micheels to a trimming to the score of 5 to 0. Twice before these teams have battled to ties and the third and deciding game was a thriller.

Neither side was able to do anything with the opposing boxman until the third inning, when the Stout team tallied four runs, and incidentally won the game. A quartet of hits intermingled with a couple of walks was the combination that proved the undoing of the city team. Just to prove that the four tallies was not an accident, the Manual Trainers added another in the fifth.

Benjamin and Nordstrom occupied the box for Stout and demonstrated that they had the right to be there. Both men pitched good ball as was evidenced by the scarcity of hits registered by their opponents.

Stout is putting in some good licks this week in preparation for a game with the River Falls Normal team at the Fair Grounds on Saturday. The team is about rounded into shape and is even now able to give any opponent a hard run for their money. The game is called for 10:00 A.M. Both a large crowd and good weather are expected at the Fair Grounds when the Umpire yells, "Play ball." We'll expect to see you there to help the boys win their second game of the season.

GAVELEERS AT ASSEMBLY

There is a rumor that he has "cleaned" his trainer, and wants the young ladies to feed him up to Kellerman's size.

"That Nelson sure is a song bird." "Can't that boy sing?" Such and similar expressions characterized the manner in which the vocal soloist took with us. That he can sing is not the question. An unanswerable one is, "How can we enjoy his vocal solos oftener?"

Mr. Dockar gave us a brief talk concerning his bagpipes, and explained how the "noise" is made. He then proceeded to make some "noise" which we all enjoyed.

The question, "Who's best? Ehrhard or Steinke?" will not be answered. Don't commit yourself, but we will leave it to someone else to decide who is the better of the two.

Hugo Lutgens' sermon, "The Daughter of Lena and Pete," as rendered by Mr. Minne, was humorous, but in spite of the humor sprinkled thru it, contained a well directed hint or two. Judging by the action of the "congregation," the minister must have thought us to be contortionists.

The committee, which consisted of Mr. C. E. Eslinger, as chairman, assisted by Holm and Minne, may well feel that their efforts have been successful.

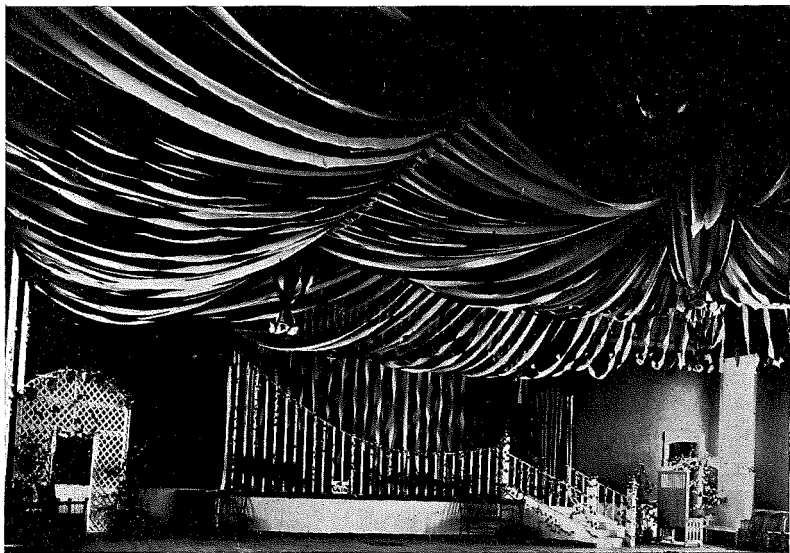

We enjoyed the program very much and hope that the Gaveleers will take charge again.

UNIQUE DECORATION AT JUNIOR PROM.

JUNIOR PROMENADE

Friday, May 12, 1916, the Junior Class of Stout Institute placed themselves upon the map by giving to the Seniors one of the most unique receptions, in the shape of a Junior Prom, that has ever been experienced in the history of the Institute.

The reception was held at Smith's Hall, which being out of the ordinary, gave character and individuality to the occasion.

All that were present report a very pleasant time—one that ne'er will be forgotten.

For the benefit of those who did not have the pleasure of attending this reception, I extend an invitation to come with me.

First we will turn back the pages of history, to a page marked May 12, 1916. How lovely! No trouble at all in finding it! Now come with me.

WHAT IS YOUR RANK?

The question, whether or not to mention or discuss this matter any further, will be left unanswered. It may benefit some to think and consider the matter more seriously and in a different light than it has been looked upon before.

Some, a few perhaps, of you men were satisfied with your classification. A few were surprised, either one way or the other. Many more were disappointed. Be that as it may. The vital fact is that your rank has been given you and there is but one possible way of changing it for the better, if that be your intention.

Details are not necessary here and now. You know upon what basis your rank has been determined. It may be incorrect according to your individual estimate of yourself. We still have two weeks. Much can be done in that time. It is up to you.

The ranks given you, as Seniors, are but an example of what will continually happen to you in life. You cannot live to, for, and by yourself, and alone. To do so you must become a hermit. You expect to and will associate with others. Your life will influence that of others. The lives of others will influence your own. Your associates and friends will form their own opinions regarding you, and vice versa. Their opinions may not coincide with yours, but it is up to each one of you to see that the opinions your associates form of you are worthy and honorable ones.

Y. W. C. A.

The Stout Y. W. C. A. enjoyed another out-door meeting May 11, followed by a picnic supper. The meeting was in charge of Miss Florence Rockwell, Chairman of the Bible Study Committee. Reports of the various six weeks Bible Study Classes were read; Miss Edna Auning read the report of the meetings held at Lynwood Annex, Virginia Seaman gave the report from the Baptist Church, and Amy Susander read the report from Tainter Hall.

GAVELEERS

Wednesday May, 10th. saw the close of the regular sessions for the year 1915-16, with the exception of a "grand finale," which will take place Thursday afternoon and evening, at Picnic Point.

The only business conducted last Wednesday was the election of officers, which resulted as follows:-

President.....Paul Ehrhard.

Vice-President....C. B. MacLean.

Secretary-Treasurer.....

Wm. H. Lampert.

With three such "live wires" at the head of the society, it ought to become one of the chief attractions, for the fellows, in connection with the regular work, during the coming year.

A man who is continually harping on his virtue has at least one vice.

Out into the starry night we go. While walking down Broadway, as if by magic, we are elated by sweet strains of music. With the notes playing upon our ears, we advance in their direction, and are led thru a long hallway. Because of the beautiful decorations we know that we are on the right path and hurriedly ascend a stairway. On the second landing we are greeted by the reception committee, and are given the program of the evening.

As we peer thru the arched opening, we are entranced by the splendor of it all.

We are just in time for the Grand March, led by the Honorable Mr. Lamb, President of the Junior Class. It surely is an inspiring sight to see the continuous line of march winding its way about the floor.

The decorations are of the most artistic taste. The walls and all accessories are displayed in varying tones of grey-white and ivory-white, the real color being supplied by the flowers and ferns.

To give detail and "chic," the orchestra is placed upon the stage (which is built in white lattice screen) and the music comes filtering thru the white lattice work.

The booths in each corner are a happy amusing little scheme, profuse in beauty, and the glass punch-bowls filled with the refreshing drink, causing iridescent reflections in the light. Mixed with a sublime blending of cool and warm tones, the effect is one of enchantment.

I beg your pardon, it is already 1 A.M. and the program is drawing to a close. We regret but one thing and that is that we are now obliged to leave.

BASE BALL

Playing to a Stout crowd which was conspicuous by its absence, Stout lost a ten inning contest to the River Falls team by a 6 to 4 score, at the Fair Grounds last Saturday. The day was cold but this did not prevent a fast snappy game.

Aside from the first and tenth innings Stout had everything her own way. In those innings River Falls scored six runs, three being scored in each inning. Benjamin was bowling along in great style scoring fifteen strikeouts during the game.

River Falls' runs in the first inning came as the result of a hit batter and the only hits River Falls made during the game, a sum total of 3. Stout's 4 runs came thru clean hitting. Stout gathered in 5 hits.

The tenth inning was very disastrous for Stout: the first three men up were walked, and an over throw allowed two runs to trickle in.

On Friday of this week Stout again plays the Normalites in the enemies country and all of the fellows swear revenge; on Saturday the Stout team journeys to St. Paul and plays St Thomas, the strongest minor college team in Minnesota. This will be a severe test of the team's ability.

TRACK MEET

The first track meet ever held at Stout will be recorded in the annals of our school history as a decisive victory for the Institute team over the River Falls team by a score of 85-41.

A strong wind, together with an abundance of rain, rendered fast time impossible on the track. Nevertheless the meet was at all times interesting, and was often exciting. The few loyal rooters who braved the unfavorable elements were convinced that Stout has a well balanced scoring machine.

River Falls took first place in only one event and forfeited the mile relay race. Stout scored "slams" in the high jump and in the hammer throw. Timbers, with 16½ points, starred on the track for the Blue and White, and was second in individual points. Becker was third with 13 points. Fessenbecker was River Fall's chief point winner with 8 points.

Stout was awarded a beautiful silver loving cup for winning the meet. This trophy must be won three times before it becomes the permanent possession of the contestants. Silk ribbons were awarded to the point winners. Lampert received a fountain pen, a donation from one of the business men, for winning individual honors.

The following were Stout point winners in order of number: Lampert, Timbers, Becker, Sprague, Ehrhard, Watson, Harris, Larson, Langer, T. Thompson, Mc Lean, Lamb and Neupert.

On Saturday a dual track and field meet will be held with La Crosse at the Fairgrounds. Everyone is urged to attend this final athletic event of the season. The athletic association needs your financial assistance, and the exhibition will be even more interesting than the one of last week. You have done your share to institute track work and the team has proved itself worthy of support—how about support?

Y. M. C. A.

Last Sunday morning the members of the Y.M.C.A. were favored with an excellent talk on "Ideals" by Mr. Cox. His thoughts were deep and well founded and showed careful preparation.

Mr. Hintz, the newly elected president, had charge of the meeting, and showed ability which marks him as an able leader for the coming year.

NEW CLOCK SYSTEM

Mr. W. Proper, the special erector for the Standard Electric Company, with the aid of two men from our engineering department, is at present putting in a new clock system in the Stout Buildings. This new clock system is to be run by a master clock, operated by a set of strong storage batteries. The master clock will control a program system for the passing of classes thruout the entire buildings and the tower clock.

There are to be 39 secondary clocks: two in the Trades Building; one in the Gymnasium; four in the Manual Training Building and the remainder to be distributed thruout the new building. It is of special interest to note that one of the four clocks for the Manual Training Building is to be placed in room 17, where the print shop may be moved this summer.

The main gongs are to be placed in the corridors of the various buildings. Ten program gongs are to be placed in the Household Arts Building; four in the Manual Training Building; one in the boiler room; three in the gymnasium and four in the Trades Building.

The job will take three weeks to complete at a cost of $1500.00 for instruments, materials and labor; but when completed will offer better services and a more accurate regulation of classes than has ever before existed at Stout.

PERSONALS

Miss Lydia Terrant entertained fourteen young ladies from Stout, Saturday at her home in Durand.

Mr. Sophus Larson from Willman, Minn. spent the week end with his sister Miss Esther Larson.

Mr. Rogge and Mr. Hardy, from the University of Wisconsin, were in Menomonie for the Prom.

Messrs. Donnelly, Neilson and Kessler from the University of Minn. were in Menomonie for the week end.

The Misses Greenwood, Tuffley, and Kelley spent Sat. and Sun. in Chippewa Falls.

Miss Ethel Feldkirchner spent Mon. in Winnetka, making a personal application for a position.

Mr. Freeland from Fulda, Minn. spent the week end with his sister, Grace Freeland.

J. E. Ray has returned from Milwaukee after a five day sojourn there. He was made a thirty-second degree Mason.

About twenty-five young men from Eau Claire attended the Senior Prom Friday night; among them were Messrs Murphy, McNabb, Stilp, Boberg, Blum, and Lang.

Mr. Rodgers will attend the Continuation School Conference at Milwaukee on Saturday. He will visit the Milwaukee School of Trades and the Continuation School on Friday.

ANNUAL BLOWOUT OF THE GAVELEERS

FINAL WINDUP AT PICNIC POINT

In spite of the wind and threatening clouds, about a score of Gaveleers "braved it," and went to Picnic Point for their annual "blowout," which had been previously arranged.

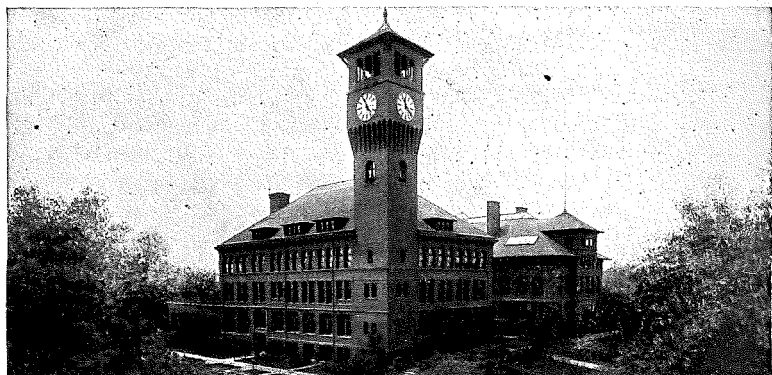

From five to six a spirited ball game was played, also during that hour the coffee was being made. At six o'clock supper was announced. It was some sumptuous supper too, consisting of six courses. The first was "fried on the coals" weiners and "split" biscuits, with "right good" coffee. The second was the same. The third consisted of more weiners and coffee. The fourth and fifth consisted of coffee and doughnuts, and the sixth a box of marshmallows "for the score of us," toasted on the coals.

The hour of 7:15 saw the "break of camp." The evening will be long remembered, first, because of the enjoyable time, and second, because of the difficulty of navigation.

LACROSSE WINS MEET

STOUT TEAM SHOWS STRENGTH

In the fastest and most exciting track and field meet ever held in Menomonie. Stout was defeated 56 — 70 by the strong LaCrosse Normal team. Ryan, of La Crosse starred the meet with 21½ points. Incidentally, this man is a state record holder in three events which he won. Timbers and Lampert, of Stout were second and third, respectively, in individual honors. The former is undoubtedly the fastest distance runner in any normal school in the state. Taylor and Grousnick of LaCrosse were strong men in the weight events. Harris, Ehrhard, Larson, Becker, Neupert, Watson and Gamble were other men who counted for Stout. La Crosse won the relay.

In this first season in track work Stout has manifested her ability to put out a track team that ranks with the best Normal School teams in the state. With nearly every man returning next year the prospects for the best team in the state are most encouraging, if not most certain.

GYMNASTIC THESIS

On Thursday afternoon, May 25, a Gymnastic Thesis was given in the Gym. This was the first work of its kind given as a thesis.

The work was planned and given by L. Becker, V. Sipple and W. Wicherski, who were assisted by five Juniors, Cripe, Thompson, Mac Lean, Gamble and Lamb.

The thesis consisted of calisthenic work composed of exercises with the dumb bells, swinging of the Indian clubs and exercises with the wands. The different pieces of apparatus were the horse, the horizontal bar and the parallel bars. Each of the members who gave the thesis, had charge of the exercises on one piece of apparatus, and a set of calisthenic exercises.

In addition to this work a boxing match was given by Mr. Farnsworth and Mr. Ray. Those interested in this kind of sport enjoyed it, for the men were evenly matched.

Some of the men trained in diving, made a few dives over

THE 1916 ANNUAL

We are proud this day; proud of our 1916 Annual, proud of the men and women who have worked it up, proud of the artists who reproduced the copy so perfectly, proud of the student body, who made the annual possible. In a word, we are proud of the book.

Before going further, let us stop and congratulate the members of the Annual Board, whose diligent and systematic efforts have been so fruitful. We are surprised that Editor Stanton has as many hairs as are still remaining, for the Annual grew in the night. And Mr. Steinke, let us shake your hand and say, "Well done."

As you pick up the little gray book, how comfortable it feels in the hand. And as you turn the pages what a world of care, thought and labor has been converted into restfulness.

There are many features of the 1916 Annual which make it distinctly our book. Never before have we had the double run; the gray background of forge and chafing dish. Never before have we had a Campus Section. Never have we had a Minneapolis Bureau of Engraving nor an Augsburg Publishing Company nor a Holm, a Van Stratum, a Weimer, a McIntosh, a Hamilton, nor a Saxhaug.

Congratulations, all of you Annual Board members, lack of space will not permit individual mention. You have given us a mighty pleasing book and left us out of debt.

How long this Annual Board will last we are not sure, as the humorous section has aroused the ire of most of us -- they tried to get us all. Cheer up, read the first page of the section.

Let us then as a student body, express our thanks thru these columns; thanks to the Annual board, thanks to our instructors and advisers, thanks to the contributors, thanks to the engravers and printers, thanks that we are still living.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held their regular meeting last Sunday morning but owing to the inclemency of the weather, only a few members attended. Mr. Hintz, the president, gave a very interesting interpretation on the 18th Chapter of the Acts of the Apostles.

Next Sunday being the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this term, a special program has been arranged. Let us all attend and make this meeting the "Big One" of the year.

PHILOMATHEAN

The last meeting of the Philomathean Society was well attended Tuesday at 4:10. The program consisted of a Piano Solo by Ruth Chambers, Readings by Ruth Brown, and a short play entitled, "In Need of Reform." This was written by a Philo member and was very clever, and well given. The characters were as follows:

Mabel Stripes--a Stout graduate, Gladys Condie.

Mrs. Stripes--her mother, Zoe Shafer.

Miss Stitchem--the village dress maker.

Mrs. Subdued--a henpecked wife, Francis Martin.

Jimmy---Mable's young brother, Elizabeth Bullen.

Angelina---the maid, Francis Jones.

Gladys Flutterly--Mable's friend.

The play was a take-off on a Domestic Economy graduate's efforts to revolutionize the general peace of her home life by trying to apply too much art and science.

The Philomathean Society has shown very good work this year. We all hope the society will be as helpful and well liked next year.

Y. W. C. A.

"Are you going to Geneva?" That is the question that is being asked all the Y. W. C. A. members. Perhaps you do not know what is meant when such a question is asked you. If you don't, don't display your ignorance openly, but find out in some unobtrusive manner, and when you have learned about wonderful Geneva and "College Camp," you will be just as enthusiastic to go as the rest of us are.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting, May 18, was a Geneva meeting. Miss Baker explained and talked about the stereoptican views of Geneva which were thrown upon the screen. Much interest in "College Camp" and the conference was manifested and already many have signed to go to the conference next August. Stout wants to send as large a delegation as possible, so if you are interested, and of course you are, get the particulars and sign your name for Geneva.

PERSONALS

Mr. Frank Denninger spent Sunday in Menomonie as the guest of his sister, Miss Esther Denninger.

Miss Schaffer is the guest of her sister, Miss Zoe Schaffer, at Lynwood Annex.

Mr. F. J. G. Pease from Anoka, Minnesota, with his small son Archie, spent Sunday with his daughter, Miss Bertena Pease. He entertained twenty young ladies at the Royal Hotel for Sunday dinner.

Miss Alice Porter from Anoka, Minnesota, spent the week end at Bertha Tainter Annex as the guest of Miss Joyce Kelly.

Mr. Roddy Stilp spent another week end in Menomonie.

Mr. Frank Denninger spent Sunday in Menomonie, as the guest of his sister.

Miss Norma Badger from St. Paul, was the week-end guest of Miss Dora Goodrich at Tainter Annex.

Miss Virginia Marsh has returned to school, after a few days absence because of the illness of her mother.

Mrs. Bauter from Oshkosh, spent the week in Menomonie, with her daughter, Miss Hazel Bauter.

Just now there are two activities in which we are indulging, cramming and canoeing up the creek.

By the number of soft shirts now being worn, warm weather will be here.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

MR. BUXTON TELLS OF TRIP

At the last Assembly, Mr. Buxton told of his trip East and of the Springfield meeting of the Eastern Arts Association. The following notes were taken from Mr. Buxton's remarks;

The meeting was well attended, and the impression made upon those present was very favorable.

Massachusetts is doing very effective vocational work in her cities, along the line of preparing the youth for vocations and special trades.

The term "Practical Arts" as used in the East, applies to the work given in this part of the country, known as Pre-Vocational work. Following a certain amount of this work, vocational training is given.

A number of prominent educational men gave lectures, which contained ideas and thoughts that were well worth carrying away.

Among the places of interest which Mr. Buxton visited while in the East was the N. Y. State Museum. This Museum is especially interesting, due to the variety of acquisitions on display there. A strikingly interesting display is the illustration of the manufacture of pottery.

Mr. Mathewson, head of the Industrial Arts Department at Jersey City, stated in his lecture that the real aim of Manual Training, Industrial Arts, and Vocational Work, is training the boy to earn a comfortable living in a particular job, and training him to change jobs and earn a little better living, if the occasion presents itself.

Mr. Buxton mentioned, in the course of his talk, that in the East it was thought necessary to change the name of the associations, or the like, frequently, until they felt that they had it properly defined. That without a good definition they would be unable to do as good work. At the close of Mr. Buxton's talk, Dr. Harvey wonderingly remarked whether or not those Eastern people applied this same idea to their minds and souls.

THE STOUT INSTITUTE AUDITORIUM

Convenient Location

The Stout Institute Auditorium, which opens to the public tonight, is to be a most useful addition to the facilities provided by the state for students of the institute and for the public. It is made of a very convenient size for the many uses to which such an auditorium may be put. It is well located, and so arranged that it may be entered directly by students from each of three different floors of the Home Economics Building, or it may be entered by the public from the Third Street or the Wilson Avenue entrances.

Foyer at the Rear

The auditorium is entered through glazed doors at the rear leading into a foyer eight feet wide extending the entire width of the main floor. From the foyer one may enter the parquet through either of four openings forming two center aisles and two side aisles, or one may enter the balcony from a right or a left stairway. Toilets are located at each end of the foyer.

Auditorium Capacity

From the rear of the foyer to the stage is fifty five feet, the distance between the side side walls is sixty seven feet, and the ceiling is forty feet high. Four hundred forty people may be seated in the parquet, three hundred fifty in the balcony and ten in the boxes, making a comfortable seating capacity of eight hundred people. For the chorus tonight, a hundred people are seated on the stage, on removable platforms. It is possible to seat two hundred on the stage, giving a total capacity of auditorium and stage of a thousand people.

Seating Arrangement

The seating has been carefully planned, so as to provide for the comfort of all, by allowing thirty-two inches from back to back for each chair, and making the chairs average nearly twenty inches in width. Every chair rests upon its own level platform, and all are accessible at all times without crowding.

Size of Stage

A stage of unusual dimensions for a school auditorium and a very complete equipment is provided. The depth from the curtain to the rear of stage is twenty-two feet and the stage is fifty feet from side to side. The proscenium arch is thirty-two feet wide and twenty-four feet high and provided with a decorated asbestos curtain, used as a main drop. Two decks and two fly galleries, and a scenery loft fifty feet above the floor are provided with conveniences for handling all scenery.

Stage Scenery

The present outfit of stage scenery includes in addition to the asbestos curtain: (1) Two tormentors with flipper doors, grand drapery border, and trips; (2) fancy interior set of ten flats, with doors, windows, fire places, mantel, and backings, and three interior borders; (3) wood scene drop, with six wood wings and flippers, three foliage borders, set-rocks, set-tree and set-house; (4) street scene drop; (5) picture screen drop.

STAGE OF NEW AUDITORIUM

Stage Lighting

The stage lighting is very complete, with foot-lights, side and border lights, necessary floor connections, and the working lights for all parts of the stage. All stage lights are arranged for white, red, and blue illumination and are connected with suitable dimmers.

Projection Lantern

A projection lantern is installed in a fire-proof moving picture booth at the rear of the balcony and it is planned to add a moving picture lantern to the equipment this summer. This will enable the school to extend the value of its instruction along industrial, economic, artistic, and educational lines.

Fire Safety

There are four exits from the rear of the parquet and two from the front. There are six exits from the balcony. There are three exits from the stage. The inclosing four walls of the auditorium are all of brick, all electric wiring is in conduits, and fire hose is provided in suitable places. All of these provisions, including fire escapes and asbestos curtain meet the Wisconsin state requirements and are approved by the state engineer. The building is thoroughly safe.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

The Stout Institute will hold its thirteenth annual commencement exercises, Thursday, June 1, 1916, at eight o'clock in the new Stout Auditorium. The invocation will be given by Rev. Dinsdale. A string orchestra will furnish several selections. Mr. O. I. Dhein and Mr. R. D. McIntosh will give a demonstration of welding and cutting by the oxy-acetylene process. An illustrated talk entitled, "The Feeding of a Family," will be given by Miss Ethel Feldkirchner. Miss Beatrice Bruce will also give an illustrated talk on the subject "Costume Design."

An address to the graduates and the presentation of diplomas by President L. D. Harvey, will close the commencement exercises.

The following is a list of the graduates from the various departments:
